Corporations And The Environment:

Corporations and the Environment Stanford University. Committee on Corporate Responsibility, 1981 Business and Environmental Policy Michael E. Kraft, Sheldon Kamieniecki, 2007 It is well known that American businesses make an effort to influence environmental policy by attempting to set the political agenda and to influence regulations and legislation This book examines what is not so well known the extent to which business succeeds in its policy interventions In Business and Environmental Policy a team of distinguished scholars systematically analyzes corporate influence at all stages of the policy process focusing on the factors that determine the success or failure of business lobbying in Congress state legislatures local governments federal and state agencies and the courts These experts consider whether business influence is effectively counterbalanced by the efforts of environmental groups public opinion and other forces The book also examines the use of the media to influence public opinion as in the battle over drilling in the Arctic National Wildlife Refuge and corporations efforts to sway elections by making campaign contributions Because the book goes well beyond the existing literature much of which is narrow descriptive and anecdotal to provide broad based empirical evidence of corporate influence on environmental policy it makes an original and important contribution and is appropriate for a variety of undergraduate and graduate courses Will Big Business Destroy Our Planet? Peter Dauvergne, 2018-05-04 Walmart Coca Cola BP Toyota The world economy runs on the profits of transnational corporations Politicians need their backing Non profit organizations rely on their philanthropy People look to their brands for meaning And their power continues to rise Can these companies as so many are now hoping provide the solutions to end the mounting global environmental crisis Absolutely the CEOs of big business are telling us the commitment to corporate social responsibility will ensure it happens voluntarily Peter Dauvergne challenges this claim arguing instead that corporations are still doing far more to destroy than protect our planet Trusting big business to lead sustainability is he cautions unwise perhaps even catastrophic Planetary sustainability will require reining in the power of big business starting now GEO-5 for Business Dave Grossman, 2013 GEO 5 for Business builds on the findings of UNEPs fifth Global Environment Outlook GEO 5 report released in June 2012 GEO 5 assessed the current state and trends of the global environment in which population growth economic development urbanization and globalization are driving degradation across numerous environmental indicators Out of 90 environmental goals and objectives assessed in GEO 5 significant progress could only be shown for four Chapter 2 of the report briefly summarizes the drivers and trends described in GEO 5 Both the specific trends in GEO 5 and the broader picture of decline have significant implications for companies around the world regardless of size or sector some of which are reflected in the areas of Greenhouse gases Severe Weather Land Conversion Water Availability Water Pollution Biodiversity Chemical Exposure and Waste The Corporate Planet Joshua Karliner, 1997 Citing case histories such as Chevron Shell and Mitsubishi CORPORATE WATCH editor Joshua Karliner brilliantly exposes how transnationals aided by free trade agreements World Bank policies and massive consumer
