Daily Globe Environmental Change The Public And The Media:

The Daily Globe Joe Smith,2000 Some of the greatest challenges facing humanity such as climate change and biodiversity loss have enormous implications for economic social and environmental security Yet the significance of these issues is not reflected in media reporting Routledge Handbook of Climate Change and Society Constance Lever-Tracy,2010-07-12 As the time scales of natural change accelerate and converge with those of society Routledge Handbook of Climate Change and Society takes the reader into largely uncharted territory in its exploration of anthropogenic climate change Current material is used to highlight the global impact of this issue and the necessity for multidisciplinary and global social science research and teaching to address the problem The book is multidisciplinary and worldwide in scope with contributors spanning specialisms including agro forestry economics environmentalism ethics human geography international relations law politics psychology sociology and theology Their global knowledge is reflected in the content of the text which encompasses chapters on American European and Chinese policies case studies of responses to disasters and of the new technological and lifestyle alternatives that are being adopted and the negotiations leading up to the Copenhagen conference alongside a preface assessing its outcomes Starting with an initial analysis by a leading climatologist key issues discussed in the text include recent findings of natural scientists social causation and vulnerability media and public recognition or scepticism and the merits and difficulties of actions seeking to mitigate and adapt This accessible volume utilizes a wealth of case studies explains technical terms and minimises the use of acronyms associated with the subject making it an essential text for advanced undergraduates postgraduate students and researchers in the social sciences Politics of the Environment Chukwumerije Okereke,2018-12-07 The environment is increasingly seen at the forefront of many political agendas Covering important topics such as the Kyoto protocol and deforestation this book provides extensive coverage of all aspects of environmental politics Essays of around 6 000 words in length make up the bulk of the book Written by notable experts in the field of environmental politics these essays each examine a different aspect of the subject The Sustainability Communication Reader Franzisca Weder,Larissa Krainer,Matthias Karmasin,2021-03-12 The Textbook seeks for an innovative approach to Sustainability Communication as transdisciplinary area of research Following the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals which are intended to transform the world as it is known we seek for a multidisciplinary discussion of the role communication plays in realizing these goals With complementing theoretical approaches and concepts the book offers various perspectives on communication practices and strategies on an individual organizational institutional as well as public level that contribute enable or hinder sustainable development Presented case studies show methodological as well as issue specific challenges in sustainability communication Therefore the book introduces and promotes innovative methods for this specific area of research Climate Change and the Media Tammy Boyce,Justin Lewis,2009 It is now more than a quarter of a century since the Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change published their first comprehensive report on the dangers posed by anthropogenic global warming Over the last twenty five years the weight of evidence about the causes and consequences of climate change has become compelling The solutions are fairly simple we must switch to more sustainable and efficient forms of energy production And yet they remain elusive globally we produce significantly more greenhouse gases now than we did back in 1990 The sad truth is that this inaction has made climate change inevitable the only question that remains is whether we can prevent it spiraling out of control How do we explain this colossal global failure The problem is political rather than scientific we know the risks and we know how to address them but we lack the political will to do so The media are pivotal in this equation they have the power to set the public and the political agenda Climate Change and the Media Volume 2 gathers contributions from a range of international scholars to explore the media's role in our understanding of the problem and our willingness to take action Combined these chapters explain how and why media coverage has to date fallen short in communicating both the science and the politics of climate change They also offer guidance about how the media might shift from being the problem to becoming part of the solution

Environmental Citizenship Andrew Dobson, Derek Bell, 2006 A multidisciplinary consideration of how effective environmental citizenship can be in achieving sustainability with theoretical practical and ethnographic perspectives

Hooked on Growth Douglas E. Booth, 2004-05-03 This accessible and provocative book explores whether getting unhooked from economic growth to meet the needs of the environment is possible Although giving the environment priority over growth may seem radical the author argues that it can be accomplished using marketable emissions allowances transferable development rights and other tools popular with conventional economists It can also be achieved by creating more interesting and environmentally friendly urban landscapes less beholden to the automobile The key problem will be ensuring that everyone who wants employment can find it This will require a transition to a shorter workweek the wistful goal of many a harried worker More leisure a higher quality environment and more attractive cities and towns are the potential rewards of a less consumption oriented society Yet how can the power of special interests be overcome in the name of environmental conservation This is the author's critical final question as he offers a clear path to a sustainable economic and environmental future

United States Media Representational Practices and Anthropogenic Climate Change Maxwell T. Boykoff, 2006

Environment and Planning, 2002 Publishes interdisciplinary research on issues of Government and Policy with an international perspective Committed to a broad range of policy questions not just those related to government and public policy Topics covered include nonstate agents private public collaboration and NGOs nongovernmental organisations All areas of economic social and environmental institutions and policy are included Disciplines from which papers are derived include political science planning geography economics law sociology and public administration

Media, Risk, and Science Stuart Allan, 2002 Author Stuart Allan provides a framework for understanding key debates on how the media represent science and risk Among themes examined are the role of science in science fiction such as Star Trek the problem of pseudo science in The X Files and how science is
