Building Tomorrow's Biomedical Workforce: Evaluation of How Evidence-Based Training Programs Align Skill Development and Career Awareness with a Broad Array of Professions Adriana Bankston, Rebekah L. Layton, Audra Van Wart, 2025-08-27 Building the future STEM workforce requires robust federal investments to support the next generation of innovators as well as systemic changes to enable graduate and postdoctoral researchers to transition with confidence into the biomedical workforce. This effort involves the transformation of the biomedical research enterprise and training environment at all levels but especially at the predoctoral and postdoctoral levels. Innovative initiatives in education and training as well as career and professional development of biomedical trainees are necessary to build upon the robust biomedical workforce of today and create and sustain a diverse innovative and highly trained biomedical workforce of tomorrow. An important aspect of supporting the biomedical workforce relates to changes within training and the research enterprise with opportunities for reimagining what STEM education should look like at different levels including providing agency for junior scientists in the field. The future of the field should focus on inclusivity supporting trainees from different backgrounds and with diverse perspectives including but not limited to intersectional identities in race, ethnicity, gender, sexual orientation, first generation status, and international talent in STEM. This requires critical policy changes in order to support the transition of biomedical research professionals into the labor market. My City Links: October 2024 Issue My City Links, 2024-10-10 Celebrated as the triumph of good over evil, Dussehra is again set to enthral everyone with its accompanying pomp and splendour. Our City Fashion section takes a look at a trend that is fast becoming the norm for much of today's younger generation: thrift shopping. Once looked down upon, second-hand clothes now seem to have lost the stigma they were long associated with. Our special feature brings you the lowdown on thrift shopping as we explore how the trend is being seen as a welcome shift towards eco-friendly and sustainable fashion. We also speak to some youngsters to understand what draws them to thrift shopping. Odisha has a rich heritage of folk and tribal songs, and singer Susmita Das has been on a mission to promote them on the global stage.
