Rayburn, 2010-05-01 Michael A Rogers It is refreshing to see biblical theology so thoroughly integrated with practical directives for developing the worship service Eternity Clifford E Bajema Out of Rayburn s rich experience as a teacher and as a preacher who has served five pastorates he gives us a book which should further liturgical interest and discussion on Reformed circles All in all Rayburn s book is very much worth reading Calvin Theological Journal William F Hunter Will hopefully stimulate evangelicals to explore a relatively unknown aspect to the corporate life of believers Journal of Psychology and Theology Donald Macleod A very ambitious survey it is a very comprehensive treatment of the worship responsibilities of the everyday parish ministry Princeton Seminary Bulletin Garry Harris A critical self analysis of the short comings in the evangelical liturgical experience It should serve as a guide to more meaningful corporate worship Seminary Review R O Zorn A useful volume which will make ministers and their congregations more conscious of the nature and significance of public worship Vox Reformata Laurence H Stookey Those evangelicals who conduct worship services which are casual and uncoordinated and who shun the riches of catholic prayer and hymnody are presented with a thoughtful challenge by a writer with impeccable evangelical credentials Homiletics Robert G Rayburn d 1990 was the founding president of Covenant Theological Seminary where he also served as Professor of Practical Theology He also served five pastorates including the College Church in Wheaton Illinois As a chaplain in the United States Army he served in both the Second World War and the Korean War      Following the River Bob Sorge, 2003-12 Imagine the ultimate worship experience what would it be like Using a sound scriptural foundation Bob paints a vivid picture of what corporate worship can become Get a glimpse of where God is taking us There is a sweep you off your feet depth to the river of God s delights that is more than possible it is inevitable Fasten your seatbelt this book may wound a few sacred cows but it will clarify your vision for the powerful potential in corporate worship      Corporate Worship in the

Reformed Tradition James Hastings Nichols, 2014-04-16 Identifying and evaluating the characteristics of the Reformed tradition in worship this book surveys the history of worship in the Reformed tradition from the sixteenth century to the present time Worship in this book indicates a focus on the regular Lord's Day worship services of preaching and Holy Communion with some reference to weekday worship The changing balance of function in public worship whether evangelistic educational or expressive is explored as well as the felt self concerns of the local congregation and the shared heritage with the church catholic The author believes that worship is but one aspect of the life of religious service and must be seen in relation to the total ministry of a religious community He attempts to interpret the Reformed tradition as expressing the prophetic personalist religion of revelation Non theological factors political sociological cultural are also viewed as essential ingredients in the equation The structure of the book is chronological beginning with the formation of the Reformation liturgies and tracing these patterns through the phases of Puritanism evangelicalism rationalism and romanticism Roman Catholicism Lutheranism and Anabaptism are compared and explored but the central theme is the worship of the Reformed churches of the Continent and the major denominations of the English speaking world seen ecumenically The author shows that through the changing forms of its corporate praise the Reformed tradition has been distinctively Biblical and personal The worship of these churches has been an expression of a highly verbal emotionally disciplined intellectually critical mentality The Reformed he claims have always laid chief weight on what is now most crucial the actualization of fully responsible personal existence before God This understanding of the history of Reformed worship points up the factors and dimensions to be considered today     The Art of Worship Scott Francis Brenner, 1961

Corporate Worship Matt Merker, 2021 A presentation of the theological basis and practical suggestions for the public worship services of the church     Utilizing a Worship Service Committee to Increase Personal Involvement in the Corporate Worship of the Local Church Wayne Joseph Sheppard, 1988     Shepherding God's People Siang-Yang Tan, 2019-07-16 This comprehensive textbook on pastoral ministry for pastors church leaders and students articulates a biblical model for shepherding God's people Written by a leading psychologist and seminary professor who has served as a pastor for more than two decades the book covers twelve major areas of pastoral ministry highlights the essential work of the Holy Spirit and focuses on the personal and family life of the pastor It includes cross cultural perspectives of special interest in our diverse world and a foreword by John Ortberg     Theological Metaphysics Ray C. Robles, 2023-11-16 Insofar as Christian theology aims to make truthful claims about the nature of reality it is necessarily involved in the enterprise of metaphysics Pentecostals precisely as Christians are thus obliged to participate Through this study it becomes evident that pentecostals aim to participate in the metaphysical discipline in the same way they theologize that is informed by the norms practices and speech acts that constitute their spirituality This book aims to construct a Christian metaphysics that is at once attuned to pentecostal spirituality theology and informed by the classical tradition of Christian metaphysics Ultimately this work offers a constructive and critical engagement with pentecostal spirituality and with pentecostal theology via the larger ecumenical creedal and dogmatic metaphysical tradition Thus this book is explicitly and intentionally limited to understand metaphysics in conversation with the historical Christian tradition and to understand a pentecostal vision of it

Modern-day Society Lindley Cameron, 2023 Background Church services today incorporate a wide variety of worship music stylistically and lyrically depending on the congregation Some churches place great importance on the gospel being included in the songs while others focus more on the emotions felt during the songs While there are churches that maintain an eclectic mix of the two other churches have a significant imbalance in the worship songs they choose to sing each week Matt Boswell says Every worship experience in its order and content is an expression of the congregation's liturgy It communicates something about your church your doctrine and the order of your priorities 1 As the local church gathers there must be a clearer knowledge of why mankind has been created to worship as well as God's design for worship both corporately and individually The church gathers to worship vertically personally and horizontally Statement of the Purpose There has been much deliberation on what songs are best for worship within the church Over the last few decades personal preference and not the Word of God seems to motivate song selection Scott Connell warns that song choice should not be based upon popularity preference or pressure 2 The purpose of this research paper is to explore God's design for worship songs within the local church and provide detailed biblical guidance on worship with God Scholarly wisdom the Word of God and church service evaluations are the primary sources for this paper Response to God through song is evident throughout Scripture Psalm 57 declares I will give thanks to You O Lord among the peoples I will sing praises to You among the nations Psalm 57 9 English Standard Version God's Word gives believers guidance on praising God in ways that are pleasing and acceptable to Him To equip the church family with worship God's way worship leaders and pastors must be diligent in telling and retelling the story of Jesus Christ in creative ways Research Questions Various ways to apply these discoveries will be discussed in detail to assist the church in worshiping God on His terms Specific research questions include 1 What does the Bible say about worshiping God's way 2 How can the church equip their people better with more biblical worship What is working What needs to change As these questions are explored the specific focus will be lyrics of hymns and praise songs in general within the church setting A focused study on Keith and Kristyn Getty's lives music writing and ministry is included in the biblical worship research as their music is primarily used for the recital portion of this project Research and Recital Plans The recital will include selections from the Gettys library of music and a few additional songs that fit the model of a five component worship song assessment These components include 1 A high view of God 2 Jesus the gospel story 3 My story and personal reflection 4 Call to Respond and lastly 5 The commission The recital will follow these guidelines
