Of One Mind and Of One Government Kevin Kokomoor,2019-02-01 In Of One Mind and Of One Government Kevin Kokomoor examines the formation of Creek politics and nationalism from the 1770s through the Red Stick War when the aftermath of the American Revolution and the beginnings of American expansionism precipitated a crisis in Creek country The state of Georgia insisted that the Creeks sign three treaties to cede tribal lands The Creeks objected vigorously igniting a series of border conflicts that escalated throughout the late eighteenth century and hardened partisan lines between pro American pro Spanish and pro British Creeks and their leaders Creek politics shifted several times through historical contingencies self interests changing leadership and debate about how to best preserve sovereignty a process that generated national sentiment within the nascent and imperfect Creek Nation Based on original archival research and a revisionist interpretation Kokomoor explores how the state of Georgia s increasingly belligerent and often fraudulent land acquisitions forced the Creeks into framing a centralized government appointing heads of state and assuming the political and administrative functions of a nation state Prior interpretations have viewed the Creeks as a loose confederation of towns but the formation of the Creek Nation brought predictability stability and reduced military violence in its domain during the era
