Design For Configuration A Debate Based On The 5th Wdk Workshop On Product Structuring:

Design for Configuration Asko Riitahuhta, 2001 This book contains the contributions presented in the 5th WDK Workshop on Product Structuring in Tampere Finland in February 2000 Special theme was Design for Configuration Besides the papers it includes developed summaries from the discussions of the expert group Thus the book provides the reader with a review of the latest discussion in the ongoing process of Product Structuring Even though the meeting was of academic nature the papers include many practical examples of industrial applications In order to give a comprehensive picture of the aspects of Design for Configuration the papers are organised in four sections Analysis of customers markets and technology Development of product portfolios and module systems Metrics and methods for modularity and configurability Supporting modeling and IT tools This book is the first publication of the newly established Design Society Design for Configuration Asko Riitahuhta, Antti Pulkkinen, 2001-08-14 Provides the reader with a review of the latest discussion in the ongoing process of Product Structuring Even though the meeting was of academic nature the papers include many practical examples of industrial applications Artificial Intelligence in Design '02 Asko Riitahuhta, 2013-04-17 One of the foundations for change in our society comes from designing Its genesis is the notion that the world around us either is unsuited to our needs or can be improved The need for designing is driven by a society's view that it can improve or add value to human existence well beyond simple subsistence As a consequence of designing the world which we inhabit is increasingly a designed rather than a naturally occurring one In that sense it is an artificial world Designing is a fundamental precursor to manufacturing fabrication construction or implementation Design research aims to develop an understanding of designing and to produce models of designing that can be used to aid designing Artificial intelligence has provided an environmental paradigm within which design research based on computational constructions can be carried out Design research can be carried out in variety of ways It can be viewed as largely an empirical endeavour in which experiments are designed and executed in order to test some hypothesis about some design phenomenon or design behaviour This is the approach adopted in cognitive science It often manifests itself through the use of protocol studies of designers The results of such research form the basis of a computational model A second view is that design research can be carried out by positing axioms and then deriving consequences from them Human Behaviour in Design Udo Lindemann, 2013-04-17 Human Behaviour in Design addresses important aspects of creative engineering design The main topics are the interaction between two complementary modalities image and concept internal and external components of design thinking and design strategies both for individual designers and design teams The goal is to improve and evaluate tools and methods that support design Although this book is the outcome of an international workshop held in March 2003 it is more than just a collection of its contributions The papers are arranged into three main topics Individual Thinking and Acting Interaction Between Individuals Methods Tools and Prerequisites There are summaries of the discussions of the respective topics written by the chairpersons conclusions and an
