Dahomey The Warrior Kings:

Dahomey Philip Koslow,1997 Explores the history of Dahomey from its beginnings around 1300 through modern times looking at the legends rulers warriors art and religion of the West African kingdom now known as Benin Palace Sculptures of Abomey Francesca Piqué,Leslie H. Rainer,2000-03-16 The Republic of Benin in West Africa is home to more than forty ethnic groups the largest of which is the Fon In the early seventeenth century the Fon established a society ruled by a dynasty of kings who over the years forged the powerful kingdom of Dahomey In their capital city of Abomey they built a remarkable complex of palaces that became the center of the kingdom s political social and religious life The palace walls were decorated with colorful low relief sculptures or bas reliefs which recount legends and battles and glorify the history of the dynasty s reign Over the centuries these visual stories have represented and perpetuated the history and myths of the Fon people The Palace Sculptures of Abomey combines lavish color photographs of the bas reliefs with a lively history of the Dahomey kingdom complemented by period drawings rare historical photographs and colorful textile art The book provides a vivid portrait of these exceptional narrative sculptures and the equally remarkable people who crafted them Also included are a reading of the stories on the walls and details of the four year collaboration between the Benin Ministry of Culture and Communications and the Getty Conservation Institute to conserve the bas reliefs of Abomey Final chapters describe the Historic Museum of Abomey now housed in the palace complex and discuss the continuing popularity of bas reliefs in contemporary West African art Historical Dictionary of Benin Mathurin C. were brought here as slaves but nevertheless established a home for themselves and their descendants a community which often thrived despite persistent racism and environmental pollution In 1860 a ship called the Clotilda was smuggled through the Alabama Gulf Coast carrying the last group of enslaved people ever brought to the U S from West Africa Five years later the shipmates were emancipated but they had no way of getting back home Instead they created their own community outside the city of Mobile where they spoke Yoruba and appointed their own leaders a story chronicled in Zora Neale Hurston s Barracoon That community Africatown has endured to the present day and many of the community residents are the shipmates direct descendants After many decades of neglect and a Jim Crow legal system that targeted the area for industrialization the community is struggling to survive Many community members believe the pollution from the heavy industry surrounding their homes has caused a cancer epidemic among residents and companies are eyeing even more land for development At the same time after the discovery of the remains of the Clotilda in the riverbed nearby a renewed effort is underway to create a living memorial to the community and the lives of the slaves who founded it
