AI for School Leaders Vickie F. Echols, 2024 This practical guide helps school leaders leverage the power of AI to explore possible solutions to problems and generate actionable steps toward positive change. Imagine a world where educators can boost their productivity, task management, and overall well-being with the aid of an AI assistant. In this groundbreaking book, an experienced school leader offers practical strategies for leveraging AI to support a more efficient and effective way to work. The 62 strategies in this book will help leaders, including those with limited technical knowledge, use AI tools to address critical aspects of leadership in education, such as collaborative decision making, building relationships, and trust, personalized professional learning, data analysis, and improvement, and parent and community engagement. Featured examples show how using AI can speed up or eliminate administrative tasks, leaving more time for human interaction. With detailed prompts and instructions on how to write them, the book offers fun, innovative ideas that promote work-life balance and sustainable wellness in leadership roles, with strategies for managing workload and fostering personal growth. The book follows a structured format, with each example offering a problem, solution, action steps, acceleration tips, and cautions. Shows how to formulate effective AI prompts that yield accurate and meaningful responses from AI tools. Addresses safety and ethical considerations, highlighting potential risks, challenges, and cautions school leaders need to be aware of when using AI-powered solutions. Whether you're an experienced leader or just starting out, this book equips you with the tools and insights needed to lead with confidence, collaboration, and compassion. Stay ahead of the curve and embrace the transformative potential of AI with this essential resource. Audience: Education leaders and administrators.

of States for AI-enabled Space Activities Stefan-Michael Wedenig, 2025-12-22 Artificial Intelligence AI has permeated our every day lives What once was solely a human task has now been taken over by AI May it be credit card approvals customer support financial transactions medical imaging or software development there is AI working behind the scenes Outer space historically always amongst the most developed domains has not remained untouched for long and space applications have started to increasingly rely on AI However this increase in use also leads to a myriad of legal issues particularly the issue of responsibility and liability under Article VI and Article VII of the Outer Space Treaty and the Liability Convention Our legal norms may they be domestic or international in nature are ultimately built around human behaviour and when applied to AI might not function Should damage caused by an AI enabled space object arise it proves difficult to assess the responsibility of the appropriate State party under Article VI of the Outer Space Treaty or the liability of the launching State While legal literature is primarily concerned with domestic legal issues arising from the use of AI an in depth analysis concerning State responsibility and liability for AI enabled space activities is absent Space legal literature strongly favours a view advocating for the creation of new hard law in form of new binding legal instruments or the amendment of existing law Suggestions de lege ferenda are often relied on by authors Given the inherent difficulty in creating new law or amend existing legal instruments this book proposes to look towards the lex lata and argues that the existing legal norms of State responsibility

State liability and treaty law are sufficient to govern the responsibility of States for their AI enabled space activities The present research looks at these issues from a public international law perspective and proposes a solution within the lex lata
