Corruption and Economic Growth in Africa David N. Abdulai,2023-12-28 Corruption is one of the major challenges impeding Africa s growth and development efforts and its impact is much more pronounced at this point of the continent s development trajectory Corruption has political economic and social consequences and this book argues that any efforts to help Africa grow and develop must prioritise the fight against it so that the aid and funding given for projects in the region can continue to be sustained The book also tackles the issue of national security and instability caused by corruption The author argues that progress cannot happen in countries and environments where instability exists and persists Corruption in Africa has contributed to instability and other national security challenges especially in fragile states on the continent The book starts by looking at the three major types of corruption petty grand and systemic and then goes on to address the different categories of corruption such as bureaucratic legislative political as well as public and private sector aspects It also deals with common forms of corruption as well as some of the causes such as bad governance and excessive greed to mention a few Further it critically examines how current political systems on the continent contribute to this condition The book argues that some of the solutions that have been proposed to date are not viable or have not worked in practice and through applied research offers workable solutions that policy makers African politicians academics and students of economics and development can use as a reference guide in the fight against corruption African Books in Print ,1978 The African Book Publishing Record ,2002 Anti-Money Laundering Compliance and the Legal Profession Sarah

Kebbell,2021-11-29 Money laundering is a global issue and there is evidence that the services provided by the legal profession may be misused to launder the proceeds of crime This book explores the experiences of professionals within Top 50 law firms when seeking to comply with the UK s anti money laundering AML regime The book draws upon empirical evidence from 40 in depth interviews with solicitors and compliance personnel from 20 Top 50 law firms Access to this section of the legal profession is challenging in the context of academic research and the research provides an account seldom heard in academic literature directly from practitioners The book uses these research findings to explore and discuss the AML compliance issues faced by this section of the profession It highlights the challenges presented by the legislative architecture of the Proceeds of Crime Act 2002 and considers compliance issues relating to customer due diligence AML training the client account and the suspicious activity reporting regime It also considers participants perceptions of the regime their role within it and their own assessment of money laundering risk It concludes by using this evidence to recommend amendments to current AML policy and legislation This book will be of interest to students and researchers studying Financial Crime Law Business and Company Law and White Collar Crime as well as policy makers in the areas of money laundering compliance and corruption Corruption, Social Sciences and the Law Jane Ellis, 2019-04-25 The problem of corruption however described dates back thousands of years Professionals working in areas such as development studies economics and political studies were the first to most actively analyse and publish on the topic of corruption and its negative impacts on economies societies and politics There was at that time minimal literature available on corruption and the law The literature and discussion on bribery and corruption as well as on the negative impact of each and what is required to address them particularly in the legal context are now considerable Corruption and anti corruption are multifaceted and multi disciplinary The focus now on the law and compliance and perhaps commercial incentives is relatively easy However corruption anti corruption and the motivations for them are complex If we continue to discuss debate engage address corruption and anti corruption in our own disciplinary silos we are unlikely to significantly progress the fight against corruption What do terms such as culture of integrity demand accountability transparency and accountability and ethical corporate culture dominating the anti corruption discourse mean if anything in other disciplines If they are meaningless what approach would practitioners in those other disciplines suggest be adopted to address corruption What has their experience been in the field How can the work of each discipline contribute to the work of whole and as such improve our work in and understanding of anti corruption This book seeks to answer these questions and to understand the phenomenon more comprehensively It will be of value to researchers academics lawyers legislators and students in the fields of law

Adebayo, 2012-08-31 The democratization process which bolstered a culture of periodic elections has also fostered election related violent conflicts As democratic transitions gained currency in the new millennium orderly transitions through the ballot boxes began replacing military coups but deaths and destructions came in the wake of elections in many countries Inspired by decades long pro democracy movements across Africa that culminated in the Arab Spring of 2010 2011 and motivated by the desire to find long term solutions to election related violent conflicts in the continent this book explores the terrain of democratization elections and conflict management It raises and answers many questions such as What are the root causes of election related conflicts How free fair and credible are elections in many African countries What institutional mechanisms are available for ballot and voter security and for mandate protection What has been the role of civil society organizations in conflict prevention and management What are the responsibilities of the international community especially regional organizations like the Economic Community of West African States ECOWAS and the African Union AU in conflict resolution What indigenous mechanisms for conflict management have been identified that may be proactively engaged

Rights and Development in Mauritius Sheila S. Bunwaree, Roukaya Kasenally, 2007

Unexplained Wealth and Financial Crime Folashade Adeyemo, Nicholas Ryder, 2025-12-29 This book considers the growing and emerging issue of unexplained wealth and how this issue fits within the larger challenge of financial and economic crime The collection provides a rich and robust contribution to the dearth of knowledge in this space Contributions are drawn from legal practitioners academics and experts from the Global South Global North and the Asia Pacific region who share their insights into the methods and approaches that have been utilised to tackle unexplained wealth in their respective countries Each author provides a comprehensive critique of the current regime in addressing the issue and identifies failings The volume further considers how unexplained wealth can be recognised as an important category similar in this respect to fraud bribery corruption and tax evasion amongst others Establishing the issue of unexplained wealth as an independent area of research the book will be essential reading for researchers academics and policymakers working in the areas of financial and economic crime banking law and international corporate governance
