Constructing A Sense Of Place Architecture And The Zionist Discourse:

Constructing a Sense of Place Haim Yacobi, 2017-05-15 While it is widely recognized that architects and their architecture play a key role in constructing a sense of place the inherent nexus between an architectural ideology and the production of national space and place has so far been neglected Focusing on the Zionist ideology this book brings together practising architects and academics to critically examine the role of architects architecture and spatial practices as mediators between national ideology and the politicization of space The book first of all sets out the wider context of theoretical debates concerning the role of architecture in the process of constructing a sense of place then divides into six main sections The book not only provides an innovative new perspective on how the Israeli state had developed but also sheds light on how architecture shapes national identity in any post colonial and settler state

The Planning and Building of the Hebrew University, 1919-1948 Diana Dolev, 2016-03-08 Since the construction of the first Holy Temple on Mount Moriah in Jerusalem in 957 BCE the site became one of the holiest places for Jews Christians and Muslims around the world Once the Dome of the Rock was built during early Islam the edifice replaced the temple and for centuries pilgrims travelers and locals would climb up to the Mount Scopus summit for the magnificent view it afforded Hence planning and building an institute of national importance on Mount Scopus could not disregard the implications of that view of the Temple Mount in terms of beauty religious sentiments and the link to a historic golden age The Planning and Building of the Hebrew University 1919 1948 Facing the Temple Mount traces for the first time the history of the construction of this highly significant Zionist enterprise It follows the years of the British Mandate rule over Palestine bookended between the Ottoman Empire government and Israel s independence an era of great changes in the area Jerusalem in particular In the three decades between 1919 and 1948 five different master plans were drawn up for the university though none of them were fully implemented Only seven buildings were designed and fully completed Each plan and building presented an interpretation of a university conception that also related to prevailing styles and ideological trends Underlying each one were intricate power struggles donors wishes and architectural concerns Internationally famous town planners and architects such as Patrick Geddes and Erich Mendelsohn took part in designing the campus The book also reveals comparatively unknown architects and their contribution to the campus Narratives

Unfolding Martha Langford, 2017-07-18 Somewhere between global and local the nation still lingers as a concept National art histories continue to be written some for the first time while innovative methods and practices redraw the boundaries of these imagined communities Narratives Unfolding considers the mobility of ideas transnationalism and entangled histories in essays that define new ways to see national art in ever changing nations Examining works that were designed to reclaim or rethink issues of territory and dispossession home and exile contributors to this volume demonstrate that the writing of national art histories is a vital project for intergenerational exchange of knowledge and its visual formations Essays showcase revealing moments of modern and contemporary art history in Canada Egypt Iceland India Ireland Israel Palestine Romania Scotland Turkey and the United Arab Emirates paying particular attention to the agency of institutions such as archives art galleries milestone exhibitions and artist retreats Old and emergent art cities including Cairo Dubai New York and Vancouver are also examined in light of avant gardism cosmopolitanism and migration Narratives Unfolding is both a survey of current art historical approaches and their connection to the source art making and art experience happening somewhere

Remembering, Forgetting and City Builders Haim Yacobi, 2016-04-08 Remembering Forgetting and City Builders critically explores how urban spaces are designed planned and experienced in relation to the politics of collective and personal memory construction Bringing together case studies from North America South Asia Eastern Europe and the Middle East the book analyzes how contested national ethnic and cultural sentiments clash in planning and experiencing urban spaces Going beyond the claim that such situations exist in many parts of the world because communities construct their past memories within their current daily life and future aspirations the book explores how the very acts of planning and urban design are rooted in the existing structures of hegemonic power With contributors from the fields of architecture geography planning anthropology and sociology urban studies and cultural studies the book provides a rich interdisciplinary view into the conflicts over memory and belonging which are spatially expressed and mediated through the official planning apparatus

The Object of Zionism Zvi Efrat, 2018 The Object of Zionism is a critical study of Zionist spatial planning and the architectural fabrication of the State of Israel from the early 20th century to the 1960s and 70s Zvi Efrat scrutinizes Israel as a singular modernist project unprecedented in its political and ethical circumstances and its hyper production of spatial and structural experiments Efrat explores the construction of the State of Israel in a book that promises to become a standard reference on Israeli architectural history Stone Men Andrew Ross, 2021-04-06 Winner of the 2019 Palestine Book

Awards They demolish our houses while we build theirs This is how a Palestinian stonemason in line at a checkpoint outside a Jerusalem suburb described his life to Andrew Ross Palestinian stone men using some of the best quality limestone deposits in the world and drawing on generations of artisanal knowledge have built almost every state in the Middle East except one of their own Today the business of quarrying cutting fabricating and dressing is the Occupied Territories largest private employer and generator of revenue and supplies the construction industry in Israel along with other countries in the region and overseas Ross's engrossing surprising and gracefully written story of this fascinating ancient trade shows how the stones of historic Palestine and Palestinian labor have been used to build the state of Israel in the process constructing facts on the ground even while the industry is central to Palestinians' own efforts to erect bulwarks against the Occupation For more than a century the hands that built Israel's houses schools offices bridges and even its separation barriers have been Palestinian Looking at the Palestinian Israeli conflict in a new light this book largely based on field interviews in the region asks how this record of labor and achievement can and should be recognized Journal of Palestine Studies ,2004 A quarterly on Palestinian affairs and the Arab Israeli conflict

Postzionism Laurence Jay Silberstein,2008 This reader provides a broad spectrum of innovative and highly controversial views on Zionism and its place in the global Jewish world order in the 21st century Essays explore attitudes about Jewish homeland and diaspora as well as ways in which Zionist discourse marginalizes minority groups

Cultural Practices, Political Possibilities Rohee Dasgupta,2008 Culture has long been regarded as one of the most complicated concepts in the social sciences possibly over theorized Its ubiquity tangled senses of particularity and the almost universal recognition of that assumed particularity require an extended vocabulary for framing the politics embedded in it Cultural Practices Political Possibilities attempts to explain the political significance and overlaps of cultural constructions as witnessed in global local clashes convergences of texts and contexts within the state and community identity and the self Through various case studies concepts and interdisciplinary perspectives the multinational group of authors from diverse academic backgrounds interprets cultural constructions of politics as factionalizing identitarian situational and particularistic in their links affirmations and consequential divides Each contribution in its unique way explores the performative asymmetries and contradictions witnessed in diverse cultural interactions that shape new areas of political investigation The book will be welcomed by students of international relations environmental politics sociology anthropology and cultural studies Israel Studies Forum ,2005 Historical Dictionary of Zionism Rafael Medoff,Chaim I.
