Consumers And Citizens Globalization And Multicultural Conflicts:

Consumers and Citizens Néstor García Canclini, 2001 Nestor Garcia Canclini the best known and most innovative cultural studies scholar in Latin America maps the critical effects of urban sprawl global media and commodity markets on citizens The complex results mean not only a shrinkage of certain traditional rights particularly those of the welfare or client state but also indicate new openings for expanding citizenship

Consumers and Citizens Garciua Canclini Neustor Committee on Institutional Cooperation, 2014-05-14 The best known and most innovative cultural studies scholar in Latin America maps the critical effects of urban sprawl and global media and commodity markets on citizens and shows at the same time that the complex results mean not only a shrinkage of certain traditional rights particularly those of the welfare or client state but also new openings for expanding citizenship

Cultural Policy Review of Books Oliver Bennett, 2014-06-11 Cultures are shaped by many institutions and agencies including governments corporations education and the media In recent years research into these culture shaping activities has been increasingly associated with the developing field of cultural policy studies The Cultural Policy Review of Books offers a fascinating insight into the intellectual formation of many of the leading figures that have contributed to this field Invited to write a short review essay on the book that had most influenced their thinking 41 academics and researchers from around the world reveal what they consider to be essential reading Including essays on Bourdieu de Certeau Foucault Gramsci Habermas and Williams as well as many lesser known writers the collection throws new light on the intellectual underpinning of cultural policy studies It will be of interest not only to researchers students and teachers in this field but to all those looking to understand the forces that shape the culture of modern societies

The Age of Capitalism, Consumer Culture, and the Collapse of Nature in the Anthropocene Jack Thornburg, 2024-10-02 The Age of Capitalism Consumer Culture and the Collapse of Nature in the Anthropocene argues that the stability of post industrial postmodern society is threatened by the convergence of three distinct yet interrelated crises environmental degradation capitalist economic development and the primacy of consumption and self absorption as the basis for economic development at the expense of community and social relationships Jack Thornburg contrasts advanced modern society with indigenous cultures in terms of nature and conceptions of the communal self The complex nature of capitalist oriented society has influenced how individuals conceptualize themselves The outcome the author contends is a competitive society in which individuals are alienated living in uncertain times One consequence of these crises all of which derive from the Enlightenment and the concomitant appearance and evolution of capitalism has been the destruction of a worldview balancing and connecting well being with prosperity of the natural world Money and materialism cannot buy happiness as capitalist narrative asserts Thornburg claims that the happiness sought by individuals seeking meaning through consumption can only be realized by reintegrating nature with the human spirit

The Latino/a Canon and the Emergence of Post-Sixties Literature R. Dalleo, E. Machado Sáez, Elena Machado Sáez, 2007-06-11 Please note this is a Palgrave to Order title PTO Stock of this book requires shipment from an overseas supplier It will be delivered to you within 12 weeks In this first study of Latino a literature to systematically examine the post Sixties generation of writers The Latino a Canon challenges the ways that Latino a literary studies imagines the relationship between art politics and the market Selling EthniCity Olaf Kaltmeier,2016-04-01 Bringing together a multidisciplinary team of scholars this book explores the importance of ethnicity and cultural economy in the post Fordist city in the Americas It argues that cultural political and economic elites make use of cultural and ethnic elements in city planning and architecture in order to construct a unique image of a particular city and demonstrates how the use of ethnicized cultural production such as urban branding based on local identities by the economic elite raises issues of considerable concern in terms of local identities as it deploys a practical logic of capital exchange that can overcome forms of cultural resistance and strengthen the hegemonic colonization of everyday life At the same time it shows how ethnic communities are able to use ethnic labelling of cultural production ethnic economy or ethno tourism facilities in order to change living conditions and to empower its members in ways previously impossible Of wide ranging interest across academic disciplines this book will be a useful contribution to Inter American studies

Dispositio ,2000 Dialogics of Cultural Encounters Forum on Contemporary Theory. Conference,2006 Contributed articles Film, History and Cultural Citizenship Tina Mai Chen,David S. Churchill,2007 This new book investigates the relationship of film to history power memory and cultural citizenship The book is concerned with two central issues firstly the participation of film and filmmakers in articulating and challenging projects of modernity and secondly the role of film in shaping particular understandings of self and other to evoke collective notions of belonging These issues call for interdisciplinary and multi layered analyses that are ideally met through dialogue across place time identities and genres The contributors to this volume enable this dialogue by considering the ways in which cultural expression and identity expressed through film serve to create notions of belonging group identity and entitlement within modern societies Berkeley La Raza Law Journal ,2008 Beyond the Hijab Debates Tanja Dreher,Christina Ho,2009 Headscarves in schools Ethnic gang rapists Domestic violence in Indigenous communities Polygamy Sharia law It seems that in public debates around the world concerns about marginalised communities often revolve around issues of gender and women TM s rights Yet all too often discussions about complex matters are reduced to simplistic debates such as oehijab to ban or not to ban or oeMuslim women oppressed or liberated This collection provides a space for in depth analyses on the politics of gender race and religion As well as critical reflections on images and experiences of Muslim women chapters also explore the relationships between gender violence and protection and offer innovative possibilities for intellectual and practical understandings at the intersection of gender race and religion Essential reading for scholars and students of gender and women TM s studies cultural studies racial and ethnic studies religious studies and an educated public interested in understanding the challenges and possibilities of tackling both racism and the oppression of women Argentinean Cultural Production During the

Neoliberal Years (1989-2001) Hugo Hortiguera, Carolina Rocha, 2007 This groundbreaking collection of essays examines Argentine cultural production in the years between 1989 2001 which coincided with the implementation of neoliberalism under President Carlos Saul Menem 1989 1999 and his successor Fernando de la Rúa 1999 2001 In order to do so this work provides an overview of the way Argentine writers filmmakers musicians and media reacted to this centrality of the market forces This collection will be of interest to scholars of Latin American Cultural Studies Hispanic Studies Film Studies as well as those of Comparative Literature

The Latin American Fashion Reader Regina Root, 2005-03 Until now the pivotal role played by dress in this part of the world has been largely overlooked This is an assessment of Latin America's influence on global fashion

Roosters at Midnight Robert Albrow, 2010-08-18 Bolivia is a nation energetically confronting stubborn legacies of second class citizenship as part of their historic process of political transformation which began in early 2000 and culminated in the election to the presidency in late 2005 of Aymara descended coca grower and opposition leader Evo Morales The civil unrest seen in those intervening years was a spectacular expression of grassroots disenchantment and a sharp rebuke to the politics of Bolivia's neoliberal democratization which began in sweeping structural adjustment measures during 1985 Set in the largely urban provincial capital of Quillacollo this book is an ethnographic examination of municipal politics in the context of renewed elections of local level officials beginning in 1987 after a hiatus of almost forty years Understanding who these people are how they think of themselves and how they relate with each other politically tells us a great deal about the everyday neopopular political ground that has steadily been moving Bolivian national politics toward a greater rapprochement with its indigenous heritage
