The British Army and Signals Intelligence During the First World War

John Ferris, 1992 Historians have paid little attention to the British Army's experience with signals intelligence during the First World War. However, this was one of the Army's most important sources of information about crucial matters such as the order of battle and intentions of the German and Turkish Armies. Britain's successes and failures in signals intelligence profoundly affected battles ranging from the race for the Channel Ports, first Somme, third Gaza, and Amiens among many others. While efforts to weed the records on these topics have created major gaps in the sources, surviving evidence throws an entirely new light on the British Army in the Great War. It allows one to trace the evolution of the Army's signals intelligence organisations to determine many of their successes and failures, to show how this intelligence affected various operations, and indeed to demonstrate that signals intelligence influenced the operations of the British Army as much as those of the Royal Navy. The material reproduced in this volume includes excerpts from reports by Army Headquarters in France, Italy, and Mesopotamia, and the Military Intelligence Directorate. It includes the memorandum 'Enemy Codes and their Solution' by the G.H.Q. codebreaking section in January 1918, which is one of the two best sources known to exist about the techniques of codebreaking; surviving reports on the enemy radio networks in the Balkans and Anatolian Turkey, which are the most illuminating evidence from any theatre on the approach toward traffic analysis; and a report on the breaking of German and Turkish Army ciphers in Mesopotamia during 1917, which is the best source known about the techniques of cryptanalysis used by an Army in the Great War. BOOK JACKET Title Summary field provided by Blackwell North America Inc. Advances in Cryptology - ASIACRYPT 2000 Tatsuaki Okamoto, 2003-06-26 ASIACRYPT 2000 was the sixth annual ASIACRYPT conference. It was sponsored by the International Association for Cryptologic Research (IACR) in cooperation with the Institute of Electronics, Information and Communication Engineers (IEICE). The first conference with the name ASIACRYPT took place in 1991, and the series of ASIACRYPT conferences were held in 1994, 1996, 1998, and 1999 in cooperation with IACR. ASIACRYPT 2000 was the first conference in the series to be sponsored by IACR. The conference received 140 submissions; 1 submission was withdrawn by the authors later, and the program committee selected 45 of these for presentation. Extended abstracts of the revised versions of these papers are included in these proceedings. The program also included two invited lectures by Thomas Berson, 'Cryptography Everywhere' (IACR Distinguished Lecture) and Hideki Imai, 'CRYPTREC Project' (Cryptographic Evaluation Project for the Japanese Electronic Government). Abstracts of these talks are included in these proceedings. The conference program also included its traditional rump session of short informal or impromptu presentations kindly chaired by Moti Yung. Those presentations are not reflected in these proceedings. The selection of the program was a challenging task as many high quality submissions were received. The program committee worked very hard to evaluate the papers with respect to quality, originality, and relevance to cryptography. I am extremely grateful to the program committee members for their enormous investment of time and effort in the difficult and delicate process of review and
