WE, the People of the United States, in order to form a more perfect union, establish justice, insure domestic tranquility, provide for the common defense, promote the general welfare, and secure the blessings of Liberty to ourselves and our posterity, do ordain and establish this Constitution for the United States of America.

ARTICLE I

Section 1. ALL legislative powers herein granted shall be vested in a Congress of the United States, which shall consist of a Senate and House of Representatives.

Section 2. The House of Representatives shall be composed of members chosen every second year by the people of the several States, and the electors in each State shall have the qualifications requisite for electors of the most numerous branch of the State legislature.

No person shall be a Representative who shall not have attained to the age of twenty-five years, and seven years shall be a citizen of the United States, and who shall not, when elected, be an inhabitant of that State in which he shall be chosen.

Representatives and direct taxes shall be apportioned among the several States which may be included within this Union, according to their respective Numbers, which shall be determined by adding to the whole number of free persons, including those bound to service for a term of years, and excluding Indians not taxed, three-fifths of all other persons. The actual enumeration shall be made within three years after the first meeting of the Congress of the United States, and within every subsequent term of ten years, in such manner as they shall by law direct. The number of Representatives shall not exceed one for every thirty thousand, but each State shall have at least one Representative; and until such enumeration shall be made, the State of New-Hampshire shall be entitled to the same number, Massachusetts eight, Rhode-Island and Providence Plantations one, Connecticut five, New-York six, New-Jersey four, Pennsylvania eight, Delaware one, Maryland six, Virginia ten, North Carolina five, South Carolina five, and Georgia three.

When vacancies happen in the representation from any State, the Executive authority thereof shall issue writs of election to fill such vacancies.

The House of Representatives shall choose their Speaker and other officers; and shall have the sole power of impeachment.

Section 3. The Senate of the United States shall be composed of two Senators from each State, chosen by the legislature thereof, for six years; and each Senator shall have one vote.

Immediately after they shall be assembled in consequence of the first election, they shall be divided as equally as may be into three classes. The term of the Senators of the first class shall be six years, of the second class at the expiration of the second year, of the third class at the expiration of the fourth year, and of the third class at the expiration of the sixth year, so that one-third may be chosen every second year; and if vacancies happen by resignation, or otherwise, during the recess of the Legislature of any State, the Executive thereof may make temporary appointments until the next meeting of the Legislature, which shall then fill such vacancies.

No person shall be a Senator who shall not have attained to the age of thirty years, and seven years shall be a citizen of the United States, and who shall not, when elected, be an inhabitant of that State in which he shall be chosen.

The Vice-President of the United States shall be President of the Senate, but shall have no vote, unless they be equally divided.

The Senate shall choose their other officers, and also a President pro tempore, in the absence of the Vice-President, or when he shall exercise the office of President of the United States.

The Senate shall have the sole power to try all impeachments. When sitting for that purpose, they shall be on oath or affirmation. When the President of the United States is tried, the Chief Justice shall preside: And no person shall be convicted without the concurrence of two-thirds of the members present.

