Stars Light: Stem & Leaf Abol Hassan Danesh, 2011-05-06 In close parallel with the fifth volume of stars lights theme and content Stem and Leaf Volume is an attempt to put the entire six volumes of stars light poetry in perspective Perhaps a comet would be a better metaphor to capture the spirit of this volume of work in terms of its connectivity potential to the continuous long tail blazing of light from the point of its origin to that of destination That is a clear demarcation of territory travelled through stars light journey In simple words another way of looking at the milky way in heaven is to see it as a large star comet itself in standstill with all trail light path way travelled made visible in close up And for further elucidation of this volume may I then suggest that the stem of a leaf is itself the trunk of tree par excellence making sure the leaf never leaves the tree despite all the falling break away and separation in each year and in each and every other season

Circle of Goods Tressa Berman, 2012-02-01 Circle of Goods compiles the stories of Native American women and examines their kinship wage work and informal economies Responding to the upheavals of reservation life brought about by federal policies from commodity rations to welfare reform Mandan Hidatsa and Arikara women each with distinct histories and cultural practices stand at the center of the Fort Berthold reservation economy Berman introduces the concept of ceremonial relations of production to explain the contradictory effects of economic incentives and cultural commitments and argues that the historical movement of people and goods through a series of structured dependencies often gives rise to creative strategies for survival and new social identities
