DISCOVERING SHI' I ISLAM

Mohammad Ali Shomali,2004 The present work is a summarized version of Shi i Islam Origins Faith and Practices 2003 ICAS Press by the same author This shorter version aims to briefly address main issues related to Islam in general and Shi i Islam in particular These two works represent a modest attempt to fill some of the gaps that exist in the field of Islamic studies in general and Shi i studies in particular Though simply and clearly written they are outcomes of more than twenty years of involvement in Islamic studies and based to some extent on two series of lectures about Shi i Islam delivered to English speaking audiences a first set of some fifty lectures delivered at Jami at al Zahra a prominent Islamic seminary for women in Qum Iran in 1995 and 1996 and a second set of some thirty lectures delivered at the Manchester Islamic Institute and the Shi a Welfare Centre in Manchester England in 1998 and 1999 The first chapter begins by expounding both the literal and technical meanings of the term Shi a and references are made to statements of famous scholars in this regard Then it proceeds to study the origins of Shi i Islam and how it became established The second chapter studies the sources of Shi'i thought i.e. the Qur'an the Sunnah reason and consensus Discussing 6 the status of the Qur'an the chapter goes on to establish that the Shi'a like other Muslims believe that the Qur'an which is present today is an embodiment of divine revelation to the Prophet Muhammad The chapter continues by explaining the second most important source i.e. the Sunnah which includes the sayings and actions of the Prophet Muhammad The Qur'an itself asks Muslims to take the Prophet as their role model to refer to him to judge and settle their conflicts and speaks of the Prophet as the one who recites teaches and explains the Qur'an In this chapter there is also a discussion about the household of the Prophet Ahlul Bayt and their role in presenting the Sunnah Then there follows a discussion about the importance of reason and its role in understanding Islamic beliefs values and practical laws Finally there is a discussion about legal consensus and how it is viewed with respect to the Sunnah in the Shi'i teachings The third chapter studies fundamental doctrines of the Shi'i faith Along with Unity of God prophethood and resurrection which constitute the principles of religion for Islam and other divine religions some important additional doctrines such as divine justice and imamate are studied These doctrines may partly be shared by other Muslims but the Shi'a are those who believe in all of them The fourth chapter is a very brief account of Shi'i practices along with brief references to the objectives and principles underlying them These practices are in principle shared by all Muslims though there may be some differences in particulars among different Islamic schools The fifth and final chapter is a short discussion about the Shi'a world today This chapter starts with a brief account of 7 the latest statistics about the present Muslim and Shi'i population of the world There is also a breakdown of religious affiliations of some countries with a long history of Shi'i presence Although there are no accurate and approved statistics on the current Shi'a population in the world efforts have been made here to collect the best available

Islam Sue Penney,1997 Ecologists although they acknowledge the problems involved generally conduct their research on too few species in too small an area over too short a period of time In The Balance of Nature a work sure to stir controversy the distinguished theoretical ecologist Stuart L Pimm argues that ecology therefore fails in many ways to address the enormous ecological problems now facing our planet Ecologists describing phenomena on larger scales often use terms like stability balance of nature and fragility and Pimm begins by considering the various specific meanings of these terms He addresses five kinds of ecological stability stability in the strict sense resilience variability persistence and resistance and shows how they provide ways of comparing natural populations and communities as well as theories about them Each type of stability depends on characteristics of the species studied and also on the structure of the food web in which the species is embedded and the physical features of the environment The Balance of Nature provides theoretical ecology with a rich array of questions questions that also underpin pressing problems in practical conservation biology Pimm calls for nothing less than new approaches to ecology and a new alliance between theoretical and empirical studies

international experts in education sociology and theology who consider a range of challenges faced by educators in primary and secondary schools that are becoming increasingly diverse in terms of the ethnic and religious backgrounds of pupils From the non religious to the refugee to student fundamentalism and even radicalization these multiple fresh approaches analyze the dynamics of the changing pedagogical landscape in an age of ever increasing globalization and cultural plurality Today s classrooms are often the most crucial spaces where children and adolescents encounter new cultural religious and other worldviews Increasingly teachers are called on to empower their pupils with the tools and competencies necessary to reflect on and process this plurality in ways that are productive for their intellectual growth and moral maturation Regional case studies provide extensive data while offering insights into developments in school settings across Europe in Turkey and in the United States In addition a number of the contributions address the delivery content and policies of Islamic Religious Education in European contexts the educational strategies employed in multi religious societies and interreligious dialogue in schools whether intentional or spontaneous

History of the Muslim Discovery of the World Dzavid Haveric,2012 For centuries Islam as a universal religion was among the world s greatest enlightenedand most creative cultural forces as well as a powerful and splendid civilisation In his thoughtful and comprehensive book Dzavid Haveric explores the rise and further development of the Islamic civilisation Using a multidisciplinary approach especially historical and historiographical the author includes a wide range of sources with his focal point on Islamic civilisation This cultural history surveys the magnificent discoveries and achievements of the Muslims from the 7th to the 15th centuries The book demonstrates that the Muslim discoveries of various parts of the globe particularly during the Golden Age of Islamic civilisation played an important part in history By exploring Islamic civilisation within the plurality of civilisations this work puts forward a very distinct point of view The author presents a balanced look at the cultural religious diversity and interaction of civilisations It outlines the interaction of Islamic civilisation with various ancient civilisations and other civilisations that also emerged or flourished In his observations the author illuminates the Islamic contribution to world history and also it includes many values and the riches of different civilisations beliefs and cultures of the world This work is a treasure of fascinating facts and a source of important information It is also a blend of scholarship and dedication and a timely contribution to Islamic cultural history comparative civilisations multi faith relations and cosmopolitanism

Discovering Islam Akbar S. Ahmed,1993 Discovering Islam Akbar Salahudin Ahmed,1988 Exploring the Religions of Our World Nancy Clemmons,2008 Exploring the Religions of

Our World allows students to build on their understanding and experience of the Catholic Christian faith by studying different religious traditions. The text begins with a study of Judeo Christian history, practice and tradition before expanding to the study of other less familiar religions including Islam, Hinduism, Buddhism, Taoism, Confucianism and Shintoism. The text moves on to uncover a variety of religious traditions that sprang from America's Protestant roots including Mormonism, Jehovah's Witnesses and the Church of Christ Scientist. Each chapter begins with an introduction that connects each religion to a contemporary person, practice or teaching. A brief history follows including information on the founder and other major figures in each respective religion. Other sections include those on scripture or major writings, beliefs and practices and sacred places and sacred times. Each chapter ends with a Catholic apologetic focus and includes a look at ecumenical or interreligious dialogue between the Catholic Church and each particular religion. Similarities and distinctions in doctrines, traditions and practices are also explored. This text was written in accordance with the U.S. Bishops Curriculum Framework and follows Elective E: Ecumenical and Interreligious Issues.
