Dismantling The Playground:

Dismantling the Playground Mindy Kronenberg, 1994-12 Physical education series (United States. Bureau of education). no. 1-6, 1923-25, 1923 The School I'd Like Catherine Burke, Ian Grosvenor, 2003-12-08 In 2001 The Guardian launched a competition called The School I'd Like in which young people were asked to imagine their ideal school This vibrant groundbreaking book presents material drawn from that competition offering a unique snapshot of perceptions of today's schools by those who matter most the pupils The book is wonderfully illuminated by children's essays stories poems pictures and plans Placing their views in the centre of the debate it provides an evaluation of the democratic processes involved in teaching and learning by identifying consistencies in children's expressions of how they wish to learn highlighting particular sites of disease in the education system today illustrating how the built environment is experienced by today's children posing questions about the reconstruction of teaching and learning for the twenty first century This book offers a powerful new perspective on school reform and is essential reading for all those involved in education and childhood studies including teachers advisors policy makers academics and anyone who believes that children's voices should not be ignored The School I'd Like: Revisited Catherine Burke, Ian Grosvenor, 2015-06-11 Wonderfully illuminated by children's essays stories poems pictures and plans this ground breaking book offers a unique snapshot of the perceptions of today's school pupils French bookstore Lavoisier www.lavoisier.fr In 2001 The Guardian launched a ground breaking competition called The School I'd Like in which young people were asked to imagine their ideal school This vibrant and compelling book presents material drawn from that competition offering a unique snapshot of perceptions of schools by those who matter most the pupils In 2011 The Guardian re launched the competition and this updated 2nd edition reflects upon the next generation of reflections and summarises through the children's insightful commentary what has changed over the intervening decade The book is wonderfully illustrated by children's essays stories poems pictures and plans Placing their views in the centre of the debate it provides an evaluation of the democratic processes involved in teaching and learning by identifying consistencies in children's expressions of how they wish to learn highlighting particular sites of disease in the education system today illustrating how the built environment is experienced by today's children posing questions about the reconstruction of teaching and learning for the twenty first century The School I'd Like Revisited offers a powerful perspective on school reform and is essential reading for all those involved in education and childhood studies including teachers advisors policy makers academics and anyone who believes that children's voices should not be ignored

Municipal Research, 1913 Risk and Safety in Play Dave Potter, 2003-10-04 Produced by PLAYLINK a registered charity which assists local communities to create adventure playgrounds for children Established in 1962 PLAYLINK is recognised as the national authority on good practice for play provision of this type This essential handbook draws on PLAYLINK's 35 years experience with adventure playgrounds introduces recent changes to legislation and gives guidance on the interpretation of legal responsibilities It is intended for all those working as play officers playworkers playground designers or consultants in supervised play provision legal advisers and regulatory authorities It will also be of interest to anyone involved in leisure and recreation management and the design and construction of sports facilities Annual Report of the Department of Parks, City of Syracuse, N.Y. Syracuse (N.Y.). Dept. of Parks, 1918 Records & Briefs New York State Appellate Division, Believing Aloud Mark Douglas, 2010-09-15 In the fall of 2006 Mark Douglas a professor of Christian ethics was invited to write weekly editorials for a secular newspaper Surprisingly his editor placed no limits around either the content or the rhetoric of those editorials This book offers Professor Douglas's reflections on that work and the editorials themselves Taken together they model a particular vision of Christian engagement in the public sphere This book offers a single sustained argument about why and how the Christian faith should shape the public lives of its adherents Both the reflections and the editorials model various aspects of that argument At the center of this book's argument are the Christian virtues of faith hope and love Douglas begins by arguing not only that faith matters in the public sphere but describing how this is so He then describes the way hope shapes a worldview through which to interpret public life Finally the virtue of love informs the practices of a life in which Christians learn to believe aloud Many recent books have made the case that it is important for people of faith to engage in matters of public interest this one actually shows how one person has done so Ball State University Forum Ball State University, 1988 Driven from New Orleans John Arena, 2012-07-31 In the early 1980s the tenant leaders of the New Orleans St Thomas public housing development and their activist allies were militant uncompromising defenders of the city's public housing communities Yet ten years later these same leaders became actively involved in a planning effort to privatize and downsize their community an effort that would drastically reduce the number of affordable apartments What happened John Arena a longtime community and labor activist in New Orleans explores this drastic change in Driven from New Orleans exposing the social disaster visited on the city's black urban poor long before the natural disaster of Katrina magnified their plight Arena argues that the key to understanding New Orleans's public housing transformation from public to private is the co-optation of grassroots activists into a government and foundation funded nonprofit complex He shows how the nonprofit model created new political allegiances and financial benefits for activists moving them into a strategy of insider negotiations that put the profit making agenda of real estate interests above the material needs of black public housing residents In their turn white developers and the city's black political elite embraced this newfound political realism because it legitimized the regressive policies of removing poor people and massively downsizing public housing all in the guise of creating a new racially integrated mixed income community In tracing how this shift occurred Driven from New Orleans reveals the true nature and the true cost of reforms promoted by an alliance of a neoliberal government nonprofits community activists and powerful real estate interests Forum, 1988 School, 1924 Supreme Court, Progrès récent dans les sciences de la mer, 1984 Margaret Haley's Bulletin
