In Crime's Archive Katherine Biber, 2018-07-04 This book investigates what happens to criminal evidence after the conclusion of legal proceedings During the criminal trial evidentiary material is tightly regulated it is formally regarded as part of the court record and subject to the rules of evidence and criminal procedure However these rules and procedures cannot govern or control this material after proceedings have ended In its afterlife criminal evidence continues to proliferate in cultural contexts It might be photographic or video evidence private diaries and correspondence weapons physical objects or forensic data and it arouses the interest of journalists scholars curators writers or artists Building on a growing cultural interest in criminal archival materials this book shows how in its afterlife criminal evidence gives rise to new uses and interpretations new concepts and questions many of which are creative and transformative of crime and evidence and some of which are transgressive dangerous or insensitive It takes the judicial principle of open justice the assumption that justice must be seen to be done and investigates instances in which we might see too much too little or from a distorted angle It centres upon a series of case studies including those of Lindy Chamberlain and more recently Oscar Pistorius in which criminal evidence has re appeared outside of the criminal process Traversing museums libraries galleries and other repositories and drawing on extensive interviews with cultural practitioners and legal professionals this book probes the legal ethical affective and aesthetic implications of the cultural afterlife of evidence

The New American Crime Film Matthew Sorrento, 2012-09-26 The American crime film has recently enjoyed a surge in popularity and proliferation making it the most pervasive genre in contemporary cinema Though it now tackles current issues it continues to reference the classic narratives and archetypes established in the great crime pictures of past decades The titles explored in this critical survey feature a variety of themes and show that the crime film genre has fused with other genres to create fascinating hybrids Focusing on character and plot construction the author highlights the gangster and film noir traditions that still run strongly through recent American cinema Among the many filmmakers analyzed within these

 Larry K. Gaines, Janine Kremling, 2013-12-11 The twenty six articles in this edited volume provide perspective on the interrelated issues surrounding the use of drugs in society Although drugs have long been a social problem the importance of the issue and the involvement of the criminal justice system have varied across time Public concern has typically centered on illegal drugs but the drug issue today is even more complex given the impact of prescription drugs Exaggeration has been a constant theme in the history of public policy on drugs usually playing on public fear to demonize specific drugs and users Some drugs are more dangerous than others The variations in effects impact enforcement prevention and treatment If we are going to criminalize drugs and drug usage policies and penalties should be based on the relative dangerousness of a drug or class of drugs Policies can reduce harm create harm or both Our current drug policies attempt to reduce harm through law enforcement We arrest anyone involved in drug activities under the premise of protecting society These same policies however result in the incarceration of large numbers of people they are expensive they overburden the criminal justice system and they have lasting consequences for those caught up in the drug war no matter how minor their offenses Drug policies should be weighed carefully implementing those that result in the least amount of harm to society The editors have collected timely articles that provide perspective and a foundation for an informed approach to addressing problems associated with drug use Cultural Criminology Jeff Ferrell, Keith Hayward, Jock Young, 2008-09-25 Winner of the ASC
