Decentralization in Asia and Latin America Paul J. Smoke, Eduardo J. Gómez, George E. Peterson, 2006 In addition to taking an atypically comparative perspective the volume highlights the importance of an historical analysis of decentralization and links this to institutional and public policy outcomes Placing decentralization in this context illustrates why it has taken dissimilar shapes and produced varying results over time in different countries This in turn helps to clarify the types of institutions and conditions required for the development and survival of decentralization paving the way for more creative thinking and informed policymaking The countries covered include Cambodia China India Indonesia Vietnam Bolivia Argentina Mexico Peru and Brazil

Resistance to Globalization Harald Barrios, 2003 This volume is an important contribution to the empirical research on what globalization means in different world regions Resistance here has a double meaning It can signify active intentional resistance to tendencies which are rejected on political or moral grounds by presenting alternative discourses and concepts founded in specific cultural and national traditions It can also mean resilience with regard to globalization pressures in the sense that traditional patterns of development and politics are resistant to change The book shows that the local sub national national and regional patterns of politics and development coexist with globalized structures without yielding very much ground and in ways which may turn out to be a serious barrier to further globalization Case studies presented focus on Venezuela Brazil the Middle East Iran and Russia
