Discourse Adjectives:

Discourse Adjectives Gina Taranto, 2013-10-15 First Published in 2006 This volume introduces and provides a semantic analysis of Discourse Adjectives a natural class of adjectives that the author argues includes apparent clear evident and obvious among its prototypical members With a main claim that Discourse Adjectives do not provide information about the facts of the world Rather they are used by interlocutors to negotiate the status of propositions in a discourse Adjectives

and Adverbs Louise McNally, Christopher Kennedy, 2008-03-27 In this volume leading researchers present new work on the semantics and pragmatics of adjectives and adverbs and their interfaces with syntax Its concerns include the semantics of gradability the relationship between adjectival scales and verbal aspect the relationship between meaning and the positions of adjectives and adverbs in nominal and verbal projections and the fine grained semantics of different subclasses of adverbs and adverbs Its goals are to provide a comprehensive vision of the linguistically significant structural and interpretive properties of adjectives and adverbs to highlight the similarities between these two categories and to signal the importance of a careful and detailed integration of lexical and compositional semantics The editors open the book with an overview of current research before introducing and contextualizing the remaining chapters The work is aimed at scholars and advanced students of syntax semantics formal pragmatics and discourse It will also appeal to researchers in philosophy psycholinguistics and language acquisition interested in the syntax and semantics of adjectives and adverbs Discourse Adjectives Gina Christine Taranto, 2003 Postmodifying Attributive Adjectives in English Lars M. Blöhdorn, 2009 This study investigates three different postmodifying adjective constructions in the English language While English adjectives generally precede the entities they modify they may also occur in postmodifying position This study assumes that the different postmodifying constructions are a positional variation of attributive premodification The support for this claim is derived from a detailed analysis of the general syntax and semantics of adjectives as well as a cross check of previous theories with a wide range of actual language examples taken from computerized corpora An approach from the Prague School Functional Sentence Perspective enables this study to accomplish an integrated view of adjectival postmodification

The parts of speech. Section I. A, Nouns, adjectives and articles. B, Pronouns and numerals. Section II, The verb and the particles Hendrik Poutsma, 1914 Variation Across Speech and Writing Douglas Biber, 1991-12-19 Similarities and differences between speech and writing have been the subject of innumerable studies but until now there has been no attempt to provide a unified linguistic analysis of the whole range of spoken and written registers in English In this widely acclaimed empirical study Douglas Biber uses computational techniques to analyse the linguistic characteristics of twenty three spoken and written genres enabling identification of the basic underlying dimensions of variation in English In Variation Across Speech and Writing six dimensions of variation are identified through a factor analysis on the basis of linguistic co occurrence patterns The resulting model of variation provides for the description of the distinctive linguistic characteristics of any spoken or written text and demonstrates the ways in which the polarization of speech and writing has been misleading and thus enables reconciliation of the contradictory conclusions reached in previous research

Teaching Academic ESL Writing Eli Hinkel, 2003-10-17 Teaching Academic ESL Writing Practical Techniques in Vocabulary and Grammar fills an important gap in teacher professional preparation by focusing on the grammatical and lexical features that are essential for all ESL writing teachers and student writers to know The fundamental assumption is that before students of English for academic purposes can begin to successfully produce academic writing they must have the foundations of language in place the language tools grammar and vocabulary they need to build a text This text offers a compendium of techniques for teaching writing grammar and lexis to second language learners that will help teachers effectively target specific problem areas of students writing Based on the findings of current research including a large scale study of close to 1 500 non native speakers essays this book works with several sets of simple rules that collectively can make a noticeable and important difference in the quality of ESL students writing The teaching strategies and techniques are based on a highly practical principle for efficiently and successfully maximizing learners language gains Part I provides the background for the text and a sample of course curriculum guidelines to meet the learning needs of second language teachers of writing and second language writers Parts II and III include the key elements of classroom teaching what to teach and why possible ways to teach the material in the classroom common errors found in student prose and ways to teach students to avoid them teaching activities and suggestions and questions for discussion in a teacher training course Appendices to chapters provide supplementary word and phrase lists collocations sentence chunks and diagrams that teachers can use as needed The book is designed as a text for courses that prepare teachers to work with post secondary EAP students and as a professional resource for teachers of students in EAP courses