Constitutional Interpretation Jeffrey M. Shaman, Contemporary Perspectives On Constitutional Interpretation Susan J Brison, 2018-03-08 Current controversies over abortion affirmative action school prayer hate speech and other issues have sparked considerable public debate about how the U S Constitution should be interpreted Such controversies along with the changing composition of an often deeply divided Supreme Court have led to a resurgence of interest in theories of constitutional interpretation This anthology edited by Susan J Brison and Walter Sinnott Armstrong presents some of the most exciting and influential contemporary work in this area Written by ten of the country s most prominent legal scholars the selections represent a wide variety of interpretive approaches reflecting different political orientations from the far right to the far left These theorists have drawn on a variety of other disciplines including literature economics history philosophy and politics and have in turn influenced these fields The selections were chosen for their accessibility originality variety and importance Together they provide an excellent introduction to constitutional interpretation as well as a valuable collection for experienced scholars in the field Interpreting the Constitution Kent Greenawalt, 2015-11-04 This book uniquely presents a sophisticated account of possible approaches to constitutional interpretation and also examines how major provisions in the U S Constitution are and should be interpreted Together the chapters show why simple straightforward approaches such as textual originalism are insupportable and why even providing a more complex but systematic account of what judges should do is impossible How to Read the Constitution Christopher Wolfe, 1996 Prominent constitutional scholar Christopher Wolfe challenges popular opinions by presenting an insightful and well supported defense of originalist interpretations of the Constitution He describes the traditional approach to constitutional interpretation and judicial review and then focuses his analysis on the due process clause which has become the source of most modern constitutional law Wolfe challenges the most influential defenders of judicial activism including Laurence Tribe Michael Dorf Harry Wellington and Mark Tushnet and he persuasively explains the dire political consequences of taking the Constitution out of constitutional law The Challenge of Originalism Grant Huscroft, Bradley W. Miller, 2011-09-12 Originalism is a force to be reckoned with in constitutional interpretation At one time a monolithic theory of constitutional interpretation contemporary originalism has developed into a sophisticated family of theories about how to interpret and reason with a constitution Contemporary originalists harness the resources of linguistic moral and political philosophy to propose methodologies for the interpretation of constitutional texts and provide reasons for fidelity to those texts The essays in this volume which includes contributions from the flag bearers of several competing schools of constitutional interpretation provides an introduction to the development of originalist thought showcases the great range of contemporary originalist constitutional scholarship and situates competing schools of thought in dialogue with each other They also make new contributions to the methodological and normative disputes between originalists and non originalists and among originalists themselves Selected Theories of Constitutional Interpretation , American Constitutional Interpretation Walter F. Murphy, 2008 This undergraduate text uses original essays cases and materials to study the very enterprise by which a constitution is interpreted and a constitutional government created It explores the American polity as both a constitutional and democratic entity This volume is organized around a set of basic interrogatives What is the constitution that is to be interpreted Who are its authoritative interpreters How do they go about their interpretive tasks Constitutional Interpretation Craig R. Ducat, 1983 One of the best known most comprehensive and widely read Constitutional Law textbooks published CONSTITUTIONAL INTERPRETATION is consistently updated to reflect current issues and cases relevant to students Offering a good balance between textual explanation and edited Court cases written in clear concise language the text remains the standard text for students and instructors alike Vagaries and Varieties in Constitutional Interpretation Thomas Reed Powell, 2002 Powell Thomas Reed Vagaries and Varieties in Constitutional Interpretation New York Columbia University Press 1956 xv 229 pp Reprinted 2002 by The Lawbook Exchange Ltd ISBN 1 58477 210 7 Cloth 70 With a Foreword by Paul A Freund Published versions of the James S Carpentier lectures delivered by Powell 1880 1955 at Columbia University in 1955 Its chapters include Establishment of Judicial Review Professions and Practices in Judicial Review National Power Federalism Intergovernmental Relations Federalism State Powers Affecting the National Economy State Police Power and Federalism State Powers Affecting the National Economy State Taxing Power Methods of Interpretation Lackland H. Bloom (Jr.), 2009 Methods of Interpretation How the Supreme Court Reads the Constitution examines the various methodologies the Supreme Court and individual justices have employed throughout history when interpreting the United States Constitution Rather than attempting to set forth an overall theory of constitutional interpretation or plunge into the never ending scholarly debate over interpretative theory Lackland H Bloom Jr focuses exclusively on what the Court and individual justices have done and said about constitutional interpretation in the course of deciding constitutional cases He identifies many of the best and a few of the worst examples of particular interpretative methodologies as well as the best examples of explicit discussions of constitutional interpretation by the Court and individual justices Professor Bloom pays particular focus on the Supreme Court's approaches to constitutional interpretation since it is the Court that sets the standards. Although commentators may have the final word on what constitutional interpretation should be, he argues that the Court essentially has the final word on what it actually is.

Originalism and Judicial Discretion. A Critical Analysis of Constitutional Interpretation in the United States Isabelle Bayreuther, 2025-11-06 Essay from the year 2024 in the subject Law Public Law Constitutional Law Basic Rights grade 16 Universit Paris 1 Panth on Sorbonne course Common Law language English abstract This paper critically examines Originalism as a method of constitutional interpretation in U.S. jurisprudence. It questions the claim that Originalism uniquely restrains judges from imposing their personal or political preferences when interpreting the Constitution. The analysis contrasts Originalism with competing approaches such as Legal Realism and Living Constitutionalism, both of which emphasize the dynamic interaction between law, society, and judicial experience. The study traces the historical development from Intentionalism to Textualism and highlights the practical difficulties in determining the original meaning of constitutional provisions. Drawing on landmark Supreme Court cases including Texas v. Johnson (1989) and District of Columbia v. Heller (2008), the paper demonstrates that even prominent Originalist judges such as Antonin Scalia have occasionally departed from strict Originalist reasoning, revealing inherent inconsistencies within the doctrine.

American Constitutional Interpretation Walter F. Murphy, James E. Fleming, Sotirios A. Barber, 1995 The Rights Retained by the People: The Ninth Amendment and Constitutional Interpretation Randy E.

Barnett, 1993-03-16 Volume II of The Rights Retained by the People explores how the Ninth Amendment affects the proper way of interpreting the Constitution as a whole. Contributors: Sotirios A. Barber, Michael W. McConnell, Sanford Levinson, Stephen Macedo, Andrzej Rapaczynski, Thomas C. Grey, Lawrence G. Sager, Morris S. Arnold, Earl M. Maltz, Susanna Sherry, Calvin R. Massey, Thomas McAfee, and Raoul Berger. Together with Volume I, which covers primarily the history and proper interpretation of the amendment itself, these books constitute the definitive reference work on the Ninth Amendment.

Constitutional Dialogues Louis Fisher, 2014-07-14 Who makes constitutional law? Is constitutional doctrine the monopoly of the courts? In accessible and persuasive prose, Louis Fisher explains that constitutional law is not solely or even primarily the Supreme Court's final word, but rather a richly political convergence of separate interpretations. With a broad range of examples, he argues that constitutional principles emerge from a dialogue among all three branches of government: executive, legislative, and judicial. Important contributions also come from the states and the general public. Fisher identifies executive and legislative initiatives in many areas of constitutional significance. Where there is litigation, the Court generally upholds these initiatives or may avoid making a constitutional decision by using threshold devices. On those rare occasions when the Supreme Court exercises judicial review and strikes down a presidential or congressional action, it is usually only a matter of time before the proposal is revived and the dialogue begins again.
