Proven Remote Work Productivity For Beginners For Teens:

Preparing and accessing decent work amongst rural youth in Cambodia Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, 2019-08-12 The case study explores which skills and training opportunities young people need in order to gain access to decent employment in rural areas The research was undertaken in order to develop recommendations to support the Ministry of Agriculture Forestry and Fisheries MAFF and FAO Cambodia in developing appropriate recommendations to support rural young people especially those of the 15 to 17 age cohort The study highlights the limited decent employment opportunities that currently exist along various agricultural value chains in rural Cambodia Poverty and the structural problems of the agricultural sector are the main barriers for youth in accessing decent rural employment A substantial enhancement of the education system as well as the provision of appropriate training services to ensure successful school to work transition is seen as necessary to tackle these challenges A well balanced policy mix reflecting national and local circumstances can encourage employment opportunities and create an environment that enables rural youth Building on previous research on agriculture in Cambodia agricultural transformation requires promotion of agribusiness enterprises support to community managed organizations of farmers promotion of agropreneurs and investments in agricultural and rural development particularly in infrastructure energy water education and health Moreover most youth entering agriculture are self employed and work as smallscale farmers Therefore the provision of skills and training in rural areas should focus on the skills required to be self employed

Youth and Employment in Sub-Saharan Africa Hiroyuki Hino, Gustav Ranis, 2014-06-05 It is widely acknowledged that youth unemployment is one of the most critical challenges facing countries in Sub Saharan Africa This volume brings together an eminent group of international scholars to analyse the extent and complex nature of this joblessness and offer a set of evidence based policy choices that could contribute to solving the problem in the short and long run Part I reviews the existing literature on youth unemployment and underemployment in Sub Saharan Africa from microeconomic and macroeconomic perspectives while Part II goes on to present detailed country studies of Ethiopia Ghana Kenya and South Africa These studies offer a deep understanding of the situation on the ground and consider country specific solutions Throughout the book it is argued that the standard ILO definition of unemployment is too narrow to correctly portray employment situations in Sub Saharan Africa Several alternative measures of unemployment are presented which show that joblessness is far more pervasive than commonly assumed in the literature This volume will be of interest to academics and policy makers involved in African development
