Mark M. Lanier, 2018-04-19 In the fourth edition of Essential Criminology authors Mark M Lanier Stuart Henry and Desire M Anastasia build upon this best selling critical review of criminology which has become essential reading for students of criminology in the 21st century Designed as an alternative to overly comprehensive lengthy and expensive introductory texts Essential Criminology is as its title implies a concise overview of the field The book guides students through the various definitions of crime and the different ways crime is measured It then covers the major theories of crime from individual level classical and rational choice to biological psychological social learning social control and interactionist perspectives In this latest edition the authors explore the kind of criminology that is needed for the globally interdependent twenty first century With cutting edge updates illustrative real world examples and new study tools for students this text is a necessity for both undergraduate and graduate courses in criminology

The SAGE Handbook of Criminological Theory Eugene

McLaughlin, Tim Newburn, 2010-07-21 An indispensable international resource The SAGE Handbook of Criminological Theory provides readers with a clear overview of criminological theory enabling them to reflect critically upon the traditional emergent and desirable theoretical positions of the discipline This handbook is essential for libraries and scholars of all levels studying the rapidly developing interdisciplinary field of criminology

Criminological Theories Ronald L. Akers, Christine Sharon Sellers, 2004 In this new edition Akers and Sellers provide a concise but thorough review and appraisal of the leading theories of crime and criminal justice The text has been updated to keep current with changes in the development testing integration and application of important criminological theories

Advances in Criminological Theory Freda Adler, William S. Laufer, 1989

Researching Theories of Crime and Deviance Charis Elizabeth Kubrin, Thomas Dain Stucky, Marvin D. Krohn, 2009 This new book from noted criminologists Charis Kubrin Thomas Stucky and Marvin Krohn is a unique supplement for criminological theory courses graduate level research methods courses or seminars that take a close look at the development of criminological theory and or methods This book is intended to bridge the gap between theory and research in the study of crime and deviant behavior There are a number of textbooks that provide excellent summaries of criminological theories Many of these include critiques of the theories discussing the empirical evidence that has been rendered in support or not of those theories However empirical evidence is only as good as the research methods that were used to generate it Theory texts do not critically evaluate the research methods that generate the findings they cite The student therefore obtains an impression of the utility of the theory based on an uncritical assessment of the research evidence The purpose of this book is to explicitly assess the research methods that have been used to test nine theoretical perspectives of crime Specifically the authors focus on sampling measurement and analytical issues in doing theoretically directed research

Major Criminological Theories Liqun Cao, 2004 The book is a reference text book in one It criticizes the current bifurcation of theory and methodology and presents the history of scientific criminology It then describes briefly each major criminological theory and lists how the key concepts of each of these theories are measured All the major studies that test these theories are reviewed and evaluated The book may serve as a reference book or a guideline in testing criminological theories The book itself does not make attempts to advance any new theory but tries to make a contribution to the criminological literature by strengthening the testability of existing criminological theories That is it contributes to the construction of a more scientific approach to criminology and it allows for a more penetrating analysis of existing problems of scientific criminology and of the ways to address these problems

Theoretical Criminology George Bryan Vold, Thomas J. Bernard, Jeffrey B. Snipes, 1998 This fourth edition of Theoretical Criminology the standard text and reference in its field has been extensively revised and completely updated New sections include material on neurotransmitters environmentally induced biological components of behavior impulsiveness and crime neighborhoods as causes of crime situational contexts of crime the decline and resurgence of strain theories and control ology The text presents each type of theory accurately and comprehensively within its historical context Relevant empirical research is reviewed and assessed and research issues related to theory testing are also discussed Criminology, Penology, and Police Science Abstracts, 1995 Erich Fromm and Critical Criminology Kevin Anderson, Richard Quinney, 2000 Contributors draw on Fromm's writings on alienation sadomasochism and patriarchal matriarchal values to assess the kinds of crimes being committed and the kinds of people committing them They explore the spiritual and intellectual sources of Fromm's thought including Jewish theology Freudian psychoanalysis Marxism and Buddhism and demonstrate how his socialist humanism points toward a society free of crime and violence This volume also includes translations of two of Fromm's early articles on criminal justice never before available in English in which he develops a psychoanalytic Marxist critique of the role of criminal justice in a class society

Positivism in Criminological Thought Teresa Jeanne Neyhouse, 2002 This book explores the development of intellectual positivism within criminological thought Positivism is a control oriented philosophy justifying and rationalizing control that is most developed within criminology during economic contractions These contractions are often accompanied by social unrest which can be reasonably perceived by the most powerful members of society as a threat to their status and livelihood Hence the appeal of positivism and its justification of social control to the higher and middle classes

Hibernian Law Journal, 2000 Thinking Critically about Crime Dragan Milovanovic, 1997 Introduction to Criminal Justice Robert M. Bohm, Keith N. Haley, 2002 This text presents a broad overview of the criminal justice system in the United States Introduction to Criminal Justice has been updated to include a new chapter on the issues and ethics of policing in the United States expanded features that foster Web research and critical thinking activities A hallmark of Glencoe postsecondary texts Introduction to Criminal Justice now features critical thinking exercises in different venues and formats to facilitate a more flexible learning approach Students will develop their understanding of criminal justice by acquiring a basic knowledge of the law and legal theories Building on this foundation the special features then provide essential exposure to practical issues and develop personal and critical thinking skills to prepare students to deal with situations and dilemmas they could encounter in their Criminal Justice careers
