Disclosure Processes In Children And Adolescents:

Disclosure Processes in Children and Adolescents Ken J. Rotenberg, 1995-04-28 To be known and to know others are essential aspects of social interaction Disclosing personal information and perceiving it in others are all aspects of an individual's experience Many problems at the forefront of our times such as divorce AIDS rape and child abuse challenge our understanding of what should and should not be told This timely volume presents the most recent developments in the analysis of disclosure processes It brings together issues as diverse as loneliness moral development family therapy and child abuse into a substantive whole that will prove an invaluable contribution to the field Supporting disclosure among children and adolescents living with HIV World Health Organization, 2025-07-08 Children and adolescents experience persistent challenges to HIV testing linkage to care and retention One critical gap for children and adolescents aged 6-19 is disclosure of HIV status Being aware of one's own HIV status as well as being able to share this with others safely and when ready is key to closing gaps in prevention and care and enhancing treatment outcomes Disclosing HIV status to children and adolescents is a critical first step to building health literacy and empowering them to be engaged in and lead decision making about their own health This capability is essential to lifelong health Despite emerging resources that provide guidance on supporting disclosure for children and adolescents there is limited evidence on the effectiveness of approaches to support HIV status disclosure to and by children and adolescents Building on the WHO guidelines for disclosure to children up to age 12 in 2011 this implementation guidance provides evidence on existing interventions that support children and adolescents living with HIV in the process of disclosure It includes interventions that focus on safe disclosure as well as supporting children and adolescents with onward disclosure Specifically this brief collates existing interventions via a scoping review assesses key interventions through a realist evaluation lens identifying what works for whom and in what contexts and highlights emerging considerations key gaps and key actions The Oxford Handbook of Clinical Child and Adolescent Psychology Thomas H. Ollendick, Susan Williams White, Bradley A. White, 2019 International in scope and with contributions from the field's most eminent scientists and practitioners The Oxford Handbook of Clinical Child and Adolescent Psychology is a state of the science volume providing comprehensive coverage of the psychological problems and disorders of childhood HIV Infection in Children and Adolescents Raziya Bobat, 2020-02-27 This book serves as a reference work on pediatric HIV infection and covers the full bandwidth of topics from an introduction to pathogenesis and epidemiology over the transmission of the HI virus to clinical manifestations treatment and prevention strategies Diseases and disorders occurring in HIV infected persons are discussed in detail The book covers special populations such as neonates born to an HIV positive mother and adolescents and examines the specific ways of managing HIV disease in these patient groups This is the first book to cover palliative care as well as ethical legal and social issues of HIV infection Disclosure Within HIV-Affected Families Grace Gachanja, Gary J. Burkholder, Aimee Ferraro, 2018-08-29 While HIV/AIDS is a global public health challenge its impact is arguably greatest in the Sub Saharan Africa SSA where new infections account for approximately 66% of the total number of HIV positive persons globally In SSA medical social and economic resources are limited thus necessitating innovative approaches to disease prevention One of the mechanisms of prevention that is most promising occurs through HIV disclosure to family members e g adult sexual partners generally and to children in particular Our emphasis in this eBook is on HIV disclosure to children because it has multiple benefits including improved adherence to antiretroviral medication treatment and understanding at an early age of the impact of sexual activity on the spread of HIV While there is a noticeable gap in research on HIV disclosure to younger children some of the general reasons for non disclosure include concerns about fear of adult partners leaving relationships and that children are too young to comprehend the severity of the situation and may tell others outside the family Thus it is critical to better understand how the HIV disclosure process happens or does not happen within HIV affected families as well as the best practices on how to disclose In this eBook we present a combination of empirical research studies and critical literature reviews that investigate the reasons for and for not disclosing HIV status within HIV affected families and provide evidence based practices that could be adopted by healthcare professionals to help HIV positive parents facilitate disclosure activities within these families This information can also be used by researchers practitioners and stakeholders who are in a position to influence policies on effective HIV disclosure practices guidelines and programs
