Larson, 2024 In Remote and Hybrid Work What Everyone Needs to Know R long time remote work scholar and consultant

Barbara Z Larson provides an accessible and critical resource for understanding the remote and virtual workplace and how to lead in this new work environment. Remote and hybrid work have become defining features of the twenty-first century workplace and affect almost all of us, including those who work daily in the office. As many people discover the benefits and challenges of working from home, co-workers are contending with emptier offices and virtual teams; managers are learning how to lead from a distance, and businesses and governments are working through the policy implications of a new model of work. In Remote and Hybrid Work: What Everyone Needs to Know, R. Barbara Z. Larson addresses key questions regarding the contemporary workplace: what is the difference between virtual work and remote work? How common is remote work, and what has changed due to the COVID-19 pandemic? Is there a particular type of person who is better suited for remote work? What are the effects of using technology to monitor remote workers? What are the societal benefits and costs of remote work? What has happened to companies that have tried to go fully remote with no offices at all? Larson looks carefully into the challenges and opportunities that people and companies face today as work changes. Chapters address the issues that vital stakeholders experience in remote work environments, including the remote worker, remote teams, managers of remote workers, and companies with remote workforces. Larson also incorporates real-world examples to illustrate key points and demonstrate best practices. Readers will learn from more than thirty years of extensive research by scholars in the areas of applied psychology, organizational behavior, computer-mediated communication, and organizational economics. Remote and Hybrid Work: What Everyone Needs to Know is a critical resource for understanding this new model of work.

Hybrid Work Schedule and Employee Motivation Elecia Morris, 2022 The COVID-19 pandemic forced many organizations to change their way of conducting business. A major change was the implementation of teleworking. This research explores whether offering a hybrid telework schedule may promote job motivation. The study will investigate the employees of the Los Angeles County Public Works. Work-life balance, commute, and sustainability, productivity, and organizational isolation will be the study factors. A survey distribution will be used as a quantitative approach. A quantitative sampling method will be used to collect data with simple random sampling. This research will bring awareness to management and employees on how a hybrid telework schedule relates to job motivation in the public sector.
