Twombly's Things Kate Nesin, 2014 Cy Twombly 1928 2011 is widely acknowledged as one of the postwar period's most influential American artists yet his sculptures are little known From 1946 onward he made hundreds of rarely exhibited found object assemblages often painted or plastered over with diverse coatings of white Across decades Twombly thus developed a singular strikingly consistent body of work despite the shifting status of sculpture during his lifetime In this revelatory monograph Kate Nesin first establishes then evaluates the artist's long engagement with the historical and contemporary limits of sculpture both as medium and as word While others have described Twombly's three dimensional works as timeless transcendent and poetic Nesin complicates our sense of their so called poetry focusing on the prosaic conspicuously material operations of these sculptural things and emphasizing the inherent difficulties as well as possibilities of the language used to characterize them Through close readings of individual works and in depth analyses of certain guiding concerns such as surface naming gaps and repetitions she illuminates Twombly's remarkable sculptural practice

Cy Twombly at the Hermitage Cy Twombly, 2003-09 Productive failure Alpesh Kantilal Patel, 2017-07-21 This title sets out to write new transnational South Asian art histories to make visible histories of artworks that remain marginalised within the discipline of art history However this is done through a deliberate productive failure specifically by not upholding the strictly genealogical approach that is regularly assumed for South Asian art histories For instance one chapter explores the abstract work of Cy Twombly and Natvar Bhavsar The author examines whiteness the invisible ground upon which racialized art histories often pivot as a fraught yet productive site for writing art history This book also provides original commentary on how queer theory can deconstruct and provide new approaches for writing art history Overall this title provides methods for generating art history that acknowledge the complex web of factors within which art history is produced and the different forms of knowledge production we might count as art history Cy Twombly Cy Twombly, 1992 A supplement to our 6 volume Cy Twombly Catalogue Raisonné of the Paintings edited by Heiner Bastian this final volume presents previously unrecorded and unpublished works approximately 80 paintings from Twombly's complete span of
