How Do Families Cope With Chronic Illness? Robert E. Cole,David

Reiss,2013-05-13 Because chronic disorder is becoming an ordinary feature of family life and development understanding its impact has become critical This volume and the conference proceedings it reports represents a major effort to examine the family s response to chronic physical or psychopathological illness in one or more of its members Recent data are revising our notions of chronic illness Evidence is mounting that chronic psychiatric disorders reflect in part abnormalities of brain structure and function In this sense they are in part medical disorders On the other hand a number of traditionally labeled medical disorders produce a broad range of psychological symptoms and are exquisitely sensitive to psychosocial influences Families undergo a complex process of adaptation during which their response to stress and their fundamental beliefs about learning and parenting change These beliefs endure and are difficult to alter By examining the processes in a wide range of chronic conditions this volume helps to identify the common underlying processes of adaptation The first three chapters concern the families responses to disorders that are distinctly medical the next three focus on families responses to grey zone disorders or anomalies that appear early in life minor physical anomalies and communication handicaps and one chapter focuses exclusively on schizophrenia The last chapter reflects an effort to develop a model based on the experience of researchers with both psychiatric and medical illness

Dealing with Toxic Family Members Vincenzo Venezia,2023-11-29

Have you been deeply hurt by a family member Has your family which should have loved nourished and protected you inflicted traumas that still affect your life today Are you struggling daily to repair the damage they caused Some people are fortunate to be born into families with whom they love spending time These members are compassionate towards each other communicate their needs effortlessly and staunchly support one another Conversely for others a simple incoming call from a family member can be a source of dread A toxic family describes a family with dysfunctional relationships harmful to the emotional and psychological health of its members These families are characterized by behaviors and dynamics such as emotional and psychological abuse manipulation denial minimization of problems distortion of reality and unequal power and control Such dynamics can lead to serious long term psychological effects on family members including anxiety depression low self esteem and difficulty establishing healthy relationships Toxic family dynamics can profoundly impact our lives as adults Adult children of toxic family members often grapple with immense guilt a sense of obligation and shame feeling compelled to keep family secrets even at the cost of their own well being When others perceive your family as nice yet behind closed doors they reveal their true colors the discrepancy can be jarring This manual is recommended if your family Does not show concern for your feelings needs or rights Uses threats harsh language or violence Makes cruelly critical remarks Lies and or uses guilt to manipulate Repeatedly violates your boundaries Insists on always being right Sows conflict among other family members Feels exempt from rules Has envious siblings in perpetual conflict Blames you for their flaws or mistakes Avoids responsibility for their actions Refuses to compromise Gives you the silent treatment Denies reality emotionally manipulates or gaslights making you feel irrational These are just a few common signs of a toxic family Each family might display these traits differently or combine them in unique ways The inner child within you may hope for change but the reality is they may never do so However you might feel Guilty as if you are to blame for your family s issues Confused by your family s fickle behavior and changing expectations Inadequate and powerless against your family members cruel behaviors Alone lacking a supportive network of loving family members Many people may not understand your experience often remarking But they re your family without grasping the full situation Take action now before it s too late Breaking free from the toxic grip of family members is a winding path but it is the best gift you can give to your life and your mental health
