Daguerreotypes and Other Essays Isak Dinesen,1979 Isak Dinesen had an original approach to life that permeated all her work She loved storytelling with the result that most of her essays are quasi narratives which proceed not from major to minor premise but from one anecdote to another as the way of making concrete whatever idea she is considering Her work is a delight and at times a marvel The New Yorker Through these daguerreotypes we begin to understand other periods the renunciations of World War I the purpose of houses and mansions of ritual ceremonials such as tatooing We are given a fresh and vivid view of the women's movement which urges that what our small society needs beyond human beings who have demonstrated what they can do is people who are Indeed our own time she wrote in 1953 can be said to need a revision from doing to being She demonstrated it in her own work and craft with courage and with dignity This collection is as real as a gallery of old daguerreotypes moving and unfaded The work as Hannah Arendt says of a wise woman Robert Kirsch Los Angeles Times These essays have the flavor of good conversation humorous easy personal but not oppressive the distillation of reading thought and experience Their subjects are of surprisingly current interest We need make no concessions to the past need not set our watches back to historical Isak Dinesen was not a faddish thinker In history it is always the human element that has a chance for eternal life Dinesen remarks and she gives these essays their chance Penelope Mesic Chicago

Daguerreotypes and other essays, 1985 Isak Dinesen had an original approach to life that permeated all her work She loved storytelling with the result that most of her essays are guasi narratives which proceed not from major to minor premise but from one anecdote to another as the way of making concrete whatever idea she is considering Her work is a delight and Daguerreotypes, and Other Essays Karen Blixen,1979 at times a marvel The New Yorker Grand Finales Susan Gubar, 2025-06-10 One of our most formidable literary critics explores how nine women artists flourished creatively in their final acts In 2008 academic and scholar Susan Gubar was told by a trusted oncologist that she had only a few years left to live Though she outlived that dire prognosis this brush with mortality refocused her attention on the boons of a longevity she did not expect to experience She began to think In the last years of our lives can we shape and change our creative capabilities The resulting volume Grand Finales answers this question with a resounding yes Despite the losses generally associated with aging quite a few writers painters sculptors musicians and dancers have managed to extend and repurpose their creative energies Gubar spotlights very creative old ladies writers painters sculptors musicians and dancers from the past and in our times Each of Grand Finales nine riveting chapters features women artists George Eliot Colette Georgia O Keeffe Isak Dinesen Marianne Moore Louise Bourgeois Mary Lou Williams Gwendolyn Brooks and Katherine Dunham who transformed the last stage of existence into a rousing conclusion Gubar draws on their late lives and works to suggest that seniority can become a time of reinvention and renewal With pizzazz bravado and geezer machismo she counters the discrediting of elderly women and clarifies the environments relationships activities and attitudes that sponsor a creative old

Isak Dinesen and Narrativity Centre TADAC.,1994 Responding to recent Dinesen scholarship and public exposure age in such films as Out of Africa and Babette's Feast these fourteen original essays discuss and reveal the aesthetic subtlety and The Daguerreotype John Wood,1989 philosophical complexity of Dinesen's art Nordic War Stories Marianne Stecher-Hansen, 2021-02-03 Situated on Europe's northern periphery Denmark Finland Iceland Norway and Sweden found themselves caught between warring powers during World War II Ultimately these nations survived the conflict as sovereign states whose wartime experiences have profoundly shaped their historiography literature cinema and memory cultures Nordic War Stories explores the commonalities and divergences among the five Nordic countries examining national historiographies alongside representations of the war years in canonical literary works travel writing and film media Together they comprise a valuable companion that challenges the myth of Scandinavian homogeneity while demonstrating the powerful influence that the war continues to exert on national identities Of Mottos and Morals Mike W. Martin, 2012-12-13 Whether in slogans catchphrases adages or proverbs we encounter mottos every day but we rarely take time to reflect on them In Of Mottos and Morals Simple Words for Complex Virtues Martin explores the possibility that mottos themselves are worthy of serious thought examining how they contribute to moral guidance and help us grapple with The Creative Dialectic in Karen Blixen's Essays Marianne T. Stecher, 2014-03-06 This new study complexity addresses the provocative essays of Karen Blixen Isak Dinesen an iconic figure in Scandinavia and the Anglo American world Celebrated for her literary tales Karen Blixen's essays offer sagacious reflections on three significant challenges of the twentieth century feminism Nazism and colonialism Karen Blixen 1885 1962 contributed to topical debates in Denmark particularly during the 1950s when her distinct voice on Danish radio became familiar to a nation of listeners Some of her lectures radio addresses and newspaper chronicles were later published as essays and now constitute a distinct genre within her work In this study Blixen's most important essays are critically examined for the first time. The book demonstrates that a creative dialectic informs these essays an interplay of complementary opposites that Blixen sees as fundamental to human life and artistic creativity Whether exploring questions of gender and the status of the feminist movement or the reign of National Socialism in Hitler's Germany or colonial race relations under British rule in East Africa Blixen's observations are insightful witty and surprisingly progressive for an author notable for aristocratic sensibilities Blixen s essays are also framed by a dialectic method which develops an idea by drawing on opposing viewpoints in order to arrive at an original vantage point The Creative Dialectic of Karen Blixen's Essays builds on archival research historical study literary criticism and theory as well as bilingual readings of Blixen's renowned literary work For the first time in an English translation Karen Blixen's essay Blacks and Whites in Africa 1938 by award winning translator Tiina Nunnally appears in this publication Magill's Literary Annual, 1980 Frank Northen Magill, 1980 Reviews of significant fiction and nonfiction published in 1979 Provides coverage for works that are likely to be of particular interest to the general reader that reflect the publishing trends of a

Women's Writing in Exile Mary Lynn Broe, Angela J. C. Ingram, 1989 given year and that will stand up to the test of time These essays explore the varieties of exile women writers in Western culture have experienced over the last hundred years Using a broad range of methodologies the contributors examine the physical sociopolitical canonical and psychological kinds of exile that women endure Landscape and Images John R. Stilgoe, 2015-02-12 John Stilgoe is just looking around This is more difficult than it sounds particularly in our mediated age when advances in both theory and technology too often seek to replace the visual evidence before our own eyes rather than complement it We are surrounded by landscapes charged with our past and yet from our earliest schooldays we are instructed not to stare out the window Someone who stops to look isn t only a rarity he or she is suspect Landscape and Images records a lifetime spent observing America's constructed landscapes Stilgoe's essays follow the eclectic trains of thought that have resulted from his observation from the postcard preference for sunsets over sunrises to the concept of teen geography to the unwillingness of Americans to walk up and down stairs In Stilgoe's hands the subject of jack o lanterns becomes an occasion to explore centuries old concepts of boundaries and trespassing and to examine why this originally pagan symbol has persisted into our own age Even something as mundane as putting the cat out before going to bed is traced back to fears of unwatched animals and an untended frontier fireplace Stilgoe ponders the forgotten connections between politics and painted landscapes and asks why a country whose vast majority lives less than a hundred miles from a coast nonetheless looks to the rural Midwest for the classic image of itself At times breathtaking in their erudition the essays collected here are as meticulously researched as they are elegantly written Stilgoe's observations speak to specialists whether they be artists historians or environmental designers as well as to the common reader Our landscapes constitute a fascinating history of accident and intent The proof says Stilgoe is all around us
