Dao Of Rhetoric:

The Dao of Rhetoric Steven C. Combs, 2012-02-01 In the first book to systematically deal with Daoism Taoism from a rhetorical perspective author Steven C Combs advances the idea that the works of Daoist Taoist sages Laozi Lao Tzu Zhuangzi Chuang Tzu and Sunzi Sun Tzu can be fused into a coherent rhetorical genre which can then form a methodology for rhetorical criticism This notion of Daoist rhetoric enables critics to examine discourse from new vantage points with novel processes and concepts that honor the creativity and complexity of human communication Combs also critically examines four contemporary films The Tao of Steve A Bug s Life Antz and Shrek to amplify rhetorical Daoism to indicate clear differences between Western and Daoist values and to offer fresh perspectives on individuals and social action The book argues that Daoism provides a lens for viewing limitations of current Western rhetorical theorizing positioning Daoist rhetoric as a potent critical perspective in the contemporary postmodern world

Theorizing Histories of Rhetoric

Michelle Ballif, 2013-02-25 During the decades of the 1980s and 1990s historians of rhetoric composition and communication vociferously theorized historiographical motivations and methodologies for writing histories in their fields After this fertile period of rich contested and impassioned theorization scholars busily undertook the composition of numerous historical works complicating master narratives and recovering silenced voices and rhetorical practices Yet though historians in these fields have gone about the business of writing histories the discussion of theorization has been quiet In this welcome volume fifteen scholars consider once again the theory of historiography asking difficult questions about the purposes and methodologies of writing histories of rhetoric broadly defined and questioning what it means what it should mean what it could mean to write histories of rhetoric composition and communication The topics addressed include the privileging of the literary and the textual over material artifacts as prime sources of evidence in the study of classical rhetoric the use of rhetorical hermeneutics as a methodology for interpreting past practices the investigation of feminist methodologies that do not fit into the dominant modes of feminist historiographical work and the examination of archives with a queer eye to better construct nondiscriminatory narratives Contributors also explore the value of approaching historiography through the lenses of jazz improvisation and complexity theory and the historiographical method of writing the future in ways that refigure our relationships to time and to ourselves Consistently thoughtful and carefully argued these essays successfully revive the discussion of historiography in rhetoric inspiring fresh avenues of exploration in the field

Aristotle and Confucius on Rhetoric and Truth Haixia Lan, 2016-11-10 Readings of Aristotle s and Confucius teachings reveal that both philosophers rhetorical thinking contain vital similarities which can help us understand cultural differences today Much has been said about Aristotle s definition of rhetoric as the faculty of observing in any given case the available means of persuasion but few studies have focused on his depiction of rhetoric as partly like dialectic and partly like sophistical reasoning Yet this Aristotelian conception of rhetoric sheds light on a similarity with Confucius teaching both Confucius and Aristotle see the human understanding of the truths of things as necessarily having a dimension that is open ended and discursive Rhetoric and Religious Experience Lawrence A. Palinkas, 1989-12 This is a book about religious rhetoric its cultural foundations and its role in articulating sociocultural change and facilitating psychosocial adaptation to the demands of a new environment It draws its inspiration from the work of F G Bailey Kenneth Burke and James Fernandez and focuses on the ethnography of religious discourse as it relates to Chinese immigrant churches Contents Introduction The Force of Words The Arena of Religious Discourse Orators and Audiences The Public Discourse Two Sermons A Model of Chinese Christian Rhetoric and Its Origins The Chinese Christian World View Church Unity and Social Conflict Personal Disorder and the Quest for Identity Leadership and Religious Authority and Identification and Transformation □□□□□ James Landers, 1992 Argumentation and Advocacy, 2004 Rhetoric of Revolt Peter A. success of Vietnam's August Revolution of 1945 can be attributed in part to Ho Chi Minh's reconstitutive rhetoric a form of rhetorical discourse that gave the Vietnamese people a new sense of identification This reawakened identity in turn influenced a renewed demand for nationalism and independence This study explores the reconstitutive rhetoric of Ho Chi Minh In doing so it advances rhetorical theory founded on nonWestern premises and examines the cultural differences responsible for creating a rhetoric whose focus is nonEurocentric Most current thinking on reconstitutive discourse has focused on Western premises Decaro challenges some of these premises and adds a new dimension to reconstitutive understanding Ho Chi Minh utilized the cultural heritage of the Vietnamese people as a means of creating his persona a powerful aspect of his ability to persuade In understanding Ho Chi Minh's unique form of discourse it is then possible to see how he was able to unify his country in order to sustain a protracted conflict with the goal of securing national independence
