Discourses Of Desire Gender Genre And Epistolary Fictions:

Discourses of Desire Linda S. Kauffman, 1988 Kauffman looks at a neglected genre the love letter written by literary heroines Tracing the development of the genre from Ovid to the twentieth century novel she explores the important implications of these amatory discourses for an understanding of fictive representation in general The Ideology of Genre Thomas O. Beebe, 2010-11 In a series of comparative essays on a range of texts embracing both high and popular culture from the early modern era to the contemporary period The Ideology of Genre counters both formalists and advocates of the if genres exist on the other hand then they exist not as essences but as differences and thus those places within and between texts where genres collide reveal the connections between generic status interpretive strategy ideology and the use value of language Performing Privacy and Gender in Early Modern Literature M. Trull, 2013-05-07 This book argues that the early modern public private boundary was surprisingly dynamic and flexible in early modern literature drawing upon authors including Shakespeare Anne Lock Mary Wroth and Aphra Behn and genres including lyric poetry drama prose fiction and household orders An epilogue discusses postmodern privacy in digital media Greek Fiction J. R. Morgan, Richard Stoneman, 2013-11-19 First published in 1994 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company

Encyclopedia of Life Writing Margaretta Jolly, 2013-12-04 First published in 2001 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company Presenting Gender Chris Mounsey, 2001 A collection of essays that concerns writers or real people of the early modern period who presented their protagonists or themselves as members of the opposite biological sex The collection demonstrates the variety of motives for such acts of gender passing and offers interpretations that shed some light on the probable intentions of the gender passers Early Modern Emotions Susan Broomhall, 2016-12-08 Early Modern Emotions is a student friendly introduction to the concepts approaches and sources used to study emotions in early modern Europe and to the perspectives that analysis of the history of emotions can offer early modern studies more broadly The volume is divided into four sections that guide students through the key processes and practices employed in current research on the history of emotions The first explains how key terms and concepts in the study of emotions relate to early modern Europe while the second focuses on the unique ways in which emotions were conceptualized at the time The third section introduces a range of sources and methodologies that are used to analyse early modern emotions The final section includes a wide ranging selection of thematic topics covering war religion family politics art music literature and the non human world to show how analysis of emotions may offer new perspectives on the early modern period more broadly Each section offers bite sized accessible commentaries providing students new to the history of emotions with the tools to begin their own investigations Each entry is supported by annotated further reading recommendations pointing students to the latest research in that area and at the end of the book is a general bibliography which provides a comprehensive list of current scholarship This book is the perfect starting point for any student wishing to study emotions in early modern Europe

Epistolarity in a Post-Letter World Sindija Franzetti, 2024-11-18 The study intervenes in a field hitherto dominated by formal and historical analyses of the literary letter Across the five case studies the method of reading epistolarity as a motif is applied to a selection of American novels published after 1990 Nick Bantock's Griffin Lish and Dunn test the limitations of letters for conveying individual experience to a distant other Robinson and Erdrich envision epistolarity as an address to a future Exploring the employment of epistolarity as a motif the study offers an interpretation of the messages these fictions extend for readers in a post letter world Communication technologies and practices may change but epistolarity as a motif a reprise of a scene of encounter that depends on keeping a distance between addresser and addressee remains a deeply compelling site of inquiry in twenty first century literature

Discourses of Authority in Medieval and Renaissance

Literature Kevin Brownlee, Walter Stephens, 1989 Twelve distinguished scholars examine the question of authority in literature from the 12th to the 16th century Specialists in Italian French Spanish offer close readings of literary philosophical texts provide a variety of critical theoretical approaches including authorial self canon formation counterfeit intertextuality historical context

