The Way of Transformation Karlfried Graf Durckheim,2006-12-07 The guiding theme of psychotherapist Karlfried Dürckheim's work is that one can become transparent to transcendence. An early Western authority on Zen, he was one of the first to bring its methods to Europe. Incorporating Zen and depth psychology into his practice, Dürckheim was also one of the earliest transpersonal psychologists. His spiritual practice of combining Jung, Meister Eckhart, and Zen proved to lead to moments of higher consciousness which he described as privileged moments. In The Way of Transformation, one of his most concise and profound works, Dürckheim shows that once readers scrape away personal barriers and free the divine spark within, these radiant life-altering occasions can occur at any time. His meditative approach to daily activities turns simple tasks such as making tea, posting a letter, or washing dishes into moments of new awareness. Daily Life as a Spiritual Practice Discovering the Art of Soul Friending Carolyn Gratton,2019-04-09 This friendly, accessible book is about the age-old hunger in human hearts to open and deepen and grow towards faithful intimacy with the Source of all that is. This spiritual journey is radically personal, but it is not meant to be entirely solitary. It can be supported at crucial times by friendship with someone who has learned how to listen through a life of prayer for the guidance of God's Spirit in their own soul and in the soul of another. Long ago in Celtic Christian Ireland, such a person was called an anam cara, a soul friend. Every soul, from time to time, on its mysterious trek towards union with God, needs a human friend for encouragement on the way. In Discovering the Art of Soul Friending, Carolyn Gratton invites us to say yes to the ability to share with another and to disclose something of oneself on each seeker's journey towards union with God. Enriched by a lifetime of insights gained from educating groups around the world, she guides aspiring spiritual companions to a discernment of their own level of spiritual maturity, sensitivity in the art of spiritual guidance, and to a seeker's desires: the soil from which their truest love can spring, a commitment to prayer, and the transformation of consciousness. It makes possible rootedness in their own faith tradition and throughout life, an openness to the expanded perceptions possible in our multicultural world. Carolyn completes each chapter with what she calls a Book Providence section, an annotated bibliography of resources that can expand the discernment skills and contextual awareness of potential soul friends. Phenomenology and Intercultural Understanding Kwok-Ying Lau,2016-09-29 This book approaches the topic of intercultural understanding in philosophy from a phenomenological perspective. It provides a bridge between Western and Eastern philosophy through in-depth discussion of concepts and doctrines of phenomenology and ancient and contemporary Chinese philosophy. Phenomenological readings of Daoist and Buddhist philosophies are provided; the reader will find a study of theoretical and methodological issues and innovative readings of traditional Chinese and Indian philosophies from the phenomenological perspective The author uses a descriptive rigor to avoid cultural prejudices and provides a non Eurocentric conception and practice of philosophy Through this East West comparative study a compelling criticism of a Eurocentric conception of philosophy emerges New concepts and methods in intercultural philosophy are proposed through these chapters Researchers teachers post graduates and students of philosophy will all find this work intriguing and those with an interest in non Western philosophy or phenomenology will find it particularly engaging

Studying Christian Spirituality David B. Ames, 2024-10-01 In Living Chinese Philosophy Roger T Ames uses comparative cultural hermeneutics as a method for contrasting classical Greek ontology the science of being in itself with classical Chinese zoetology the art of living which is made explicit in the Yijing or Book of Changes Parmenides Plato and Aristotle give us a substance ontology grounded in being qua being or being per se to one that guarantees a permanent and unchanging subject as the substratum for the human experience This substratum or essence includes its purpose for being telos and defines the what it means to be a thing of this kind eidos of any particular thing thus setting a closed exclusive boundary and the strict identity necessary for a particular thing to be this and not that In the Book of Changes we find a vocabulary that makes explicit cosmological assumptions that are a stark alternative to this substance ontology It also provides the interpretive context for the canonical texts by locating them within a holistic organic and ecological worldview To provide a meaningful contrast with this fundamental assumption of one or being we might borrow the Greek notion of zoe or life and create the neologism zoe tology as the art of living shengshenglun This cosmology begins from living sheng itself as the motive force behind change and gives us a world of boundless becomings not things that are but events that are happening a contrast between an ontological conception of human beings and a process conception of what the author calls human becomings Studies in Formative Spirituality ,1980 Zen and Us Graf Karlfried Dürckheim,1987
