Games and Simulations in Online Learning David Gibson, Clark Aldrich, Marc Prensky, 2007 This book examines the potential of games and simulations in online learning and how the future could look as developers learn to use the emerging capabilities of the Semantic Web It explores how the Semantic Web will impact education and how games and simulations can evolve to become robust teaching resources Provided by publisher

Handbook of Online Learning Kjell Erik Rudestam, Judith Schoenholtz-Read, 2002-02-19 I found the book excellent and read every one of the 450 pages Many of the chapters reflect the Fielding Institute s focus on human and organizational behaviour educational leadership and organizational management The book will be particularly appropriate for readers from a corporate training or business school background though there is much for academics and online educators at all levels and subject areas to learn from this well crafted book There are many books and articles about online learning This is one of the better ones Robin Mason Computers and Education Technology mediated instruction has taken the university and the corporate sector by storm As more instructors teach online for a dispersed learning community in both academic and business environments there s a need for resources that will help them adapt to this new teaching method Educators who come out of traditional academic institutions tend to use traditional methods when offering courses online e g lectures textbooks and readings examinations rather than attend to small group processes and principles of what the editors of this volume call andragogy This Handbook goes beyond the mechanics of how to create and direct an online learning experience to consider such a new approach to pedagogy in doing so The editors primary purpose is to clarify the conceptual issues that underlie effective online teaching and to offer practical guidance to educators and corporate trainers who plan to teach in a virtual environment Their central tenet is the adoption of computer networks as the teaching vehicle of the future demands a re examination of our core beliefs about pedagogy and how students learn The transfer of a classroom curriculum into cyberspace is deceptively simple but doing so without an appreciation of the nuances and implications of learning online ignores not only the potential of this medium but the inevitable realities of entering it Rather than fear the challenges that new technology brings to systems of learning the editors hope to help instructors embrace it by re thinking how knowledge is acquired and how educational processes may be optimally designed in a new age of teaching and learning Features Benefits Part I provides an overview and includes discussion of the unique structural aspects of the electronic learning environment pedagogical issues curriculum design psychological and group dynamics and ethical issues Part II examines practical issues associated with implementing courses online both in the traditional university setting and in professional corporate training environments The book draws heavily on personal case examples many from The Fielding Graduate Institute's 26 years of teaching in nontraditional distributed learning environments Proceedings of the Virtual Worlds and Simulation Conference (VWSIM '98) Christopher Landauer, Kirstie L. Bellman, 1998 Encyclopedia of Communities of Practice in Information and Knowledge Management Elayne Coakes, 2006 This encyclopedia will give readers insight on how other organizations have tackled the necessary means of sharing knowledge across communities and functions Provided by publisher Virtual Technologies Jerzy Kisielnicki, 2008 This publication presents encompassing research of the concepts and realities involved in the field of virtual communities and technologies Provided by publisher Excellence in Practice Scott Cheney, 1997 Learning Paths Steve Rosenbaum, Jim Williams, 2004-08-20 Describes a systematic approach to reducing time to proficiency The book is divided into three sections 1 The Learning Path Methodology which walks the reader through the major steps and strategies needed for building Learning Paths 2 Doing the Right Training the reader is presented with a wide range of strategies methods and techniques that can be targeted to the training within a Learning Path and tied to an organization's particular business needs 3 Do the Training Right in conclusion shows how to ensure the training within a Learning Path is delivered in the most cost effective manner and introduces methods for structuring training so that it transfers to the job easily and effectively Management John M. Ivancevich, Thomas N. Duening, 2006 The National Guide to Educational Credit for Training Programs American Council on Education, 2005 Highlights over 6 000 educational programs offered by business labor unions schools training suppliers professional and voluntary associations and government agencies The Software Encyclopedia 2000 Bowker Editorial Staff, 2000-05 Leadership Resources, 2000 Build Your Own Information Literate School Carol Koechlin, Sandi Zwaan, 2003 Provides strategies for teaching information literacy and assesses how well students can practice what they learn
