Disconcerting Issue Meaning And Struggle In A Resettled Pacific Community:

Disconcerting Issue Martin G. Silverman, 1971 Disconcerting issue: meaning and struggle in a resettled Pacific community, with a foreword by D.M. Schneider Martin G. Silverman, Disconcerting Issue Martin G. Silverman, 1971 Migration and Conflict in a Global Warming Era Silja Klepp, Christiane Fröhlich, 2020-11-18 This Special Issue explores underrepresented aspects of the political dimensions of global warming It includes post and decolonial perspectives on climate related migration and conflict intersectional approaches and climate change politics as a new tool of governance Its aim is to shed light on the social phenomena associated with anthropogenic climate change as well as its multidimensional and far reaching political effects including climate induced migration movements and climate related conflicts in different parts of the world In doing so it critically engages with securitizing discourses and the resulting anti migration arguments and policies in the Global North in order to identify and give a voice to alternative and hitherto underrepresented research and policy perspectives In this way it aims to contribute to a fact based critical and holistic approach to human mobility and conflict in the context of political and environmental crisis Guano and the Opening of the Pacific World Gregory T. Cushman, 2013-03-25 This book traces the history of bird guano demonstrating how this unique commodity helped unite the Pacific Basin with the industrialized world Global Implications of Development, Disasters and Climate Change Susanna Price, Jane Singer, 2015-08-11 Displacements in the Asia Pacific region are escalating The region has for decades experienced more than half of the world's natural disasters and in recent years a disproportionately high share of extreme weather related disasters which displaced 19 million people in 2013 alone This volume offers an innovative and thought provoking Asia Pacific perspective on an intensifying global problem the forced displacement of people from their land homes and livelihoods due to development disasters and environmental change This book draws together theoretical and multidisciplinary perspectives with diverse case studies from around the region including China's Three Gorges Reservoir Japan's Fukushima disaster and the Pacific's Banaba resettlement Focusing on responses to displacement in the context of power asymmetries and questions of the public interest the book highlights shared experiences of displacement seeking new approaches and solutions that have potential global application This book shows how displaced peoples respond to interlinked impacts that unravel their social fabric and productive bases whether through sporadic protest organised campaigns empowered mobility or even community based negotiation of resettlement solutions The volume will be of great interest to researchers and postgraduate students in development studies environmental and climate change studies anthropology sociology human geography international law and human rights Shifting Images of Identity in the Pacific Toon van Meijl, 2021-10-25 This book examines how identities emerge persist and change in various Pacific societies The shifting images of identity are explored in pre colonial colonial as well as post colonial circumstances All the essays in this volume address both continuity and discontinuity in the construction of identities in the rapidly changing Pacific region A region increasingly characterized by state formation processes and global influences The introduction provides a theoretical analysis of the changing paradigm in the study of identity over recent decades This is exemplified with a comparative overview of the emergence of a constructivist approach of culture tradition and identity in Pacific studies Nine ethnographic contributions subsequently address the central question from a variety of different angles Some chapters focus on classic topics such as migration and myth while others deal with indigenous peoples in modern nation states tourism economic development global consumerism or electronic communication The societies in question range from relatively isolated groups to communities living dispersed around the globe Each chapter provides valuable insights into the processes of identity in the Pacific over time An epilogue provides a comparative reading of the different theoretical solutions that have been proposed to make sense of the shifting images of identity in the contemporary increasingly transnational Pacific

Climate Change and Conflict in the Pacific Ria Shibata, Seforosa Carroll, Volker Boege, 2023-10-20 Shibata Carroll and Boege address the various dimensions of the climate change conflict nexus and shed light on the overwhelming challenges of climate change in the Pacific Islands region This book highlights the multidimensionality of the problems political technical material and emotional and psychological Written by experts in the field the chapters highlight the centrality and importance of opening up a dialogue between researchers involved in the large scale global modelling of climate change and the local actors Both scholars and civil society actors come together in sharing about the complexities of local contexts and the conflict driving potential of climate change adaptation and mitigation strategies on the ground The book brings together indigenous Pacific approaches with broader international debates in the climate change security discourse Through various accounts and perspectives current gaps in knowledge are bridged contributing to the development of more grounded conflict sensitive climate change policies strategies governance and adaptation measures in the Pacific region An important resource for students researchers policymakers and civil society actors interested in the multi faceted issues of climate change in the Pacific

Migration, Land and Livelihoods George Curry, Gina Koczberski, John Connell, 2016-03-17 This book critically and succinctly examines recent changes in land ownership mobility and livelihoods in various Pacific island states from East Timor to the Solomon Islands where climate change environmental change including hazards of various origins population growth and urbanization have contributed to new tensions and discords and resulted in complex structures of migration and resettlement This has brought new and varied experiences of income and livelihood generation and consequent reinterpretations of modernity and tradition In a series of detailed case studies this book traces various responses to such socio economic changes both in how they are locally envisaged as pressures on land have intensified urban informal settlements and livelihoods have expanded and perceptions of identity and property rights have changed and in national development policy responses It offers valuable reflections on the complex balance between continuity and change the tensions between social and economic development the will to develop and the management of dissent and difference This book was published as a special issue of Australian Geographer

Plains Anthropologist ,1978 Culture and Consumption Grant David McCracken,1988 Ideology and Everyday Life Steve Barnett,Martin G. Silverman,1979 Samoa Islands Bibliography Lowell Don Holmes,1984 Micronesia Monique Carriveau Storie,William L. Wuerch,1999 Micronesia is home to less than 500 000 people all coming from a variety of backgrounds due to its many islands being scattered over a large area of the Pacific Ocean This bibliography provides over 700 citations representing a cross section of the available literature on the subject The Symbolism of Subordination Kay B. Adopting the Tune of Appearance: An Emotional Symphony within Disconcerting Issue Meaning And Struggle In A Resettled Pacific Community

In a world consumed by monitors and the ceaseless chatter of fast interaction, the melodic splendor and psychological symphony developed by the published word usually disappear into the background, eclipsed by the persistent sound and disturbances that permeate our lives. Nevertheless, nestled within the pages of Disconcerting Issue Meaning And Struggle In A Resettled Pacific Community a charming fictional prize brimming with organic emotions, lies an immersive symphony waiting to be embraced. Crafted by an elegant composer of language, this captivating masterpiece conducts visitors on an emotional trip, well unraveling the concealed songs and profound affect resonating within each cautiously crafted phrase. Within the depths of this moving analysis, we can discover the book's central harmonies, analyze its enthralling publishing design, and surrender ourselves to the profound resonance that echoes in the depths of readers' souls.
