Criminal Justice In Europe A Comparative Study

Desmond King, Patrick Le Galès

Criminal Justice In Europe A Comparative Study:

Criminal Justice in Europe Phil Fennell, 1995 The theme of this book is the developing influence of European law and European integration on the criminal justice systems of the Netherlands and England and Wales It examines the different responses adopted in the two jurisdictions to current problems in criminal justice against the background of European law The topics included in this original study include the influence of the European Convention on Human Rights the influence of European Community law the influence of treaties concerning criminal justice co operation between the two systems and finally the extent to which supranational mechanisms of criminal justice are developing in the wake of European integration

Anatomy of a French Murder Case Bron McKillop, 1997 The book provides a first hand account of the processing of a murder case through the French criminal justice system from the initial police investigation through to the compilation of the dossier the hearing and the appeal and the press coverage of the case The study provides an effective comparison between adversarial and inquisitorial processes and will be valuable for anyone with an interest in comparative law criminal process and legal systems

The Trial on Trial: Volume 1 R A Duff, 2004-12-31 The trial is central to the institutional framework of criminal justice It provides the procedural link between crime and punishment and is the forum in which both guilt and innocence and sentence are determined Its continuing significance is evidenced by the heated responses drawn by recent government proposals to reform rules of criminal procedure and evidence so as to alter the status of the trial within the criminal justice process and to limit the role of the jury Yet for all of the attachment to trial by jury and to principles safeguarding the right to a fair trial there has been remarkably little theoretical reflection on the meaning of fairness in the trial and criminal procedure the relationship between rules of evidence procedure and substantive law or the functions and normative foundations of the trial process There is a need in other words to develop a normative understanding of the criminal trial The book is based on the proceedings of two workshops which took place in 2003 addressing the theme of Truth and Due Process in the Criminal Trial The essays in the book are concerned with the question of whether and in what sense we can take the discovery of truth to be the central aim of the procedural and evidential rules and practices of criminal investigation and trial They are divided into four parts addressing distinct but inter related issues models of the trial Duff Matravers McEwan the meaning of due process Gunther Dubber the meaning of truth and the nature of evidence Jung Pritchard and legitimacy and rhetoric in the trial Burns Christodoulidis

The Routledge Handbook of European Criminology Sophie Body-Gendrot, Mike Hough, Klara Kerezsi, René Lévy, Sonja Snacken, 2013-08-15 This new book brings together some of the leading criminologists across Europe to showcase the best of European criminology This Handbook aims to reflect the range and depth of current work in Europe and to counterbalance the impact of the sometimes insular and ethnocentric Anglo American criminological tradition The end product is a collection of twenty eight chapters illustrating a truly comparative and interdisciplinary European criminology The editors have assembled a cast of leading voices to reflect on differences and commonalities elaborate on theoretically grounded comparisons and reflect on emerging themes in criminology in Europe After the editors introduction the book is organised in three parts five chapters offering historical theoretical and policy oriented overviews of European issues in crime and crime control seven chapters looking at different dimensions of crime in Europe including crime trends state crime gender and crime and urban safety fifteen chapters examining the variety of institutional responses exploring issues such as policing juvenile justice punishment green crime and the role of the victim This book gives some indication of the richness and scope of the emerging comparative European criminology and will be required reading for anyone who wants to understand trends in crime and its control across Europe It will also be a valuable teaching resource especially at postgraduate level as well as an important reference point for researchers and scholars of criminology across Europe

International Criminal Justice Delbert Rouns, 2000 International Criminal Justice examines some of the world's most current and pressing issues in the field of criminal justice The articles included are written by leading criminologists currently studying and conducting research in the field As such all of the selections have evolved from previously unpublished research Topics include political corruption state funded terrorism drug trafficking domestic violence nuclear proliferation money laundering policing juvenile delinquency correctional systems capital punishment and gun control policy

Coping with Overloaded Criminal Justice Systems Jörg-Martin Jehle, Marianne Wade, 2006-11-22 Heightened crime rates across Europe have led to increased workloads for police prosecution and courts systems and resources have not risen in line Each country has coped with this mismatch of workload and resources in its own way and in most cases the practices and powers of each of the agencies involved have needed to be changed as a reaction to this This book describes the results of a six nation study of how criminal justice agencies in England and Wales France Germany Netherlands Poland and Sweden have reacted to high crime rates and punitiveness It shows how various solutions have been found involving diversion of cases from courts increases in financial penalties imposed by police or prosecutors without full court hearings and the introduction in some countries of administrative offences The book reveals the fast moving and far reaching changes that are now in process involving wide scale changes to the way justice is being delivered throughout the EU

Handbook of European Homicide Research Marieke C. A. Liem, William Alex Pridemore, 2011-10-17 This comprehensive work provides a sourcebook of information about the substantive methodological and policy oriented aspects of homicide research in Europe Part one of this work covers the most recent substantive and methodological information about European homicide research The second part will contain detailed case studies on homicide research in 15-20 individual European nations This work will be both conceptual and practical Conceptual aspects will focus on theoretical frameworks and patterns and trends of violence in Europe Practical aspects will examine the results of empirical research topics relating to different data sources and the variation of legal definitions of violence throughout Europe and policy issues relating to variation in homicide prevention and punishment of homicide offenders throughout Europe This handbook will not only provide an up to date reference that brings together known information but will also offer previously unpublished comprehensive literature reviews and original research findings The editors distinctive approach is to provide readers with an English language central source of information about the voluminous literature on European homicide research that is currently spread widely in dozens of different European and American journals

