Cruel Habitations a Pbp Kate Charles, 2001-05 Cruel Habitations Enid Gauldie, 2025-06-02 Cruel Habitations 1974 looks at the pre industrial background in which housing problems are rooted with the decay of towns and the unsuccessful attempts to better their condition by public health reforms by charitable agencies and by building societies and with legislative action in Parliament towards housing reform Cruel Habitations a Special Kate Charles, 2001-05 Building Society Promise Antoninus Samy, 2016 The Building Society Promise explores the accessibility of the early building society movement to working class households before the Second World War The study examines the historical records of building societies which existed in the past and reconstructs their mortgage portfolios to investigate the kinds of people that were buying houses with the help of building society finance during this period Antoninus Samy shows how the accessibility of different building societies primarily depended upon the how individual societies were designed to do business which in turn also affected their efficiency and stability Societies that were small and highlylocalized or large societies that had agency networks that were closely knit with the communities they served were more likely to be accessible efficient and stable than larger societies that operated no differently than impersonal corporate banks The Social Conscience of the Early Victorians F. David Roberts, 2002-08-07 In 1830 the dominant social outlook of the early Victorians was a paternalism that looked to property the Church and local Justices of the Peace to govern society and deal with its ills By 1860 however the dominant social outlook had become a vision of a laissez faire society that relied on economic laws self reliance and the vigorous philanthropy of voluntary societies This book describes and analyzes these changes which arose from the rapid growth of industry towns population and the middle and working classes Paternalism did not entirely fade away however just as a laissez faire vision had long antedated 1830 Both were part of a social conscience also defined by a revived philanthropy a new humanitarianism and a grudging acceptance of an expanded government all of which reflected a strong revival of religion as well as the growth of rationalism The new dominance of a laissez faire vision was dramatically evident in the triumph of political economy By 1860 only a few doubted the eternal verities of the economists voluminous writings Few also doubted the verities of those who preached self reliance who supported the New Poor Law's severity to persons who were not self reliant and who inspired education measures to promote that indispensable virtue If economic laws and self reliance failed to prevent distress the philanthropists and voluntary societies would step in Such a vision proved far more buoyant and effective than a paternalism whose narrow and rural Anglican base made it unable to cope with the downside of an industrial urban Britain But the vision of a laissez faire society was not without its flaws Its harmonious economic laws and its hope in self reliance did not prevent gross exploitation and acute distress and however beneficent were its philanthropists they fell far short of mitigating these evils This vision also found a rival in an expanded government Two powerful ideas the idea of a paternal government and the idea of a utilitarian state helped create the expansion of government services A reluctant belief in governmental power thus joined the many other ideas that defined the Victorian's social conscience The Labouring Classes in Early Industrial England, 1750-1850 John Rule, 2014-01-21 This is the most comprehensive and up to date synthesis of current research on the social conditions experiences and reactions of working people during the period 1750 The Church School Journal, 1882 The Teachings of Jesus Henry George Spaulding, 1886 The Homiletic 1850 Metropolitan Pulpit and Homiletic Monthly, 1912 Review .1912 Preacher and Homiletic Monthly .1912 The Young scholar ,1872 Homiletic Review ,1912 The Modern Review Ramananda Chatterjee, 1922 Includes section Reviews and notices of books The Poverty of Planning Benno Engels, 2021-01-15 Using a neo Marxian perspective Benno Engels examines the absence of urban planning in nineteenth century England In his analysis of urbanization in England Engels considers the influences of property owners inheritance laws local government structures fiscal crises of the local and central state shifts in voter sentiments fluctuating economic conditions and class based pressure group activity

The Myriad Faces of War Trevor Wilson, 2012-10-04 By far the best study of Britain and the First World War that has yet been written London Review of Books The Myriad Faces of War first published in 1987 is a unique and compelling study of the First World War from the standpoint of British involvement It explores the reasons for Britain's entry into the war the nature and course of Britain's participation and the far reaching repercussions of the war on British society The result is a rich and comprehensive chronicle of the social political diplomatic and military aspects of the Great War Professor Trevor Wilson's mighty work on the first world war is a truly significant contribution to our understanding of what the war meant to the British people a disciplined unsentimental and thoughtful book and it also retains strongly the human touch Spectator Wilson ranges impressively over all major aspects of the conflict a judicious readable overview of a monster subject New York Times The Peak in Darien Frances Power Cobbe, 1886 The Nineteenth Century and After , 1896 Moral Difficulties Connected with the Bible James Augustus Hessey, 1871
