Eyewitness Textures Michael Lithgow, Michèle Martin, 2024-01-15 News coverage today is an emerging collaboration between the general public and professional journalists News consumers have come to expect and demand the unprecedented immediacy of experience and coverage of breaking news offered by photographs video clips audio recordings tweets commentary content created by ordinary citizens The use of user generated content is a salient aspect of how journalists and news organizations are responding to technological changes in the twenty first century Eyewitness Textures examines the far reaching changes in journalism spurred by the growing importance of user generated content Bringing together the voices and experiences of professional journalists and academic researchers from across five continents this collection explores news production practices changing skills among editors and journalists and corporate and newsroom restructuring Chapters by practitioners collectively reflect the newsroom experiences of major global media organizations while the academic contributions address issues of industrial transformation political influence truth and verification aesthetics and ideological implications Both perspectives combine to deepen our understanding of what constitutes the conditions and creation of good journalism as well as the implications of how the profession should be taught to future journalists Tracing recent shifts in journalism practice around the world Eyewitness Textures examines the creative adaptation and strategies of journalists and news organizations in the face of transformative technological change

Research Handbook on Intellectual Property and Digital Technologies Tanya Aplin, 2020-01-31 This Handbook provides a scholarly and comprehensive account of the multiple converging challenges that digital technologies present for intellectual property IP rights from the perspectives of international EU and US law Despite the fast moving nature of digital technology this Handbook provides profound reflections on the underlying normative legal dilemmas identifying future problems and suggesting how digital IP issues should be dealt with in the future

Copyright and Anonymity in the Creative User-Generated World Rachel Maguire, 2025-05-01 This book explores the relationship between copyright law online anonymity and creative user generated content CUGC Presenting original empirical findings the book evaluates the co existence of copyright law and normative systems regulating a CUGC landscape made up of artists photographers and writers and makes novel recommendations for copyright reform It takes a multi jurisdictional approach across Anglo American and EU legal systems using the UK USA and Germany as representative jurisdictions for legal analysis Qualitative findings are drawn from creators and communities on Reddit and 4chan Copyright subsists in much CUGC but pervasive anonymity makes it difficult for the law to regulate it effectively Simultaneously anonymity offers creative benefits in a way that highlights flaws in traditional justifications of copyright Comparisons between community norms and copyright law identify practical differences but also fundamental compatibilities in terms of ownership expectations However the simultaneous existence of legal and normative enforcement mechanisms complicates matters for creators and potential users with negative implications for creativity and copyright law While existing reform efforts have made suggestions to create a UGC exception these overlook and undermine the role of CUGC creators as copyright holders This can be addressed through the consideration of a framework of supplementary CUGC guidelines when developing such reforms This valuable resource for researchers and students provides a distinct perspective in framing CUGC creators as copyright holders examining online anonymity as a pivotal factor influencing regulation

De Gruyter Handbook of Media Technology and Innovation Richard A. Gershon, 2025-01-27 The De Gruyter Handbook of Media Technology and Innovation brings together scholars from around the world to provide key insights on emerging technology trends and issues related to the fields of media management information technology product design planning and digital lifestyle This handbook is about the power of good ideas It s about those business enterprises government planners educators and entrepreneurs that have harnessed the power of good ideas to become real difference makers in the world we live in Keeping pace with fast paced technology change requires ongoing assessment and reassessment of the media management and technology fields to address important questions and emerging issues A major premise of this book is that given the complex and ever changing state of media technology we have a responsibility and obligation to engage in a broader interdisciplinary dialogue whose purpose is to understand the current and future state of media technology and innovation as well as to appreciate the social impact that such technologies have on business education and the general public Forecasting the future as any weatherperson or stock broker can tell you is a risky business But in this book we use the phrase the creative next step as a way to talk about the future and what we can expect in terms of the opportunities and challenges going forward
