Consuming Passions A Food Obsessed Life:

Consuming Passions Michael Lee West, 2000-04-05 Consuming Passions is Michael Lee West's delightfully quirky memoir of an adventurous life centered around food and family the story of how she went from non cook to gourmet of words and victuals by watching a multitude of relatives squabble prepare sumptuous repasts and carry on honored traditions Laced with delicious secret recipes passed from generation to generation West's irresistible chronicle recalls good times and wild times mothers swinging from chandeliers elderly aunts brewing up love potions a South American nymphomaniac stirring up trouble at a Louisiana barbeque joint and the spooky hauntings of a cabbage eating ghost all in the pursuit of good dining Thoroughly entertaining alive with West's distinctive humor and sharp irrepressible insight here are incomparable American kitchen tales as warm and tasty as freshly baked bread

You Should Really Write a Book Regina Brooks, Brenda Lane Richardson, 2024-06-04 This is a terrific guide that clearly explains how to take your own story and turn it into a book that readers can't put down Julie Silver MD Chief Editor of Books at Harvard Health Publications If you've ever been told that You should really write a book and you've decided to give it a try this book is for you It hones in on the three key measures necessary for aspiring authors to conceptualize sell and market their memoirs Written especially for those who don't happen to be celebrities You Should Really Write a Book reveals why and how so many relatively unknown memoirists are making a name for themselves With references to more than four hundred books and six memoir categories this is essential reading for anyone wanting to write a commercially viable memoir in today's vastly changing publishing industry The days are long gone when editors and agents were willing to take on a manuscript simply because it was based on a good idea or even because it was well written With eyes focused on the bottom line they now look for skilled and creative authors with an established audience too Brooks and Richardson use the latest social networking marketing and promotional trends and explain how to conceptualize and strategize campaigns that cause buzz dramatically fueling word of mouth and attracting attention in the publishing world and beyond Full of current examples and in depth analysis this guide explains what sells and why teaches writers to think like publishers and offers guidance on dealing with complicated emotions essential tools for maximizing memoir success

Books That Cook Jennifer Cognard-Black, Melissa A. Goldthwaite, 2014-08 Whether a five star chef or beginning home cook any gourmand knows that recipes are far more than a set of instructions on how to make a dish They are culture keepers as well as culture makers both recording memories and fostering new ones Organized like a cookbook Books That Cook The Making of a Literary Meal is a collection of American literature written on the theme of food from an invocation to a final toast from starters to desserts All food literatures are indebted to the form and purpose of cookbooks and each section begins with an excerpt from an influential American cookbook progressing chronologically from the late 1700s through the present day including such favorites as American Cookery the Joy of Cooking and Mastering the Art of French Cooking The literary works within each section are an extension of these cookbooks while the cookbook excerpts in turn become pieces of literature forms of storytelling and memory making all their own Each section offers a delectable assortment of poetry prose and essays and the selections all include at least one tempting recipe to entice readers to cook this book Including writing from such notables as Maya Angelou James Beard Alice B Toklas Sherman Alexie Nora Ephron M F K Fisher and Alice Waters among many others Books That Cook reveals the range of ways authors incorporate recipes whether the recipe flavors the story or the story serves to add spice to the recipe Books That Cook is a collection to serve students and teachers of food studies as well as any epicure who enjoys a good meal alongside a good book

Food Warren Belasco, 2008-09-01 Food The Key Concepts presents an exciting coherent and interdisciplinary introduction to food studies for the beginning reader Food Studies is an increasingly complex field drawing on disciplines as diverse as Sociology Anthropology and Cultural Studies at one end and Economics Politics and Agricultural Science at the other In order to clarify the issues Food The Key Concepts distills food choices down to three competing considerations consumer identity matters of convenience and price and an awareness of the consequences of what is consumed The book concludes with an examination of two very different future scenarios for feeding the world s population the technological fix which looks to science to provide the solution to our future food needs and the anthropological fix which hopes to change our expectations and behaviors Throughout the analysis is illustrated with lively case studies Bulleted chapter summaries questions and guides to further reading are also provided

Remembrance of Repasts David E. Sutton, 2001-01-09 Proust's famous madeleine captures the power of food to evoke some of our deepest memories Why does food hold such power What does the growing commodification and globalization of food mean for our capacity to store the past in our meals in the smell of olive oil or the taste of a fresh cut fig This book offers a theoretical account of the interrelationship of culture food and memory Sutton challenges and expands anthropology's current focus on issues of embodiment memory and material culture especially in relation to transnational migration and the flow of culture across borders and boundaries The Greek island of Kalymnos in the eastern Aegean where Islanders claim to remember meals long past both humble and spectacular provides the main setting for these issues as well as comparative materials drawn from England and the United States Despite the growing interest in anthropological accounts of food and in the cultural construction of memory the intersection of food with memory has not been accorded sustained examination Cultural practices of feasting and fasting global flows of food as both gifts and commodities the rise of processed food and the relationship of orally transmitted recipes to the vast market in speciality cookbooks tie traditional anthropological mainstays such as ritual exchange and death to more current concerns with structure and history cognition and the anthropology of the senses Arguing for the crucial role of a simultaneous consideration of food and memory this book significantly advances our understanding of cultural processes and reformulates current theoretical preoccupations Dinner Roles Sherrie A. Inness, 2001-04 A stimulating collection of essays in which leading theorists of regionalism join with talented younger scholars in remapping the field Revisionary in every sense
