Constructing Social Theories

Kenneth C. Land, Marcus Felson

Constructing Social Theories:

Constructing Social Theories Arthur L. Stinchcombe, 1987-07-15 Constructing Social Theories presents to the reader a range of strategies for constructing theories and in a clear rigorous and imaginative manner illustrates how they can be applied Arthur L. Stinchcombe argues that theories should not be invented in the abstract or applied a priori to a problem but should be dictated by the nature of the data to be explained This work was awarded the Sorokin prize by the American Sociological Association as the book that made an outstanding contribution to the progress of sociology in 1970

Constructing Social Theories Arthur L. Stinchcombe, 1987 Constructing Social Theories Arthur L. Stinchcombe, 1968 Constructing Social Theory David C. Bell, 2009 Constructing Social Theory discusses the nature of social theory and theoretical orientations Organized by forty three theoretical orientations in seven domains exchange power adaptation reinforcement social bond altruism functionalism and identity the text includes a tutorial on how to identify an appropriate theoretical orientation and create a theory given a particular research question Bell separates the theoretical orientation of causal logic from theory itself illuminating the mechanisms of scientific revolutions where new theoretical orientations are created and the procedures of normal science in which theories are developed using the logic of existing theoretical orientations Constructing Social Theories Arthur L. Stinchcombe, 1968 The Logic of Social Research Arthur L. Stinchcombe, 2005-07 Arthur L. Stinchcombe has earned a reputation as a leading practitioner of methodology in sociology and related disciplines Throughout his distinguished career he has championed the idea that to be an effective sociologist one must use many methods This incisive work introduces students to the logic of those methods The Logic of Social Research orients students to a set of logical problems that all methods must address to study social causation Almost all sociological theory asserts that some social conditions produce other social conditions but the theoretical links between causes and effects are not easily supported by observation Observations cannot directly show causation but they can reject or support causal theories with different degrees of credibility As a result sociologists have created four main types of methods that Stinchcombe terms quantitative historical ethnographic and experimental to support their theories Each method has value and each has its uses for different research purposes Accessible and astute The Logic of Social Research offers an image of what sociology is what it's all about and what the craft of the sociologist consists of A General Framework for Building Dynamic Macro Social Indicator Models Kenneth C. Land, Marcus Felson, 1976 Constructing Social Problems Malcolm Spector, There is no adequate definition of social problems within sociology and there is not and never has been a sociology of social problems That observation is the point of departure of this book The authors aim to provide such a definition and to prepare the ground for the empirical study of social problems They are aware that their objective will strike many fellow sociologists as ambitious perhaps even arrogant Their work challenges sociologists who have over a period of fifty years written treatises on social problems produced textbooks cataloguing the nature distribution and causes of these problems and taught many sociology courses It is only natural that the authors work will be viewed as controversial in light of the large literature which has established a sociology of a wide range of social problems the sociology of race relations prostitution poverty crime mental illness and so forth In the 1970s when the authors were preparing for a seminar on the sociology of social problems their review of the literature revealed the absence of any systematic coherent statement of theory or method in the study of social problems For many years the subject was listed and offered by university departments of sociology as a service course to present undergraduates with what they should know about the various social pathologies that exist in their society This conception of social problems for several decades has been reflected in the substance and quality of the literature dominated by textbooks In Constructing Social Problems the authors propose that social problems be conceived as the claims making activities of individuals or groups regarding social conditions they consider unjust immoral or harmful and that should be addressed This perspective as the authors have formulated it conceives of social problems as a process of interaction that produces social problems as social facts in society The authors further propose that this process and the social facts it produces are the data to be researched for the sociology of social problems This volume will be of interest to those concerned with the discipline of sociology especially its current theoretical development and growth Malcolm Spector was professor of sociology at McGill University in Montreal Canada John I Kitsuse is professor emeritus at the University of California at Santa Cruz He is co author with Leonard Broom of The Managed Casualty The Japanese American Family in World War II and co editor with Theodore R Sarbin of Constructing the Social Theoretical Approaches to Deviance Charles E. Frazier,1976 Power in the City Marion Orr,Valerie C. Johnson,2008 A collection of thirteen essays considered classics in the field of urban politics from leading scholar Clarence Stone with new essays by the editors and by Stone himself that contextualize the impact of his previous works and suggest new directions for researchers AB Bookman's Weekly ,1985 Juvenile Delinquency in Perspective Brenda S. Griffin,Charles T. Griffin,1978 The Sociological Way of Looking at the World Louis Schneider,1975 Jurisprudence Brian Bix,2006 Previous editions 2003 3rd 1999 2nd and 1996 1st Proceedings [of The] Annual Meeting National College Physical Education Association for Men,1971 Metatheory and Consumer Research Gerald Zaltman,Christian R.
