Adler, Peter Adler, 2011-08-22 Cutting burning branding and bone breaking are all types of self injury of the deliberate non suicidal destruction of one s own body tissue a practice that emerged from obscurity in the 1990s and spread dramatically as a typical behavior among adolescents Long considered a suicidal gesture The Tender Cut argues instead that self injury is often a coping mechanism a form of teenage angst and expression of group membership and a type of rebellion converting unbearable emotional pain into manageable physical pain An important portrait of a troubling behavior The Tender Cut illuminates the meaning of self injury in the 21st century its effects on current and former users and its future as a practice for self discovery or a cry for help P 4 of cover Constructions of Deviance Patricia A. Adler, 2003 This text is the industry standard for publishing the most recent and relevant articles in the field It demonstrates to students how the concepts and theories of deviance can be applied to the world around them The authors include both theoretical analyses and ethnographic illustrations of how deviance is socially constructed organized and managed The Adlers challenge the reader to see the diversity and pervasiveness of deviance in society by covering a wide variety of deviant acts represented throughout the text Most importantly the Adlers present deviance as a component of society and examine the construction of deviance in terms of differential social power whereby some members of society have the power to define other whole groups as deviant The book takes an interactionist or constructionist perspective on deviance looking at the processes in society that create deviance The authors have selected studies that are ethnographic in character focusing on the experiences of deviants the deviant making process and the ways in which people who are labeled as deviant in society react to that label
