Design In Familiar Places What Makes Home Environments Look Good:

Design in Familiar Places Sidney N. Brower, 1988 Design in Familiar Places Sidney N. Brower, 1988-06-03 Residents look at their neighborhood differently than visitors and designers do The features that they see as most important can differ significantly so that spaces that are viewed as successful by designers may be disliked by residents Designers who hope to create successful residential environments can benefit from a more complete understanding of the residents perspective and their priorities This residents eye view is especially critical in troubled neighborhoods Brower compares the responses to the same environment by residents tourists and designers Using observations interviews innovative survey methods and an examination of the literature he details accepted norms that govern who uses and controls neighborhood spaces children s play networks neighboring patterns territorial behavior and the personalization of space Brower then describes the application of these ideas and findings in a series of design interventions in an inner city neighborhood in Baltimore These interventions are thoroughly documented and evaluated and the lessons learned from both successes and failures are used to inform design guidelines for the study area The interventions also help to define the role of outside professionals in particular the importance of involving residents in defining and resolving their own problems and the need to accept space management and social organization as proper concerns of design The book is written in clear simple language and uses drawings and photographs to illustrate the ideas presented At Home with Density Nuala Rooney, 2003-05-01 Hong Kong has one of the lowest crime rates in the world and is one of the most prosperous societies but much of the population lives in low quality high density housing Through qualitative interviews with long term residents of public housing this book explores residents experience of high density space It traces the development of Hong Kong housing forms and analyses how people s expectations of domestic space have been affected by social mobility and shifting cultural values of space lifestyle and design The accompanying award winning documentary film A Thousand Pieces of Gold will enable readers to experience these spaces and listen to revealing interviews with the tenants Toward the Integration of Theory, Methods,

Research, and Utilization Gary T. Moore, Robert W. Marans, 2013-03-09 This fourth volume in the Advances in Environment Behavior and Design series continues the intent of earlier volumes by exploring new directions in the multidisciplinary environment behavior EB or EBS field The series is organized around a framework of theory methods research and utilization that some say has defined the field for the past 15 years This fourth volume is devoted to chapters that explore the integration of theory quantitative and qualitative research and utilization in policy planning and architecture The authors selected for this volume exemplify the multidisciplinary character of the field they have been selected from architecture environmental psychology environmental studies housing research landscape architecture social anthropology social ecology urban design and urban planning from academe and practice and from Australia Europe and North America HISTORY OF THE ADVANCES SERIES The idea for the series emerged in 1983 at meetings of the Board of Directors of the

Environmental Design Research Association EDRA Several publishers were contacted about the possibility of an EDRA Annual Review Eliot Werner at Plenum Press expressed great interest but suggested that an Advances series would be more appropriate since publication could be tied to a less specific timetable EDRA Plenum and the editors signed a contract in June 1984 for three volumes with an open door for oral agreements between Plenum and the editors after that time Four volumes have been published Volume 1 1987 Volume 2 1989 Volume 3 1991 and the current Volume 4 each containing 10 to 12 chapters

Physical Environment and Crime Ralph B. Taylor, Adele Harrell, 1996

Public Space Vikas Mehta, 2022-09-05 Public Space notes on why it matters what we should know and how to realize its potential journeys a vast territory and presents a panoramic view of public space an understanding from numerous disciplines under one cover in an incisive and concise manner As a dialogue between the social political and the material physical the book brings together the key ideas that encompass the social political and physical issues in the making and experience of public space The book is at the same time a primer and a progressive text It makes the case for public space digs deep into understanding what public space is followed by three sections that present the inherent paradoxes the possibilities and propositions for a more meaningful public space The book presents ideas in concise and approachable ways from established tenets to new propositions that are constructive and thought provoking with many that will challenge the reader's preconceived notions Students and scholars in the built environment disciplines and social sciences public space managers public and private sector practitioners and civic leaders but also residents who want to better understand and make an impact in their communities and cities will find Public Space to be a valuable resource

The Street Vikas Mehta, 2013-03-05 Received the Environmental Design Research Association's 2014 Place Book Award Shortlisted for the UDG Francis Tibbalds Book Award 2014 Good cities are places of social encounter Creating public spaces that encourage social behavior in our cities and neighborhoods is an important goal of city design One of the cardinal roles of the street as public space is to provide a setting for sociability How do we make sociable streets This book shows us how these ordinary public spaces can be planned and designed to become settings that support an array of social behaviors Through carefully crafted research The Street systematically examines people's actions and perceptions develops a comprehensive typology of social behaviors on the neighborhood commercial street and provides a thorough inquiry into the social dimensions of streets Vikas Mehta shows that sociability is not a result of the physical environment alone but is achieved by the relationships between the physical environment the land uses their management and the places to which people assign special meanings Scholars and students of urban design planning architecture geography and sociology will find the book a stimulating resource The material is also directly applicable to practice and should be widely read by professional urban designers planners architects and others involved in the design planning and implementation of commercial streets

Design by Competition Jack L. Nasar, 1999-02-28 What meanings do buildings and places convey to the people who use and visit them Too often design competitions and signature architecture result in costly eyesores that do not work How can sponsors and clients get more meaningful results In answer to these questions Dr Nasar supported by riveting studies of competitions and Peter Eisenman's competition winning design for the Wexner Center at the Ohio State University suggests the use of pre jury evaluation PJE He shows the potential value of this approach as well as visual quality programming for many kinds of environmental design for which the client wants to convey certain desirable meanings The studies from those specific to the Wexner Center to those covering the scope of history point to an alternative method for shaping the visual form of buildings places and cities
