Discourse Markers in Interaction Maria-Josep Cuenca,Liesbeth Degand,2022-09-06 The aim of this volume is to bring together researchers interested in investigating the role that Discourse Markers play in language production and comprehension from an experimental or corpus based perspective In any kind of human communication Discourse Markers are part of the game This omnipresence informs us of a crucial inherent aspect of human language Yet as a linguistic category Discourse Markers remain underdetermined To gain deeper insight into this complex linguistic category more systematic work is needed on the production and on the interpretation of Discourse Markers in a variety of situational settings resorting to different methodological approaches The contributions in this volume aim at drawing more attention to the double face of Discourse Markers namely as signals intentionally used by the speaker to facilitate the addressee s interpretation of the discourse but also as potential traces of the speaker s production difficulties The combination of experimental and corpus based approaches and the focus on processing of Discourse Markers in both production and comprehension makes this volume a unique contribution in answering the question why we use Discourse Markers in certain situations but also when we do not Analysis of Neurogenic Disordered Discourse Production Anthony Pak-Hin

Kong,2022-03-07 Analysis of discourse production among speakers with acquired communication disorders is an important and necessary clinical procedure This book provides a comprehensive review and discussion of aphasia and its related disorders their corresponding clinical discourse symptoms that speech and language pathologists should address and the different methods of discourse elicitation that are clinically and research oriented This edition has been thoroughly updated throughout to include the latest research including advances in word retrieval and discourse production cognitive and multicultural aspects of disordered discourse production application of technology to understand and evaluate spoken discourse and evidence based intervention of discourse impairments Contemporary issues related to disordered clinical discourse elicitation are added Recent advancement in discourse analysis is covered and discussions of various treatment options of discourse symptoms are provided Finally the manifestation of discourse symptoms as a function of speakers multilingual multi cultural status and specific considerations related to clinical assessment and remediation are explored As the only introductory text to include comprehensive coverage of basic knowledge of neurogenic disordered discourse it is a must read for students clinicians and researchers in various fields Readers will also benefit from plenty of examples that provide a connection between the theoretical contents presented in the text and application to real life contexts of discourse production

Cognitive Aging Denise Park, Nobert Schwarz, 2012-12-06 As our society ages the topic of cognitive aging is becoming increasingly important This volume provides an accessible overview of how the cognitive system changes as a function of normal aging Building on the successful first edition this volume provide an even more comprehensive coverage of the major issues affecting memory attention language speech and other aspects of cognitive functioning The essential chapters from the first edition have been thoroughly revised and updated and new chapters have been introduced which draw in neuroscience studies and more applied topics In addition contributors were encouraged to ensure their chapters are accessible to students studying the topic for the first time This therefore makes the volume appealing as a textbook on senior undergraduate and graduate courses

Discourse Comprehension and Production Robert J. Tierney, James Mosenthal, University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign. Center for the Study of Reading, National Institute of Education (U.S.), 1980 Handbook of Discourse Analysis: Dimensions of discourse Teun A. van Dijk, 1985 Processing interclausal Relationships Jean Costermans, Michel Fayol, 2014-03-18 During the last 10 years more and more linguistic and psycholinguistic research has been devoted to the study of discourse and written texts Much of this research deals with the markers that underline the connections and the breaks between clauses and sentences plus the use of these markers by adults and children in the production and comprehension of oral and written material In this volume major observations and theoretical views from both sides of the Atlantic are brought together to appeal to a wide range of linguists psychologists and speech therapists The volume presents contributions from researchers interested specifically in adult language and from others concerned with developmental aspects of language Some contributors deal primarily with production whereas others concentrate on comprehension Some direct their attention to oral discourse while others focus on written texts To preserve overall coherence however the contributors were given the following recommendations With regard to the level of linguistic analysis the emphasis should be on the clause level more particularly on the relationships between clauses Special emphasis should also be placed on linguistic markers e.g connectives markers of segmentation punctuation An overview of a given field of research should be offered and current research should be put into perspective For contributors in the developmental field attention should be paid to the fact that an account of the acquisition of some language functions throughout childhood should be included only if general principles of interclause relations that might be masked by the exclusive examination of adult evidence could be derived from it

Speech Production Vanda L. Zammuner, 1981 Speech Production Wouter Hulstijn, Herman F. M. Peters, Pascal H. H. M.
