(FDD)

What Is Bipolar Disorder?

Bipolar disorder is a chronic mental illness characterized by extreme mood swings that include emotional highs (mania or hypomania) and lows (depression).

It is a chronic condition that can last a lifetime. People with bipolar disorder experience periods of intense energy, productivity, and creativity, followed by periods of deep sadness, loss of interest, and fatigue.

Without proper treatment, bipolar disorder can lead to serious complications, including hospitalization and suicide. However, with the right treatment, people with bipolar disorder can lead healthy, productive lives.

During depressive episodes, people with bipolar disorder may experience feelings of hopelessness, loss of interest in activities, changes in sleep and appetite, and thoughts of suicide. These symptoms can be debilitating and may require medical intervention.

During manic episodes, people with bipolar disorder may experience feelings of euphoria, increased energy, racing thoughts, and impulsive behavior. These symptoms can be dangerous and may require medical intervention.

What Causes Bipolar Disorder?

Bipolar disorder is caused by a combination of genetic and environmental factors. Research suggests that people with a family history of bipolar disorder are more likely to develop the condition.
