Discourse Of Human Rights In China Historical And Ideological Perspectives:

The Discourse of Human Rights in China NA NA, 1999-10-29 This book examines the contentious subject of human rights in China However in contrast to the majority of the literature which focuses on alleged Chinese abuses of human rights the author examines the emergence and evolution of a Chinese conception of rights paying attention to the impact of Confucianism Republicanism and Marxism on this conception It is suggested that the joint influence of these doctrines helps to explain among other things the contemporary emphasis attached to socio economic and collective rights in China and the importance accorded to citizens duties in relation to the exercise of their rights The Discourse of Human Rights in Chinese Law Deborah Cao, 2017-03-02 Studying Chinese law from a linguistic and communicative perspective this book examines meaning and language in Chinese law It investigates key notions and concepts of law the rule of law and rights and their evolutionary meanings It examines the linguistic usage and textual features in Chinese legal texts and legal translation and probes the lawmaking process and the Constitution as speech act and communicative action Taking a cross cultural approach the book applies major Western philosophical thought to Chinese law in particular the ideas concerning language and communication by such major thinkers as Peirce Whorf Gadamer Habermas Austin and Searle The focus of the study is contemporary People s Republic of China however the study also traces and links the inherited and introduced cultural and linguistic values and configurations that provide the context in which modern Chinese law operates News Media and EU-China Relations L. Zhang, 2011-04-11 An exploration of the role of the news media in the development of EU China relations after the end of the Cold War this book provides empirical evidence to support what Nye and Anholt have argued that branding a country s image is soft power The author examines the nature of European Union and China coverage in Chinese and European news media respectively and explores how the economics politics and journalistic practice interplay in shaping the coverage Based on this analysis the author delves into the relationship between the news media and their foreign policy toward each other in terms of both the general direction of policy making and the policy in a specific issue area Including not only content analysis of media coverage but also has first hand interview materials with the officials involved in the decision making process and the journalists involved in reporting the EU and China the book sheds light on the way in which the media construct the post Cold War world and therefore play a role in transforming international relations

Governance Innovation and Policy Change Nele Noesselt, 2018-10-15 This edited volume assesses governance innovation and institutional change under the fifth generation of China's political leaders headed by Xi Jinping The configuration of long term policy innovation without regime change requires skilled political actors who secure strategic majorities and set up coalitions to design and launch new policies Recalibrations or reconfigurations of the governance model respond to domestic reform pressures or external shocks in order to secure regime survival Given that most structural constraints and reform pressures do not arise out of a sudden the thrilling question is why the political elites sometimes decide not to engage in institutional reforms despite of widespread societal support for major restructuring and why they suddenly launch institutional changes in times of relative stability The authors address these issues by focusing on basic patterns and paradigms of governance and institutional change in China the actors and drivers of governance innovation as well as the impact of norms values and socio cognitive orientations This is added by some reflections on the interplay between abstract ideas reform debates and the making of concrete decisions as outlined by the Third Plenum on socio economic reforms in 2013 and the Fourth Plenum on rule based governance fazhi in 2014