Gender and Genre in Gertrude Stein Franziska Gygax, 1998-11-30 Gertrude Stein's works encompass a variety of genres She explicitly called many of her works plays operas or novels intending her works to be read with certain generic expectations in mind but only to have them undermined Although many writers depart from generic norms Stein's generic transgressions are radical and are related to gender specific traits of her writing This work examines Stein's questions about gender hierarchies classifications and categories and brings to light the direct relationship between gender and genre in her works Gygax looks at a number of Stein's texts including Ida A Novel A Circular Play Everybody's Autobiography The Geographical History of America and Blood on the Dining Room Floor which Stein called a detective story Readers bring to a text a set of expectations often relating to its genre A novel for example is expected to share certain features with other novels which is why it is not considered a play But these distinctions are difficult to make and writers often depart from generic conventions for the sake of being innovative Generic expectations also closely relate to gender For example an autobiography may be read in light of the gender of the author Like various genres gender brings with it certain expectations which are largely determined by social values Some individuals transgress the conventional bounds of gender roles just as some works of literature go beyond traditional generic frames The works of Gertrude Stein typically challenge the expectations of both gender and genre As a lesbian writer Stein was acutely aware of society's expectations with respect to gender And in her writings she is clearly concerned with genre She explicitly calls many of her works plays operas or novels intending them to be read with certain generic expectations in mind only to transgress traditional generic expectations Gygax explores why Stein was inevitably confronted with questions about gender and generic categories Including a number of Stein's theoretical statements about writing this insightful book illuminates the relationship between gender and genre in her works that woman artists have represented themselves and their life stories Renaissance Postscripts Paul White, 2009 Helen Hooven Santmyer's tribute to her hometown of Xenia Ohio is even more valuable in light of the 1974 tornado that destroyed much of the community But its life and history are preserved in Ohio Town now available in paperback More than 20 illustrations included for the first time in this edition enhance the text Eleanor Marx (1855-1898) John Stokes, 2000 In a dozen newly commissioned essays British scholars of literature and women's studies explore the achievements of Karl Marx's youngest daughter as a feminist and radical socialist aspiring actress working journalist and literary translator They discuss such topics as revisiting Edward Aveling Sites of the Spectator Suzanne Rodin Pucci, 2001 The Spectator is a major figure of the French Enlightenment whose far reaching significance has not been fully grasped As a basic organising principle of culture production in France of the early and mid eighteenth century the Spectator is an intermediary figure residing between the ancien régime and France of the Revolution This transitional moment can be read in and furthermore was prepared by the emergence of several new literary genres in which paradoxically a Spectator was allotted the principle role This study traces the process in which the king's disenfranchised subjects at first limited merely to looking on at the spectacle of royal authority and privilege began to evolve through versatile Spectator roles into citizen subjects Each of four chapters reveals the significance of these figures to the development of a particular genre or disciplinary formation Spectator journalism art criticism fiction of voyage and the exotic and alternative popular theater the théâtre de la joie These genres designate the Spectator as constituting the narrative thematic textual focus that articulates contemporary life foreign exotic cultures art objects and knowledge itself In the shift from a silent near invisible audience to a more active more sharply delineated entity of Spectators for whom and in function of whom not only literary and social production but the monarchy itself were increasingly obliged to perform a vital and as yet untold story of early and mid eighteenth century culture is recounted The Discrepancy Between the Public and the Private Selves of Indonesian Women Soe Tjen Marching, 2007 This study investigates public and private representations of identities of Indonesian women in the New Order period 1967-1998 in the form of published autobiographies and unpublished diaries collected during fieldwork During the New Order era the government tried to indoctrinate conservative ideas about gender using various media While autobiographies published in New Order Indonesia did not have the freedom to challenge the authoritative eye those women who produced such works are still perceived as exerting their individuality and criticizing however indirectly the social conditions surrounding them In the unpublished diaries considered although the authors are more vocal in their dissension nevertheless one discovers the reflection of patriarchal values in Indonesia Refiguring the Father Patricia Yaeger, Elizabeth Kowaleski-Wallace, 1989 An exciting investigation of the ways literary and cultural texts have not only shaped the difficult terms of the daughter father relationship but also prescribed a role for fathers that is paradoxical and contradictory These 15 essays seek to enter into a new dialogue with both the tenets of patriarchy and with the initiating symbolic gestures of feminist discourse that have helped to maintain the father's voracious and hierarchical position in western culture. The problem is not simply to change the focus of feminist inquiry from father as center to mother as center but to reinvent the discourse of the father to unsettle an oedipal dialectic that insists on revealing the father as the gaze as bodilessness or as the symbolic and to develop a new dialectic that refuses to describe the father function as if it were univocal and ahistorical. Ambivalence, Ambiguity and Androgyny in Théophile Gautier's Mademoiselle de Maupin Janet Sadoff, 1987 The Journal of Narrative Technique, 1989 Ovid: Love Songs Genevieve Liveley, 2005-10-28. The most prolific of Roman poets Ovid was born in 43 BC and died in exile on the Black Sea in 17 AD banished by the Emperor Augustus. As well as his famous Metamorphoses the subject of another book in this series he produced a large body of elegiac poetry: the Amores, Ars Amatoria, Remedia Amoris, Heroides, Fasti, Tristia and Ex Ponto all of which are accessibly discussed here in Genevieve Liveley's important re-evaluation of the poet's politics, poetics and erotics. She examines the impact on Ovid of Augustus' programmes for social and political reform, the role of genre allusion and intertextuality in his writings and the tensions underlying his representations of gender and sexuality. Finally she assesses responses to Ovid's elegiac works by later love poets and writers and reflects on the continued relevance and readability of his work for a twenty-first century audience.
