M. Weatherill, Economic and Social Research Council, 1985 Gender, Taste, and Material Culture in Britain and North America, 1700-1830 John Styles, Amanda Vickery, 2006 Between 1700 and 1830 men and women in the English speaking territories framing the Atlantic gained unprecedented access to material things The British Atlantic was an empire of goods held together not just by political authority and a common language but by a shared material culture nourished by constant flows of commodities Diets expanded to include exotic luxuries such as tea and sugar the fruits of mercantile and colonial expansion Homes were furnished with novel goods like clocks and earthenware teapots the products of British industrial ingenuity This groundbreaking book compares these developments in Britain and North America bringing together a multi disciplinary group of scholars to consider basic questions about women men and objects in these regions In asking who did the shopping how things were used and why they became the subject of political dispute the essays show the profound significance of everyday objects in the eighteenth century Atlantic world Domestic Culture in Early Modern England Antony Buxton, 2015 A detailed study of the domestic life of the early modern non elite household This book is a detailed study of the domestic life of the early modern non elite household focussing on the Oxfordshire market town of Thame Going beyond the exploration of the domestic economy and trends in living standards and consumption it shows how close examination of the material context within which the household operated can provide evidence of its habitual activities the relationships between its members and the values that informed both The book uses a familiar source the probate inventory supplemented by other contemporary written and pictorial evidence to reveal how activities in the household were directly related to the agricultural mercantile and socialenvironment It illustrates the variable and shifting nature of social relationships and shows how the early modern household was part of the wider economic and social narrative of modernism and how it responded to altered modes of production and consumption social allegiances and ideologies Offering new perspectives to reinvigorate the discussion of domestic relationships and rigorously examine the vexed question of change Domestic Culture in EarlyModern England will be of interest to scholars and postgraduate students of material culture as well as historians of the household and family more generally ANTONY BUXTON lectures on design history material anddomestic culture for the Department for Continuing Education University of Oxford and other institutions He has published articles in various scholarly journals and holds a PhD from the University of Oxford A Cultural History of Objects in the Age of Enlightenment Audrey Horning, 2022-08-31 A Cultural History of Objects in the Age of Enlightenment covers the period 1600 to 1760 a time marked by the movement of people ideas and goods The objects explored in this volume from scientific instrumentation and Baroque paintings to slave ships and shackles encapsulate the contradictory impulses of the age The entwined forces of capitalism and colonialism created new patterns of consumption facilitated by innovations in maritime transport new forms of exchange relations and the exploitation of non Western peoples and lands The world of objects in the Enlightenment reveal a Western material culture profoundly shaped by global encounters The 6 volume set of the Cultural History of Objects examines how objects have been created used interpreted and set loose in the world over the last 2500 years Over this time the West has developed particular attitudes to the material world at the centre of which is the idea of the object The themes covered in each volume are objecthood technology economic objects everyday objects art architecture bodily objects object worlds Audrey Horning is Professor at William Mary USA and at Queen s University Belfast UK Volume 4 in the Cultural History of Objects set General Editors Dan Hicks and William Whyte

Captain Gray's Houses Robert Shepherd, 2019-04-15 The fascinating story of the eighteenth century houses of Sion Row Twickenham In telling the story of these houses and their occupants a remarkable social history is revealed The Routledge History of the Domestic Sphere in Europe Joachim Eibach, Margareth Lanzinger, 2020-12-29 This book addresses the multifaceted history of the domestic sphere in Europe from the Age of Reformation to the emergence of modern society

By focusing on daily practice interaction and social relations it shows continuities and social change in European history from an interior perspective The Routledge History of the Domestic Sphere in Europe contains a variety of approaches from different regions that each pose a challenge to commonplace views such as the emergence of confessional cultures of private life and of separate spheres of men and women By analyzing a plethora of manifold sources including diaries court records paintings and domestic advice literature this volume provides an overview of the domestic sphere as a location of work and consumption conflict and cooperation emotions and intimacy and devotion and education The book sheds light on changing relations between spouses parents and children masters and servants or apprentices and humans and animals or plants thereby exceeding the notion of the modern nuclear family This volume will be of great use to upper level graduates postgraduates and experienced scholars interested in the history of family household social space gender emotions material culture work and private life in early modern and nineteenth century Europe

The Town House in Georgian London Rachel Stewart, 2009 This title takes a fresh look at a familiar building type the town house in 18th century London and investigates the circumstances in which individuals made decisions about living in London and particularly about their West End house

English Almanacs, Astrology and Popular Medicine, 1550-1700 Louise Hill Curth, 2007 Early modern almanacs have received relatively little academic attention over the years despite being the first true form of British mass media While their purpose was to provide annual information about the movements of the stars and the corresponding effects on Earth most included advice on preventative and remedial medicine for humans and animals Based on the most extensive research to date into the relationship between the popular press and early modern medical beliefs and practices this study argues that these cheap annual booklets played a major role in shaping contemporary medicine in early modern England The book discusses the various types of medical information and advice in almanacs preventative and remedial medicine for humans and the under explored topic of animal health care Pamphlet Representations of Great Britain's American Colonies in the British Politics and Society from Walpole to Pitt 1742-1789 Early Eighteenth Century Kurt A. Gingrich, 1999 Jeremy Black, 1990 Masculinities in Politics and War Stefan Dudink, Karen Hagemann, John Tosh, 2004 Politics and war are crucial to the history of masculinity yet have been neglected in the emergent historiography of masculinity This book opens up new avenues in gender history by mapping masculinity s part in making revolution waging war building nations and constructing welfare states Preceded by extensive historical and theoretical introductions the volume is clearly divided into sections on revolution nation politics and subjectivity An innovative collection with contributions from an international group of eminent historians who are recognised experts in their fields with essays on Europe the United States Latin America Australia Africa and Asia Written in a highly accessible style targeted at both students professional historians and the interested general reader Elizabeth Murray Patricia Cleary, 2000 The spirit of independence which Murray so valued in herself and nurtured in other women was severely tested by the upheavals of the American Revolution With strong loyalties to both Britain and America she was torn by the conflict especially when close relatives chose opposing sides and her third husband abandoned her leaving her to defend the family estate alone Her wartime experiences wild midnight rides accusations of being a spy quartering both royal and rebel troops and brief imprisonment vividly capture the turmoil of the Revolution and highlight the range of her political commitments BOOK JACKET Die Vielfalt der Dinge Harry Kühnel,1998 Johnsonian News Letter James Lowry Clifford,1988 Publications Worcestershire Historical Society,1998 Inventories of Worcestershire Landed Gentry, 1537-1786 Malcolm Wanklyn,1998 Fashion and Modernity Christopher Breward,Caroline Evans,2005 What is the relationship between fashion and modernity and how is this unique relationship manifested in the material world This book considers how the relationship between fashion and modernity tests the very definition of modernity and enhances our understanding of the role of fashion in the modern world
