Criminalisation Of Stalking Constructing The Problem And Evaluating The Solution:

The Criminalisation of Stalking Emily Finch, 2001 Coercive Control and the Criminal Law Cassandra Wiener, 2022-12-30 This book considers how a phenomenon as complex as coercive control can be criminalised The recognition and ensuing criminalisation of coercive control in the UK and Ireland has been the focus of considerable international attention It has generated complex questions about the best way to criminalise domestic abuse This work reviews recent domestic abuse criminal law reform in the UK and Ireland In particular it defines coercive control and explains why using traditional criminal law approaches to prosecute it does not work Laws passed in England and Wales versus Scotland represent two different approaches to translating coercive control into a criminal offence This volume explains how and why the jurisdictions have taken different approaches and examines the advantages and disadvantages of each As jurisdictions around the world review what steps need to be taken to improve national criminal justice responses to domestic abuse the question of what works and why at the intersection of domestic abuse and the criminal law has never been more important As such the book will be a vital resource for lawyers policy makers and activists with an interest in domestic abuse law reform Criminalising Coercive Control Marilyn McMahon, Paul McGorrery, 2020-02-28 This book considers whether coercive control particularly non physical forms of family violence should be prohibited by the criminal law Based on the premise that traditional understandings of family violence are severely limited it considers whether the core of family violence is power based controlling or coercive behavior attempts by men to psychologically dominate their partners Such behavior can cause significant psychological physical and economic harms to victims and is increasingly recognized as a form of human rights abuse The book considers the new offences that have been introduced in England and Wales controlling or coercive behavior Ireland controlling behavior and Scotland domestic abuse It invites consideration of three key questions Do conventional criminal laws adequately regulate non physical abuse Is the criminal law an appropriate mechanism for responding to the coercive control of family members And if a new and distinctive offence is warranted what is the optimal form of that offence This ground breaking work is essential reading for researchers and practitioners interested in coercive control and the proper role of the criminal law as a mechanism for regulating family violence The New Faces of Victimhood Rianne Letschert, Jan van Dijk, 2011-01-21 Besides generating wealth globalization makes victims including victims of new forms of crime In this edited book of scholarly essays international lawyers and criminologists reflect on the legal challenges posed by these dark sides of globalization Examples include transnational organised crime human trafficking and corruption cyber crimes international terrorism global corporate crime and cross border environmental crimes The authors reflect on the limits of domestic systems of justice in providing protection empowerment and redress to the victims of these emerging forms of global insecurity They argue for the need of better international or supra national institutional arrangements such as legal instruments and actions of the United Nations or regional organizations such as the European Union In part I Jan Van Dijk and Rianne Letschert present an overview of trends in criminal victimization against the backdrop of globalization using a unique set of statistical indicators By placing this issue in the framework of the human security concept the authors draw out its broader political and normative implications Theologist Ralf Bodelier explains how modern communication technologies have heightened sensitivities among the general public for human insecurities anywhere in the world In his view a new global conscience is in the making that may become the cornerstone of international solidarity and action Marc Groenhuijsen and Rianne Letschert describe the emergence of national and international legal and institutional arrangements to offer remedies to victims of crime in an era of globalization In part II a selection of experts analyse the specific issues surrounding the protection and empowerment of victims of different types of international crimes such as human trafficking organised crime corruption terrorism global corporate crime and cross border environmental crimes In part III focused attention is given to the special challenges and opportunities of protecting and assisting crime victims in cyberspace Part IV deals with emerging victim issues in humanitarian law such as the accountability of private military companies and the implementation of the ambitious victim provisions in the statute of the International Criminal Court including the establishment of a global fund for reparations In the final part of the book some of its core authors formulate their ideas about the international institutional arrangements that should be put in place to offer justice to the victims of globalization A concrete proposal is made for the transformation of the United Nations 1985 Declaration on the Principles of Justice for Victims of Crime and Abuse of Power into a full fledged UN convention In the final chapter further proposals are made for the increased involvement of regional organisations such as the European Union in the protection of victims of global crime

Sinn und Notwendigkeit strafrechtlichen Schutzes vor Bedrohung, Verfolgung und Gewalt: am Beispiel der Stalking-Entwürfe und des Gewaltschutzgesetzes Andreas Schaut, 2008-01-16 Studienarbeit aus dem Jahr 2006 im Fachbereich Jura Strafprozessrecht Kriminologie Strafvollzug Note 16 0 Punkte sehr gut Eberhard Karls Universität Tübingen Institut für Kriminologie Sprache Deutsch Abstract In dubio pro libertate dieser Restriktionsgrundsatz wird oft angeführt wenn unsicher ist ob durch freiheitsbeschränkende gesetzgeberische

Interventionen ein erstrebtes Ziel überhaupt erreicht werden kann. So wundert es nicht, dass diese Maxime auch früh von liberaler Seite gegen die Absicht des Gesetzgebers ins Feld geführt wurde, das Strafgesetzbuch um den Tatbestand des Stalking zu erweitern. Ob die partiell geforderte gesetzgeberische Zurückhaltung auf dem Gebiet des Strafrechts zum Schutz vor Belästigung, Bedrohung und Gewalt auch im Hinblick auf die Erscheinungsformen des Stalking geboten erscheint oder ob ein sinnvoller Straftatbestand nicht vielmehr längst berfälliger ist, soll in dieser Arbeit vor allem mit Blick auf das Gewaltschutzgesetz und die Stalking-Entwürfe untersucht werden. Dabei wird zunächst basierend auf kriminologischen Erkenntnissen die Phänomenologie des Stalking dargestellt, um auf dieser Basis den bereits bestehenden strafrechtlichen Schutz vor solchen Verhaltensweisen zu analysieren. Nach einer Strafverfolgungsprüfung des Stalking-Verhaltens wird sodann unter Heranziehung des Gewaltschutzgesetzes und der Stalking-Gesetzentwürfe untersucht, was bei der Genese eines entsprechenden Straftatbestandes de lege ferenda zu beachten sein wird.