Comparative Criminal Justice Francis Pakes,2012-07-26 This book aims to meet the need for an accessible introductory text on comparative criminal justice examining the ways different countries and jurisdictions deal with the main stages and elements in the criminal justice process from policing through to sentencing Examples are taken from all over the world with a particular focus on Europe the UK the United States and Australasia The main aims of the book are to provide the reader with a comparative perspective on criminal justice and its main components an understanding of the increasing globalization of justice and standards of the administration of justice a knowledge of methodology for comparative research and analysis an understanding of the most important concepts in criminal justice such as inquisitorial and adversarial trial systems policing styles crime control versus due process retribution versus rehabilitation etc discussion of global trends such as the rise of imprisonment penal populism diversion international policing and international tribunals an insight into what the essential ingredients of doing justice might be This fully updated and expanded new edition of Comparative Criminal Justice takes into account the considerable advances in comparative criminal justice research since the first edition in 2004 Each chapter has been thoroughly updated and in addition there is a new chapter on establishing the rate of crime in a comparative context The rate of development in international policing and international development has been such that there is now an individual chapter devoted to each and throughout the book the role of globalization changing both the local and the global in criminal justice arrangements orientations and discourses has now been given the prominence it deserves

Criminology, Penology and Police Science Abstracts ,1997 Reconfiguring European States in Crisis

Desmond King,Patrick Le Galès,2017-02-15 Reconfiguring European States in Crisis offers a ground breaking analysis by some of Europe s leading political scientists examining how the European national state and the European Union state have dealt with two sorts of changes in the last two decades Firstly the volume analyses the growth of performance measurement in government the rise of new sorts of policy delivery agencies the devolution of power to regions and cities and the spread of neoliberal ideas in economic policy The volume demonstrates how the rise of non state controlled organizations and norms combine with Europeanization to reconfigure European states Secondly the volume focuses on how the current crises in fiscal policy Brexit security and terrorism and migration through a borderless European Union have had dramatic effects on European states and will continue to do so European Legal Book Index ,1994 The Yale Journal of International Law

,1996 Honour Killings in Europe Bettina Purcell-Riederer,2013-07-22 Essay from the year 2013 in the subject Sociology Law and Delinquency grade 5 2 Sheffield Hallam University Criminology language English abstract In industrialised countries such as Germany and England the number of honour killings committed have increased Schirrmacher 2009 Cases in both countries have experienced large media attention and have been closely reported The media in western countries tends to magnify differences especially from and to the Islamic world Nelken 2010 Honour crimes and killings do not only occur in Eastern and Arab countries such as Pakistan Turkey or Iran etc through globalisation and the increase of migration honour killings have become an increasing problem in western countries as well Schirrmacher 2009 Continuing improvements of various means of transport and mobility has acquired a new dimension in the world of modernity Garland 2001 Globalisation is as Held 1999 writes the widening deepening and speeding up of worldwide interconnections in all aspects of contemporary life Honour killings are closely linked to globalisation and migration issues The most striking similarity between England and Germany is the total number of committed honour killings in the past few years One can also find high resemblances in the convictions and sentences of perpetrator of honour killings Despite these similarities the focus is to examine the cultural social political and historical context of these high profile crimes in both countries The United Nation has published a response to crimes in the name of honour against women In their last resolution from 2004 the UN expressed deep concerns that women and girls continue to be victims of honour based crimes They remind states to exercise to prevent investigate and punish the perpetrators of such crimes committed against women and girls UN 2004 This comparative case study will focus on the state responses which are required by the UN Therefore the examination will lay out the differences and similarities of state responses through legislations and police task forces and other law enforcements how honour killings are recognised by the state in these two European countries This examination will explore these responses within the cultural political social and historical context In this project the focus is on honour killings the extremist form of honour based violence and will undertake a comparison on how these two European countries respond to this violation of human rights in a broader context Maastricht Journal of European and Comparative Law ,2000

Victims of Crime in 22 European Criminal Justice Systems Marion Eleonora Ingeborg Brien,Ernestine Henriëtte Hoegen,2000 The implementation of recommendation 85 11 of the Council of Europe on the position of the victim in the framework of criminal law and procedure T p Research Methods for Rural Criminologists Ralph A. Weisheit,Jessica Peterson,Artur Pytlarz,2022-03-14 Conducting rural criminological research exposes researchers to concerns such as absence or inadequate official data about crime and superficial rural urban comparisons rural isolation and distance from the researchers office to the study site and lack of services or access to justice This distinct cultural context means that studying rural crime requires creatively adapting existing research methods Conducting research about or in rural settings requires unique researcher preparation as everything from defining the space at the conception of a project to collecting and analyzing data differs from urban research This book explores the various issues challenges and solutions for rural researchers in criminology Integrating state of the art methodological approaches with practical illustrations this book serves as an internationally comprehensive compendium of methods for students scholars and practitioners While contributing to the growing field of rural criminology it will also be of interest to those engaged with the related areas of rural health care rural social work and rural poverty Comparative Law Rudolf B. Schlesinger,1998 Among the developments considered are the legal changes that have resulted from the demise of the Soviet empire and of socialist law the continuing impact that both European Community law and regional human rights law have had on the internal legal systems of European countries concomitant tensions toward a revised common law of Europe and toward a closer convergence between civil and common law systems and renewed attention to the methodological problems faced by comparative law in part because of these other developments Selected Acquisitions of the Library Indiana University, Bloomington.
