Dare We Be Christians? Walter Rauschenbusch,2016-06-19

GOD S world is great too great for a little mind like mine to hold I have traveled over thousands of miles of it but for the most part my memory holds only a blur of space and movement But there are a few places which my memory has made all my own I know a place just above Little Mud Turtle Lake where the Gull River tilts around the rocks and sweeps in a curling crescent of foam around the wooded basin below the rapids That place is mine because I swam in it with my boys the river carried us down the rapids and around the whirlpool shouting and laughing Way up on the Ox Tongue River is a high straight fall and above it a platform of rock I lay there one night in the open while the cool night wind moved the treetops and watched the constellations march across the spaces between them That place is mine by the emotions and prayers it inspired The world of the Bible too is a great world I have wandered through it all but I have never made it all my own But some friendly hills and valleys in it are mine by right of experience Some chapters have comforted me some have made me homesick some have braced me like a bugle call and some always enlarge me within by a sense of unutterable fellowship with a great quiet Power that pervades all things and fills me

Christian Nationalism Carter Heyward, 2022-09-15 Hear the call to overcome today's culture of hate and bring healing and hope into our life together. While right-wing conservatives dare to call themselves Christians as they tear down equality and justice commit horrific acts of violence and fan the flames of fascism in America Carter Heyward issues a call to action for Christians to truly hear God's message of peace and love Heyward shows how American Christians have played a major role in building and securing structures of injustice in American life Rising tides of white supremacy threats to women's reproductive freedoms and to basic human rights for gender and sexual minorities the widening divide between rich and poor and increasing natural disasters and the extinction of Earth's species all point to a world crying out for God's wisdom Followers of Jesus must first call out these ingrained and sinful attitudes for what they are acknowledging what the culture of white Christian nationalism is doing to our country and our world and commit ourselves ever more fully to generating justice love whoever and wherever we are
