Richard Wright Michel Fabre,1990 This bibliography of Richard Wright's library and reading serves as a key to understanding the development philosophies and aesthetics of this great writer and provides accurate information for the study of intertextuality in his works Richard Wright born in Mississippi in 1908 was largely self taught His only formal schooling was high school As he recounts in Black Boy he used a white friend's library card at the Memphis Public Library where blacks were not allowed That books were almost living companions for Wright is easily understandable Through books and later through relationships with writers he broadened his perspectives his understanding of society and the very craft of writing In the history of Richard Wright perhaps more than with other writers a knowledge of what he actually read and of what authors he preferred is essential in explaining his intellectual development Michel Fabre Wright's biographer and foremost Wright scholar details the volumes in Wright's library and the facts of Wright's reading habits This listing of books that formed and influenced him includes second hand books he bought while living in extreme poverty in Chicago some borrowed books never returned books purchased in New York and Paris books Wright deemed required reading for a growing novelist gift books and others in a comprehensive list on such subjects as contemporary American literature classic European works criminology psychiatry and social sciences In compiling this listing Fabre goes beyond the actual contents of Wright's library for he includes also titles drawn from references in Wright's works and from accounts of people who knew him and his reading habits Included also is an appendix that collects for the first time reviews written by Wright his prefaces forewords and blurbs They show his appreciation of diverse genres and styles although his ideological commitment remained the same In them one sees Wright as an author ready to help younger writers black and white American and French

Charles Olson's Reading Ralph Maud, 1996 In this narrative account of the life and work of Charles Olson Ralph Maud focuses on what the poet read as a basis for understanding the work he produced To an extraordinary degree Olson's reading and life were coextensive according to Maud who notes that Olson saw his written output over his lifetime as a total cosmology An individual who rarely traveled this major American poet explored the world and its history as well as the furthest reaches of the thought of his day through books Maud builds upon George Butterick's annotated listing of Olson's library bought by the University of Connecticut after the poet's death in 1970 The present volume however adds categories of books Butterick deliberately omitted Olson's childhood books and poetry by his own contemporaries Linking Olson's books to his intellectual and poetic development at each stage of his career Maud reveals such little known but important connections as the contracted book project Operation Red White and Black and Olson's plan for the long poem West two unrealized projects much later shaped into The Maximus Poems Maud also outlines the surprisingly multiple role of the painter Corrado Cagli who brought home to Olson the significance of the Holocaust and introduced him both to the Tarot and to the theories of non Euclidean geometry that Olson variously incorporated into his poems and essays In discussing Olson's relationship to Ezra Pound Maud defines in some detail what Olson gained from Pound and what he repudiated Maud refutes the notion that Olson's intellectual and creative powers declined during the last years of his life demonstrating that during these years Olson developed his Jungian interest his attention to early Greek thought and a new concern for Northern mythology This chronicle of Olson's reading from childhood to deathbed constitutes a critical biography of the larger than life author of Call Me Ishmael and The Maximus Poems No modern poet is more revealed in his sources than Olson Maud's comprehensive and complete study provides a basis for new and fresh modes of thinking about Olson's great achievement Psychoanalysis and Black Novels Claudia Tate, 1998 The author of this text argues that psychoanalytic paradigms can produce rich readings of African American desire alienation and subjectivity THE OBVIOUS CLUE - Ultimate Murder Mystery Collection Christie, Edgar Allan Poe, Arthur Conan Doyle, Charles Dickens, Wilkie Collins, Robert Barr, E. in diverse previous studies on Ottoman architecture they have not been the topic of a major interpretative approach before A Study of Ottoman Narratives on Architecture Text Context and Hermeneutics is the first interpretive and comparative research monograph to feature these texts as its main theme This is the first translation of these works that contextualizes and interprets their importance in English The first text is a group of five documents that date back to the sixteenth century They comprise memoirs and building lists written in prose and verse which belonged to prominent Ottoman architect Sinan The second text was written under the influence of the first group of documents and is in a similar format It comprises a memoir dedicated to Sedefkar Mehmed A a who worked as the chief imperial architect in the seventeenth century and also provides information on architectural terms and makes comparisons between architecture and music The third text is different from the first two it is a monograph about the Selimiye Mosque written in prose in the eighteenth century by Dayezade Mustafa who was a complete outsider to architecture While the three texts have quite different historical and thematic contexts their point in common is their rendering of architecture through narratives From a hermeneutical perspective the book compares narratives of the texts with contemporary historiography on Ottoman architecture History and Ideas Series No A New Variorum Edition of Shakespeare: The tragedie of Ivlivs Cæsar. 1913 William Shakespeare,1913 V 23 The second part of Henry the Fourth 1940 v 24 25 The sonnets 1924 v 26 Troilus and Cressida 1953 v 27 The life and death of King Richard the Second 1955 The Jamaican Historical Review ,1972 The Illustrated London News ,1879 Overland Monthly and Out West Magazine ,1875 An Index to Poetry and Recitations Edith Granger,1918 Michigan Christian Advocate ,1904 Black & White ,1891 New York Herald Tribune Books ,1927 The Nation ,1872 The Athenaeum ,1899
