Crossroads Of Class And Gender Industrial Homework Subcontracting And Household Dynamics In Mexico City:

The Crossroads of Class and Gender Lourdes Benería, Martha Roldán, 1987 In this innovative exploration of the interaction between economic processes and social relations Lourdes Benería and Martha Roldán examine the effect of homework on gender and family dynamics Their fieldwork in Mexico City during 1981-82 has enabled them to provide important new empirical data on industrial piecework performed by women as well as intimate glimpses of these women's lives which place that piecework in context Tracing the stages of production from home to jobber workshop and manufacturer often a multinational corporation the authors demonstrate the way in which the work and lives of these women are connected through subcontracting to the national and often international system of production The Crossroads of Class and Gender Lourdes Benería, Martha Roldán, 1987-06-15 In this innovative exploration of the interaction between economic processes and social relations Lourdes Benería and Martha Roldán examine the effect of homework on gender and family dynamics Their fieldwork in Mexico City during 1981-82 has enabled them to provide important new empirical data on industrial piecework performed by women as well as intimate glimpses of these women's lives which place that piecework in context Tracing the stages of production from home to jobber workshop and manufacturer often a multinational corporation the authors demonstrate the way in which the work and lives of these women are connected through subcontracting to the national and often international system of production The crossroads of class & gender Benería L., 1987 Concentrates on class and gender articulation in the household and the workplace Considers how industrial homework and other types of female employment are connected with the wider issues of labour market and development dynamics gender dimensions of these issues female proletarianisation renegotiation of gender relations and women's awareness of their subordination in the household No Place Like Home David Staples, 2007-11-21 No Place Like Home examines the emergence of home based women workers as paradigmatic figures of contemporary capitalism neoliberal governmentality and socio political contestation Far from an isolated or contingent situation home based work constitutes today an enormous arena of invisible social and political struggles of subaltern and ethno racially subordinated women Home-Based Work and Home-Based Workers (1800-2021), 2021-11-08 During the Covid 19 pandemic the home as a workplace became a widely discussed topic However for almost 300 million workers around the world paid work from home was not news Home Based Work and Home Based Workers 1800-2021 includes contributions from scholars activists and artists addressing the past and present conditions of home based work They discuss the institutional and legal histories of regulations for these workers their modes of organization and resistance as well as providing new insights on contemporary home based work in both traditional and developing sectors Contributors are Jane Barrett Janine Berg Eloisa Betti Chris Bonner Eileen Boris Patricia Cooman Carrilo Janhavi Dave Saniye Dedee Lu Laura K Ekholm Jenna Harvey Frida Hlander K Kalpana Srabani Maitra Indrani Mazumdar Gabriela Mitidieri Silke Neunsinger Malin Nilsson Narumol Nirathronsa Norman Leda Papastefanaki Archana Prasad Maria

Tamboukou Nina Trige Andersen and Marlese von Broembsen Engendering Wealth And Well-being Cathy Rakowski, 2018-02-19 The new international division of labor and the imposition of structural adjustment on Third World countries has necessitated a reexamination of development policies and a reevaluation of the role of gender in their success or failure Although women often bear the heaviest burden under structural adjustment there is also considerable evidence of women being empowered through their responses to the challenges of economic restructuring Based on case study material from Eastern Europe the Islamic nations Africa China and Latin America this volume explores the significant contributions women make to the wealth and well being of their families and nations The contributors argue persuasively that women may hold the key to sustainable development an increasingly critical issue at a time when policymakers are reconsidering the full costs and benefits of a growth fixated development model One of the first to embody the new gender and development paradigm this book reports on research at the frontiers of knowledge and theory about the gendered outcomes of economic transformation restructuring and social change By incorporating voices from the South it makes a provocative addition to our understanding of the political economy of development and of the relationship between world ecology and the world economy

Gender at Work in Economic Life Gracia Clark, 2003 This new volume from SEA illuminates the importance of gender as a frame of reference in the study of economic life The contributors are economic anthropologists who consider the role of gender and work in a cross cultural context examining issues of historical change the construction of globalization household authority and entitlement and entrepreneurship and autonomy The book will be a valuable resource for researchers in anthropology and in the related fields of economics sociology of work gender studies women s studies and economic development Published in cooperation with the Society for Economic Anthropology Visit their web page Textures of Struggle Piya Pangsapa, 2011-05-02 Based on intensive ethnographic fieldwork in Thailand Textures of Struggle focuses on the experiences of Thai women who are employed at textile factories and examines how the all encompassing nature of wage work speaks to issues of worker accommodation and resistance within various factory settings Why are some women less tolerant of their working conditions than others How is it that women who have similar levels of education come from the same socioeconomic background and enter the same occupation nevertheless emerge with different experiences and reactions to their wage employment Women in the Thai apparel industry Piya Pangsapa finds have very different experiences of labor militancy and non militancy Through interviews with women at two kinds of factories one linked to the global economy through local capital investment and another through transnational capital Pangsapa examines issues of worker consciousness with a focus on the process by which women become activists She explores the different degrees of control and coercion employed by factory managers and shows how women were able to overcome conditions of adversity by relying on the close personal ties they developed with each other Textures of Struggle reveals what it is like for women to feel powerlessness and passivity in Thai sweatshops but also shows how they are equally able to resist and rebel Encyclopedia of Sex and Gender Carol R.  Economic Anthropology SEA this volume takes a unique approach to the study of economics Rather than concentrating on a defined analytical unit it explores economics from the interface That is it examines the various kinds of relationships that can exist among and within economic units in a community and beyond The chapters treat the theme of the interface from four different perspectives intracommunity interfaces interfaces and the organization of communities extracomunity interfaces and the question of interfaces in archaeological investigations The authors address various topics related to household economy including the creation of different identities through shared labor the dialectical relationship between global forces and local producers in structuring economic contexts strategies that promote economic flexibility and environmental adaptation CEPAL Review ,2013 Gender Roles Linda L. Lindsey,Sandra Christy,1994 Provides a survey of modern gender roles and issues from a sociological perspective which emphasizes interdisciplinary links between gender history psychology biology and cross cultural studies The book also shows the interdependence of gender roles and highlights both male and female issues Changing Security Annette van Andel,1998 Ideology and Ideological Practices of the Thai
