Impact of Coordination Mechanism on the Performance of Virtual Teams in Agile Software Development Projects Ali

Nazari, 2023-10-09 Doctoral Thesis Dissertation from the year 2023 in the subject Computer Science Commercial Information Technology grade A language English abstract The objective of this research is to ascertain and recognize the factors that make up the coordination mechanism of virtual development teams and provide a structural and interpretive model of the relationships between these factors and evaluate the influence of these factors on themselves and the performance of virtual development teams of agile software development projects was done Presently the deployment of virtual development teams is regarded as an indispensable component of software production and its associated sectors with its usage escalating daily. World-changing occurrences and the prevalence of multiple pandemics such as Covid 19 have further accelerated the necessity and adoption rate of virtual development teams. Therefore, a substantial portion of the strategic employment policies in corporations and organizations are based on the framework of employing virtual development teams and remote workforce. Given the advancements in the usage of virtual development teams, especially within the software development and production sector, addressing the issues and challenges associated with their deployment has evolved into a critical and engaging matter for businesses and industries. Identifying and managing key internal and external elements influencing the performance of these teams and formulating and executing a consistent coordination system can engender the essential alignment amongst various human and organizational factors. In this study, these considerations are presented as an integrated coordination system offering businesses and industries assistance in enhancing the performance of their virtual development teams.

Impact of Teleworking and Remote Work on Business: Productivity, Retention, Advancement, and Bottom Line Chandan, Harish Chandra, 2024-04-26 The surge in remote and hybrid work arrangements has sparked a paradigm shift in the employment ecosystem. While remote work offers employees the coveted flexibility and freedom from daily commutes, it also introduces challenges such as isolation, reduced visibility, and questions about productivity. Impact of Teleworking and Remote Work on Business: Productivity, Retention, Advancement, and Bottom Line delves into the multifaceted impact of teleworking on businesses, exploring how different organizations grapple with these challenges, drawing on the experiences of industry giants like Google and IBM. It carefully dissects the advantages and disadvantages of teleworking, addressing distractions, cybersecurity concerns, and the polarized nature of remote work across global and skill dimensions. The book presents an exploration of solutions tailored for diverse stakeholders. From strategies to enhance employee productivity and maintain confidentiality to fostering human connections and tackling the challenges faced by new hires, each chapter offers actionable insights. Employers, employees, and management teams will find guidance on creating a collaborative and innovative remote work culture, mitigating distractions, and striking a balance between work and personal life. The suggested topics span the gamut of remote work intricacies, from the relationship between remote work and job satisfaction to strategies for maintaining connections between managers and remote employees. With small, medium, and large companies, government agencies, and universities as the target audience, the book serves as a strategic guide for entities seeking to harness the potential of remote work while mitigating its challenges.
