Palmer, 2002 The great names of Russian literature read like a who's who of great names in the world literature Dostoyevsky Tolstoy Pushkin Chekhov Bunin Pasternak Solzhenitsyn But there are only a handful of the legions of extraordinary writers that formed the basis of Russian literature Russian literature is a rich tapestry reflecting life in a complex world of political turmoil religious fervour climate extremes and conditions for daily life which would stupefy the average European or American This book presents an overview of Russian literature as well as a comprehensive bibliography including English language sources accessed by subject author and titles indexes Mikhail Bakhtin Ken

Hirshkop, 1999-12-09 This book makes a radical break with earlier interpretations of Bakhtin's work Using recent Russian scholarship Ken Hirshkop explodes many of the myths which have surrounded Bakhtin and his work and lays the ground for a new more historically acute sense of his achievement Through a comprehensive reading of Bakhtin's work Hirshkop demonstrates that his discussion of the philosophy of language literary history popular festive culture and the phenomenology of everyday life revolved around a lifelong search for a new kind of modern ethical culture A detailed examination of the major works reveals the careful interweaving of philosophical and historical argument which makes Bakhtin at once so compelling and so frustrating a writer Hirshkop treats Bakhtin not as a metaphysician or a philosopher for the ages but as a writer inevitably drawn into the historical conflicts produced by a modernizing and democratizing Europe As a consequence Bakhtin becomes a more sober but also more original writer with a striking contribution to make to the definition of the democratic project Political History and Culture of Russia, 2002 Scholarly articles dealing with political events in Russia up to 1991 Russian Studies in Literature, 1996 Russian Prose Writers After World War II Christine

Rydel, 2005 Whether the writers in this period described the war the Great Terror the gulag experience exile repression or simply everyday life in the city or in the country they generally turned to a major theme of Russian literature since the Revolution the fate of the individual human being in a mass state In the literature often the state won due to its power at other times individuals triumphed because of their moral convictions The same can be said of these writers Essays in

Poetics, 2004 Science Fiction, Social Conflict, and War Philip Davies, 1990 A History of Russian Women's

Writing, 1820-1992 Catriona Kelly, 1994 Written from a feminist perspective the book combines a broad historical survey with close textual analysis Sections on women's writing in the periods 1820 1880 1881 1917 1917 1953 and 1953 1992 are followed by essays on individual writers Stanford Slavic Studies, 1987 Bibliography of Slavic Literature Dasha Culic

Nisula, 2001-07-20 Nisula covers materials published in the United States and abroad since 1989 covering Slavic literature from the medieval period to the end of the twentieth century The three main sections are meticulously structured to cover all the dimensions of geographical space literary genres topics authors and time The first section examines general works on Slavic literature namely Slavic bibliographies journals and library holdings The second one frames the bibliographic sources within the Slavic geographic perimeter East Central and South Europe while the final section considers regional and national literature One of the richest European cultures reveals itself in the pages of this book and all those who want to understand the multiple aspects of Slavic literature can find in this an essential guide Marina Tsvetaeva Michael Makin,1993

Tsvetaeva s work has an originality and diversity that has been hitherto neglected by critics Michael Makin s book examines in depth her entire poetic output paying particular attention to the appropriation and frequent distortion of familiar literary material in her lyrical dramatic and narrative verse Major chapters are devoted to the long narrative poems the mature lyric verse and the verse plays on which very little has so far been written Slavic and East European Journal ,1992
