Meaning-making Methods for Coping with Serious Illness Fereshteh Ahmadi, Nader Ahmadi, 2018-06-04 This book provides an alternative complementary approach to the existing conventional approaches to religious and spiritually oriented coping. By focusing on the role of culture, the authors take into account the methods employed by a vast number of people who do not directly identify themselves as religious. The empirical data used in this book derive from studies conducted in several countries: Sweden, China, South Korea, Turkey, and Malaysia, across which religion plays a different role in the social and cultural life of individuals. This approach and these empirical data are unique and allow comparisons to be made between different cultural settings. By introducing the concept of meaning making coping, the authors explore the influence of culture on choice of coping methods, be they purely religious, spiritual, or existential. The term existential meaning making coping is used to describe coping methods that are related to existential questions; these methods include religious, spiritual, and existential coping methods. Meaning making Methods for Coping with Serious Illness contributes to new approaches and theoretical models of coping. As such, it is an invaluable resource for health care, medical, public health, and sociology students and researchers. It will also be of interest to educators and policy makers working in the area of health. Coping with Posttraumatic Growth and Culturally Competent Practice: Lessons Learned from Around the Globe brings welcome attention to applying PTG to culturally competent practice worldwide. It delivers on the promise embedded in its title: lots of lessons within the fourteen chapters. From the Foreword by Charles R. Figley, PhD, Kurzweg Chair in Disaster Mental Health, Tulane University, New Orleans. The latest advances in the theoretical, empirical, and clinical aspects of Posttraumatic Growth. Posttraumatic Growth and Culturally Competent Practice offers contributions from an international group of experts in posttraumatic growth (PTG) within diverse cultures and subcultures. It uniquely illuminates the nature, meaning, and clinical implications of PTG across a wide range of sociocultural contexts. Edited by Tzipi Weiss and Ron Berger, recognized experts in the areas of stress, coping, and PTG, this book features contributions by an international panel of renowned scholars and clinicians offering a truly global perspective of PTG in cultures and regions including The Middle East, Israel, Germany, The Netherlands, Japan, China, Australia, and Latinos in the U.S. Offering research-based insights and practical interventions, this collection enables practitioners to offer informed and culturally sensitive services to those who have survived trauma in different parts of the world and to support these survivors as they grow and harvest benefits from their ordeal.
