Yogesh Atal, 2009 The Indian Council of Social Science Research the premier organization for social science research in India conducts periodic surveys in the major disciplines of the social sciences to assess disciplinary developments as well as to identify gaps in research in these disciplines Portuguese Decolonization in the Indian Ocean World Pamila Gupta, 2018-10-18 Pamila Gupta takes a unique approach to examining decolonization processes across Lusophone India and Southern Africa focusing on Goa Mozambique Angola and South Africa weaving together case studies using five interconnected themes Gupta considers decolonization through the twined lenses of history and ethnography accessed through written oral visual and eyewitness accounts of how people experienced the transfer of state power She looks at the materiality of decolonization as a movement of peoples across vast oceanic spaces demonstrating how it was a process of dispossession for both the Portuguese formerly in power and ordinary colonial citizens and subjects She then discusses the production of race and class anxieties during decolonization which took on a variety of forms but were often articulated through material objects The book aims to move beyond linear histories of colonial independence by connecting its various regions using the theme of decolonization offering a productive and new approach to writing post national histories and ethnographies Finally Gupta demonstrates the value of using different source materials to access narratives of decolonization analyzing the work of Mozambican photographer Ricardo Rangel and including lyrical prose and ethnographical observations Portuguese Decolonization in the Indian Ocean World provides a nuanced understanding of Lusophone decolonization revealing the perspectives of people who experienced it This book will be highly valuable for historians of the Indian Ocean world and decolonization but also those interested in ethnography diaspora studies and material culture South Asia and its Others Atreyee Phukan, V.G. Julie Rajan, 2020-10-27 The essays in South Asia and Its Others Reading the Exotic reveal fresh perspectives on the notion of exoticism in South Asia and also challenge and extend existing scholarship in the broader discourse of what constitutes South Asia Significantly the anthology considers how the phenomenon of exoticization may be interpreted as a strategic methodology utilized by writers of South Asian descent to examine critically both the post colonialist ramifications of casteism religious intolerance and gender violence across differing cultural contexts within the region and how current perceptions of native and diasporic South Asian subjects problematize ideologies of authenticity across Western Eastern divides The papers in this collection show how authors of South Asian ethnicity construct their own version of an exotic South Asia globally and the colonialist discourse of exocitism is employed as a discursive tool that uncovers the ambiguity that continues to mark the marginality of identities even today Loyola Journal of Social Sciences ,1998 Journal of Social and Economic Development ,1999 With reference to India Indian Politics and the 1998 Election Ramashray Roy, Paul Wallace, 1999 Sociological Bulletin Indian Sociological Society, 1999 Hungarian Studies ,2007 The Journal of Parliamentary Information ,1999 Redefining Horizons Mario Cabral e Sá, 2002 Cultural history of state of Goa Contemporary India - Transitions Peter De Souza, Peter Ronald
